WINTER • 1953

*In appreciation of devoted service
and inspiring example*

THE COVER—The great torch on our memorial cover symbolizes the brilliant flame of devotion and service carried for our fraternity for almost fifty years by L. Pearle Green. The searching light which her leadership shed was an outgrowth of the four small candles, symbols of our founders, which were lighted for us all eighty-four years ago. These first small flames, searching out a new path for college women, were bravely and wisely nurtured by our founders, whose gift to us we celebrate at this season. Through the years they have become brighter and stronger, steadier and more significant. None has held her light higher or more proudly than did L. Pearle Green.

Reaching toward the torch she held are outstretched hands—our hands—and those of generations of Thetas yet to come. If those hands prove willing, and if they serve with wisdom and with love, then, and only then, shall we have expressed adequately our gratitude to L. Pearle Green and to our founders for all that they have given us.—R.S.

With love and gratitude, Kappa Alpha Theta dedicates this issue of its magazine to L. Pearle Green, who was both leader and servant, that truly great combination, of Theta and of the fraternity idea.

At the 1950 Grand Convention, at which L. Pearle Green's retirement as Grand Editor of Kappa Alpha Theta was announced, Grand Council officers and members presented to her a beautifully bound book of tributes. The following quotation from "An Appreciation to L. Pearle Green" appeared, hand lettered on parchment, in that book. It was sent to the editor by Miss Green's sister, Dr. Ruby Green Smith.

"As we measure personal service by results, may we of Kappa Alpha Theta give to you grateful thanks.

"We believe that you have helped make us a worthy organization.

"We believe that your clear vision, your fine loyalty and your loving service have put our feet in the right path and have cleared the way for us to walk.

"For all this does Theta of the present tender you loving acknowledgement, believing that Theta of the future will thank you ever increasingly by living the life of fine, courageous service which you are showing her how to live."

Fraternity Tributes Honor L. Pearle Green's Life of Service

A Leader in Panhellenic and a Pioneer Editor, Generations of Thetas Depended on Her Counsel

For almost half a century L. Pearle Green devoted her life to Kappa Alpha Theta and to the cause of the fraternity idea.

She was the fraternity editor from 1909 to 1950; she was the Grand Secretary from 1901 to 1939; she was Theta's NPC delegate in 1908, from 1914-1917, 1921-1926, and 1930-1950. Hers was the unique distinction of being the only member of National Panhellenic Conference to serve twice as chairman.

Her forty-one years as editor of Kappa Alpha Theta, formerly called the Journal, constitute the longest tenure in the history of fraternity journalism. In addition to the editing of the magazine, she contributed to the compiling of the fraternity history and helped in the publication of the ritual and song books.

Her leadership in the field of fraternity journalism and her long and responsible work for the National Panhellenic Conference made her known among fraternity men and women in every Greek-letter group. In the days just preceding her sudden death on August 27, she had been working with a group interested in founding a new sorority. Thus her death is mourned throughout the fraternity world.

Generations of Thetas mourn also the loss of a friend and counselor, for L. Pearle Green had made innumerable chapter visits, and individual Thetas as well as chapters had taken their problems to her, sure of patient and wise counsel tempered with a quiet humor.

Yes, L. Pearle Green was indeed the personification of Theta to countless Thetas and to other Greeks as well. Everyone knew her; yet she avoided publicity, refusing, for example, to permit the first issue after her retirement of this, "her" magazine to be dedicated to her. There are no new pictures of her, for she somehow managed to avoid photographers.

Further insight into her personality and character are afforded by the tribute address which was given at the 1950 Grand Convention in

Swampscott, Mass., when her retirement as editor was announced. Mary X. Plummer, now philanthropy co-chairman, gave that address from which the following excerpts are quoted.

"On a warm day in June, 1874, in the small town of Knightstown, Ind., a tiny bright-eyed girl was born to Dr. and Mrs. Alpheus Green. The baby was to be called L. Pearle Green. In this small town just east of Indianapolis, the wee baby developed into a quiet, reserved and rather shy child.

"The year before she was to choose a college, Dr. Green died. His brother, Rufus Green, was a professor at Stanford University in California, and although this appeared to be a very long way from Knightstown, L. Pearle decided to go there to college. How very fortunate for all of us that she did, since it was here she became a member of Phi chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta.

"It was now 1901 and time for the Kappa

Miss Green's Leadership Hailed by NPC

By EDITH R. CRABTREE
President, Kappa Kappa Gamma

Long ago a wise man said: "Every institution which is forward looking in our society is but the lengthened shadow of one or a small group of individuals who, having caught a vision of what might be, inspire others to join them in the pursuit of that goal."

The National Panhellenic Conference is no exception to this rule. It was in the early nineteen hundreds, when women's college fraternities were coming of age, that the leaders of that time saw the value, indeed the necessity, of working together in a spirit of mutual confidence. Among these early leaders no one had greater insight, was more dedicated or more colorful than L. Pearle Green of Kappa Alpha Theta. I use those three terms advisedly because in her many years of service to NPC her sights were never lowered, her loyalty and devotion never wavered, her individuality was never dimmed.

Although I had had a casual acquaintance with Miss Green for some years I did not know her as a person until I had the happy privilege of being closely associated with her during her final years in NPC which culminated in her chairmanship in the 1947-1949 biennium. During that time our acquaintance ripened into a warm personal friendship. I came to know that behind a sometimes brusque exterior lay a wise and understanding heart always responsive to a sincere call for help. I came also to realize what high standards she set for herself and how sternly she held herself to them, how firmly she believed that to accept a responsibility was to assume a sacred obligation and that the criterion must always be the spirit of the law, not just the letter.

With L. Pearle Green's passing, the National Panhellenic Conference has lost one of its great leaders. Yet her influence will continue if we are wise enough to follow her example and in this day of confused values hold to her singleness of purpose.

Iota Chapter Resolution Honors Miss Green

Iota chapter of Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y., at its annual meeting in October, adopted the following resolution, honoring their sister Theta and fellow Ithacan, L. Pearle Green.

The resolution was signed by the Iota Corporation officers, president Queenie Gorton Sailer and secretary Grace C. Chamberlain.

During its annual meeting, 21 October, 1953, the Iota chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta, Inc., adopted the following resolution, with the request that it be included in the next succeeding issue of the Kappa Alpha Theta Magazine.

Whereas in the death of L. Pearle Green, 27 August, 1953, our fraternity lost one of its most devoted and distinguished members, and

Whereas Iota chapter after many years of personal association grieves most especially for the passing of its long-time friend and supporter,

Therefore be it resolved that Iota chapter express to L. Pearle Green's family, to her chapter, and to the national fraternity its sorrow and its deep appreciation of her outstanding qualities of leadership: knowledge of her field, constructive effort toward her desired goal, understanding of her fellows, courage in adversity, and selfless devotion to others and to the cause to which she consecrated her life.

In dedicating this issue to our beloved Miss L. Pearle, we are following, not her wishes, but those of hundreds of Thetas who knew and admired her. She was a person of such humility that she never wished to be honored. I am sure that she would now say with Tennyson:

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call to me,
And may there be no moaning
of the bar,
When I put out to sea."

May we honor her not by mourning her death but by verifying her belief in the worth of the fraternity system that she loved so dearly. Her hopes for and love of all fraternities should give us the faith to carry on.

ELLEN B. HOFSTEAD
Grand President

This picture of L. Pearle Green was taken in 1949 when she was presiding as chairman of the National Panhellenic Conference at Skytop.

Thetas all over the country came to know Miss Green through gatherings such as that pictured below. Miss Green, second from the right in the front row, was one of the national officers attending a District VII convention held in 1947.

Years on Grand Council meant years of traveling from one end of the country to the other. Here Miss Green, at extreme right, and other Council members leave French Lick after a two weeks' stay for N.P.C. officers' meeting and a Theta Council meeting.

One cannot but wonder if her devotion for Theta left her much time for her avowed hobbies of flower gardens, birds, collecting choice old silver and beautifully printed books or for her passion of reading late into the night.

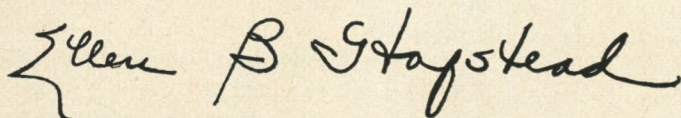

Founders' Day Message 1954

"Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

Surely our founders must have believed in this definition of faith when they had the vision of our fraternity. They had faith in an idea and hope for its development "to meet the higher and broader demands of mature life."

Their idea of a fraternity chapter made up of members selected on the basis of friendship and a common purpose has met the test of time. The ideals they chose have endured through the years. Although they could not know just how their vision would develop, the principles they chose insured its development on a high plane.

As we observe our fraternity's eighty-fourth birthday, let us realize that responsibility for service to our fraternity is a privilege that is ours throughout our lives. Let us re-dedicate ourselves to the principles our founders chose, and pledge ourselves "to verify their dearest hopes."

Loan and Fellowship Fund Marks Golden Jubilee

By ELIZABETH HUGHES BRIGGS
Retiring Chairman, Loan and Fellowship Fund

In 1954 the Loan and Fellowship Fund attains the mellow age of fifty. Thetas everywhere are invited to celebrate the Golden Jubilee, and to review with pride the accomplishments of this, the oldest of the national fraternity's altruistic services.

Fifty candles will gleam on the Loan and Fellowship birthday cake as the Los Angeles Alumnæ chapter remembers the day in February, 1904 when its treasurer, Sue Barnwell, deposited ten dollars in a savings bank to the credit of a graduate scholarship fund. In 1905 the fund was adopted as a national project, and through the generous gifts of alumnæ and college chapters throughout the country, grew to the impressive size of $100,000. Since the Pasadena Convention in 1911, a part of each initiation fee has gone into the fund, so in a special sense, every Theta has made a contribution to the 1450 loans, 47 graduate scholarships, and the 14 fellowships which have been provided by the fund.

Elizabeth Briggs

It has been suggested that the theme for Founders' Day celebration this year might be the Loan and Fellowship Fund, for no service of the fraternity has done more to promote love of learning and high scholarship, the foundation stones upon which our founders built Kappa Alpha Theta.

Because the fund gave form and substance to the ideals of our founders, the first four fellowships were named in honor of Betty Locke Hamilton, Alice Allen Brandt, Betty Tipton Lindsey and Hannah Fitch Shaw. The same valor and devotion that led our founders to establish Kappa Alpha Theta, motivated the intrepid women who envisioned a fund whose sole purpose was to help give women an opportunity so long enjoyed by men, the opportunity of intellectual growth and scholarly achievement.

On birthdays a bit of reminiscing and pointing with pride are always in order.

Josephine Cook Lippincott, Kappa, conceived the idea of the Scholarship Fund as the Loan and Fellowship Fund was first called. When Mrs. Lippincott proposed the project in 1902 to the Los Angeles Alumnæ chapter, then in its first year, that small group of young Thetas received the suggestion with enthusiasm and appointed a committee to develop plans for a Scholarship Fund. "The Birthday of the Scholarship Fund" written by Mrs. Lippincott for the Theta Magazine of November 1935 has special interest as the Golden Jubilee approaches.

"I thought," she wrote, "that if that Theta chapter was to continue, we would have to have some inspiration. So I consulted Dr. John R.

Haynes about the possibilities of scholarships, about what scholarships meant, and how much they cost; and he kindly let me have a catalog of his alma mater, the University of Pennsylvania. I took it home and studied it, and discovered that with an endowment of $50,000 a scholarship might be maintained for keeping a student in Europe. Why not a foreign scholarship? My! The inspiration was so vivid and so real that $50,000 sank into insignificance, so at the next meeting I said, 'Why don't we start a foreign scholarship for Theta; we only have to have $50,000 and we can keep a girl abroad, and think of the inspiration to study for that!' Nobody was daunted. So we planned it and talked about it and were enthusiastic about it."

As Mrs. Lippincott confessed, "We were all terribly young and had to count our pennies." But despite the handicaps of youth, small numbers and limited resources, the chapter minutes of Feb. 6, 1904 record that the treasurer reported a surplus of $15.20. The eight members present voted to place ten dollars of the surplus "in a savings bank to the credit of a graduate scholarship fund." Great was the treasurer's delight when she later announced that interest amounting to ten cents had accumulated.

At the Philadelphia Convention of 1905, Grace Lavayea, later chairman of the Loan and Fellowship Committee, persuaded the delegates to adopt the Scholarship Fund as a national project. The work of raising money began in earnest in chapters who shared the vision of sending a Theta in search of European culture. Thetas sold candy, cakes, jellies, Christmas cards, rented and drove autos, operated agencies for silk stockings, and special brands of coffee, gave bridge parties and fashion shows and even told fortunes. No crystal ball or prophetic sybil revealed the size to which the fund would grow by these humble means, or the international scope of its services.

Despite the fever of money-raising, funds grew slowly. $50,000 seemed an astronomical figure and as remote as Mars. The interest which alone was to be used for gift scholarships mounted at a snail's pace.

Then came the idea of loans to Thetas. Why not loan money at interest to our members who needed a means of financing college expenses? Since 1913 when the first loan was made, more than 1,450 Thetas have borrowed from the fund. Although every loan was on a confidential business basis, some of our most successful career women openly acknowledge their gratitude to the fund, and boast of their foresightedness in using it to train for a profession. Theta borrowers throughout the country have special reason to join in our Golden Jubilee for the money they repaid to the fund has been loaned again and again to other Thetas in need. The interest they paid has gone into gift fellowships and graduate scholarships for the advanced training of some of our most gifted and distinguished members.

A real run on the fund came with the depression of the 1930s when thousands of dollars were loaned at one committee meeting. Families made desperate by bank failures and loss of jobs were grateful to know that Theta stood ready to help their daughters finance the college education which they themselves had hoped to provide. The fund was quickly exhausted, and the Loan and Fellowship Committee borrowed from our national treasury. Grand Council, too, wanted to keep Thetas in college. Many a college chapter would have found itself without chapter and campus leaders had the fund not come to the rescue.

But what of the dream of a gift fellowship? Was it never to come true? Finally enough interest accumulated for the Betty Locke Hamilton fellowship. $1,200 was awarded to Elizabeth Brownell Collier, a teacher at Hunter College, for a study in 1925-26 of the League of Nations.

Ten fellowships have been given to Thetas, some of whom studied abroad, and others in the United States. The amount of the fellowship has been increased to $1,500, but additional gifts have been made to some of our fellows who have found the sum inadequate to attain their scholastic goals, or to enable them to complete important research projects.

There is not space enough for biographical sketches of all our scholarly fellows. Special mention should be made, however, of Dr. Matilda M. Brooks, a distinguished Theta scientist at the University of California, who engaged in research during World War II on oxygen deficiencies in the blood.

As funds increased and our horizons broadened, we were able to bring four women from abroad, Holland, Chile, Czechoslovakia, and India, for study in the United States. Johanna Hudig (Adelaide Sinclair Fellow), after study of juvenile courts and social work in the United States and Canada, returned to Holland where she was made a Judge of the juvenile court, the first woman so honored in the history of the country.

Shanta Vasisht, cultivated and charming fellow from India captured the hearts of all who met her at the convention in Swampscott in 1950 where she was our guest. After completing her study of social work at the University of Chicago, Shanta returned to serve the natives in the villages of her own country. Word has just come that she has been appointed Deputy Minister of Education and Development in Delhi State.

To meet the needs of many talented and ambitious Thetas eager to study beyond the A.B. degree, $500 graduate scholarships were initiated in 1939. Forty-seven have been awarded. The October issue of this magazine carried the story of the four girls who are studying this year under this thrilling program.

The laurels won by a host of teachers, business women, scientists, artists, authors, medical technicians, social workers and lawyers whose skills were developed through the aid of the Loan and Fellowship Fund are indeed a cause for jubilation. All Thetas share in the contributions they have made to human betterment. Their accomplishments are, in part, the result of 50 years of sacrifices and wise planning by scores of Thetas who have dedicated themselves to the Loan and Fellowship Fund and by those devoted women who now serve on the Board of Directors.

Because Thetas have been generous and because the capital of the fund is well invested and is never given away, this Golden Jubilee is celebrated with no appeal for funds. Our birthday gift to the Loan and Fellowship Fund is not money but rather our rededication to the improvement of its services to education, a service of increasing importance in our complex civilization.

In 1922, Winifred Webb, Phi, launched a campaign for Loan and Fellowship funds with an appeal which has special significance for Greek letter women in this Jubilee year.

Give to the heart that yearns,
Ye who have loved the altar
See that the flame still burns."*

Former Fifth Year Award Winner
Tells of Her Study in France

By SHIRLEY HANSON
1951 Fifth Year Award Recipient

It hardly seems possible to me, at present a French teacher and assistant in history of art at Lawrence College, that it has been a whole year since I was deep in my studies of French literature at the Sorbonne in Paris. If last year is still so vivid in my mind, and France still so much a part of all my thinking, it is because of Theta's generosity in awarding me one of its post-graduate grants, which made possible for me a second year in France. I could not ever express all my appreciation for that second year, for I feel that without it I should never have known France profoundly, to say nothing of the language, which has become second nature to me now.

My whole life has been changed as a result of this experience, and it could never have been so had I come home after one year, eventful and meaningful as it alone would have been.

My first year in France saw me sent to the provincial university of Poitiers on a Fulbright grant, to "study French language and civilization." As an English major in college, my knowledge of French and French literature was very limited, and so the first year was spent learning the language, and reading as many of the classics in literature as I could, all the while attending classes at the University. I did not, however, feel capable of taking the examinations at the end of the year, and so the end of the first year had no tangible proof of my work, except that I had learned French (probably all the better for not having known much on arrival, except that the process was embarrassingly painful!), and that I had made many French friends. I had the extreme good fortune to be "adopted" by the French family with whom I lived, and this meant that I was invited to all their parties, where I indeed played the daughter of the house in serving the tea and in passing the little cakes. I loved all I saw of France, but still felt very much a visitor in the spring of 1951 when I received the letter announcing the Theta grant.

So I went to Paris! My second year was quite different from the first, however, since this time I was a real student. I knew French well enough to be able to refuse to attend all the movies in town and all the invitations to play bridge (at Poitiers I considered all such events part of my education, and they were, but they didn't help pass any examinations); and instead of going to just one school, I went to two. My real work was the course in contemporary literature given to foreign students having already a rather advanced knowledge of French, which attempted to cover everything since 1885, in French literature, an enormous field. This course was given by a special school of the Sorbonne. Then for a change, I attended classes at the School for Political Studies, where I took classes in economics, economic geography, and where my most interesting course was one in American economic policy, taught by a man from the Ministry of Finances. My French had progressed to the point where my French student friends, many of whom had come from Poitiers as I, used slang in front of me, instead of studiously avoiding it as they had the year before, fearing then that I should not be able to distinguish between what is said in polite society and what is not. This turn of events made it possible for me to appreciate the many subtleties of modern French prose, among which that of Jean-Paul Sartre is notable for its vigorous colloquialism. My progress also made it possible for me to respond imaginatively to the enchanting style of Proust, and that alone would have made my second year worthwhile.

The results at the end of the year at the Sorbonne were especially gratifying, for I was given first place, with the comment "Très honorable" and congratulations from the jury. The whole ceremony of announcing the awards was very French. After all the examinations were over, the jury filed into a large room where the forty-some students awaited. They rose and remained standing for the reading of the results, and I was of course thrilled to hear my name read first. I then discovered that it was customary for the student thus designated to march up to the front of the room and shake hands with each of the five members of the jury, as well as the director of the school. It was quite a production for just passing an examination! The examination itself consisted of two parts, of which the first was a six-hour written examination. Students came equipped with sandwiches, cookies, and bottles of things to drink, and could thus fortify themselves when inspiration lacked. The orals which followed were rather an anticlimax after that, but it was still quite an ordeal to make a little extemporaneous speech in French to very real and long-suffering Frenchmen.

But even more important to me than such tangible proofs of accomplishment was my feeling that my second year in France had permitted me to live among the French almost as one of them. I had the feeling that my friends, who the first year had included me in their plans mostly out of courtesy and friendliness, did so the second year only because they wanted to, and this feeling was one of my greatest rewards. Except when it came to making jokes about bathtubs and enormous cars (to say nothing about canned goods, which are for some reason inordinately funny to any Frenchman) they seemed to regard me only secondarily as American. It was thus that I was to come to appreciate the genius of the French for living, which manifests itself in lesser ways in their concern with the pleasures of the table (snails are good once you overcome your distaste at the way they look); and more importantly, in their enjoyment of human relations, whether it be in the family or in one's circle of friends. They may be short on material comfort, but they are often long on real affection. I discovered all this as I became aware that they will unfold, as it were, once they discover you can speak their language, and what's more, address them in the traditional forms of politeness to which they are accustomed. They see apparently too few foreigners of any country who can manage their tongue, and once they find one, they take him to their collective bosom and shower him with niceties of all sorts.

City Panhellenics Work for Good Publicity for Fraternities

Detroit Greeks Cooperate with Store in Panhellenic Week

By GENEVIEVE C. DAVIS, Editor
Detroit Alumnae Chapter

The Detroit Alumnae chapter, along with the 25 other fraternity alumnae chapters which make up the Detroit Panhellenic Association, participated in a publicity event last August which provided an opportunity for high school girls in the city of Detroit to be informed intelligently as to what sorority living is.

A Detroit department store, Crowley Milner's, held a Panhellenic Week. They sent invitations to the June graduates of all the high schools in the city. They paid for the printing of a Panhellenic booklet giving specific information about each fraternity represented in the Detroit Panhellenic.

Theta Margaret Rogers Hainline (Beta Iota), a member of the fraternity education committee of the Panhellenic, had charge of getting material about fraternity philanthropies for a window display. Included in this was material from the Institute of Logopedics.

Panhellenic women, both alumnae and collegiate, were on duty in the Panhellenic Center throughout the week, giving out information on college activities, scholarships and sororities.

Manning the Panhellenic Center when this picture was taken were Panhellenic friends representing Kappa Delta, Delta Zeta and Pi Beta Phi.

Seattle Panhellenic Sponsors "Sorority Preview" on TV

Just a few weeks before rush last fall, the Seattle City Panhellenic sponsored a TV show, "Sorority Preview." The program, in which the college Panhellenic of the University of Washington cooperated, was planned to answer the countless questions about sororities asked each year by incoming freshmen. In addition to interesting the rushees, the show was designed to inform parents, as well as the general public. KING TV donated 30 minutes on their Community Workshop, a regular public relations feature.

Chapter presidents of the national sororities on the Washington campus, as well as alumnae advisors of college Panhellenic and one house-mother, participated.

Selected scenes were the Panhellenic office, a sorority receiving line, a dormitory room, a sorority study table, and then back again to the Panhellenic office. Scholarship, finance, rushing procedure, wardrobe and uniformity of houses were subjects discussed. The greatest emphasis was placed on the availability of adult and unprejudiced counseling at the campus Panhellenic office.

"Sorority Preview" reached more than 50,000 regular TV viewers who watched a rushee and her mother in conference in the Panhellenic office. From there the rushee was taken through typical experiences encountered during rushing. The questions most repeatedly asked about sororities were answered on the half-hour program.

A characteristic response from a non-sorority viewer was, "I was so interested in seeing your TV show. I knew so little about sororities before and had so many wrong ideas." Such a program enlightens many people about sororities, as well as preparing each girl before rushing.

For an outline of the format of the program or for other information, write Mrs. J. H. West, 4801 38th N.E., Seattle 5, Wash. Mrs. West, a co-chairman of the show, is a member of Delta Zeta.

Pittsburgh Panhellenic Offers Scholarships for 1954-55

The City Panhellenic Association of Pittsburgh, Pa. will have one or more scholarships, in the amount of $100 each, available for the academic year, 1954-55. To be eligible a girl must be a resident of the Pittsburgh area, be a sophomore or junior now in a college outside Pittsburgh, and be a member in good standing of a college chapter of an N.P.C. fraternity.

Awards will be made on the basis of grade point average for her entire college career to date (which should be at least a B), contribution to her fraternity and her school, and, other things being equal, financial need.

For further information and for application blanks, write Miss Audrey Green, Scholarship Chairman, 5921 Hobart St., Pittsburgh 17, Pa.

Theta Officers Attend N.P.C. Conference

The National Panhellenic Conference held Nov. 3-7 at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena, Calif., found Theta's Panhellenic delegate, Margaret Banta, and all the Grand Council members and the editor in attendance.

This was the fiftieth anniversary of N.P.C. but the golden opportunities of the future took precedence over the golden anniversary aspects of the past on the Conference agenda.

New horizons of usefulness keynoted this thirty-third meeting of N.P.C., with emphasis on the potential force of the fraternal world in providing leadership in civic affairs.

Reports of standing committees reflected growth in all directions toward practical awareness of citizenship responsibilities developed by fraternity training. They also reported the developing of workable procedures to express the ideals of fraternity in public relations at the chapter and civic level.

Another group, Iota Alpha Pi, was accepted into associate membership at the Conference.

The new chairman of N.P.C. is Mrs. Robert Byars of Delta Gamma.

"Birds of a Feather Flock Together"

This address by Dr. L. Dale Coffman, Dean of Law at UCLA, was given at a dinner on Nov. 4 before the National Panhellenic Conference meeting in Pasadena. Dean Coffman is a member of Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Phi, Phi Beta Kappa, and the Order of the Coif.

My mother always told me to be careful of the company I keep because birds of a feather flock together. If this be "guilt by association," it is still common sense and pursuant to the facts of life. When I was in college the members of my fraternity, on date nights, left practically en masse for a certain sorority house whose initials are Delta Delta Delta. Some of us birds found there some mighty pretty feathers. I spent so much time around that sorority house, I'm not sure that I wasn't initiated. At any rate, I hung curtains and draperies, moved furniture, and waxed floors, besides all the other things a young man normally does at sorority parties. I was told that one end of a davenport had to be reupholstered three times during my college career. When our daughter entered college she became a member of the same sorority, and again I found myself hanging curtains and draperies and loaning my garden tools and hammers and wrenches and so forth. In fact, my home became a kind of annex for the sorority, and it was forever a pleasant surprise when I went downstairs for breakfast to find from one to a half-dozen quite sleepy and very pretty young ladies staying for breakfast with my family and me.

Young people, when they go to college, are frequently away from home for the first time and they are lonesome. I left for college a day or two after my 17th birthday and I well remember the involuntary tears I tried to keep back as the train pulled out of the station. Such young people are going to make friends and seek out congenial associates whether the particular campus has Greekletter organizations or not. If it does have such organizations, and fortunately most campuses do, the new student has an opportunity to meet a number of friends at one place. My own experience was that I had a number of good friends in a number of the fraternity houses. Yes, I joined one group and had a lot of friends inside my own organization, but I also had many good friends in other houses and among the non-fraternity population. This appeared to me perfectly natural, very pleasant, and it certainly made my transition into the college community much easier. I felt at home.

My fraternity is called a social fraternity, but it was much more than that. We learned manners. We learned that there are certain things a gentleman just does not do. We learned also some things that a gentleman will always do. We had to study and make our grades. We assisted in the education of each other. Since those were the days before the abolition of hazing (and sometimes I think it is a pity that it has been abolished) our education was emphasized and punctuated by the paddle and all sorts of interesting and most effective devices. Of course, a young man must have encouragement and a pat on the back, but there are some who would be helped immeasurably if that pat could be delivered hard enough and low enough.

I think it is safe to say, therefore, that Greekletter organizations are a part of our educational process. I am afraid, however, that we have put too much emphasis on and possibly we have left too much to formal education in the classroom. Education is essentially personal and self-acquired. It cannot be sugared and poured down the student's gullet in a funnel. Education is essentially the lighting of that divine spark in the breast of a student which drives him forward, which makes him want to learn, which develops that inquisitive and acquisitive mind, that makes one forever dissatisfied with anything less than his best, which makes him burn with what Steinmetz used to call that "divine discontent." Education is not so much what a student learns, but it is the creation of a desire to learn and learning how to learn. It is the realization that thinking is hard work and the development of the determination to do that hard work. That is why I believe that the home, the church, and one's fraternity or sorority are a part of this educational process.

Our colleges today are graduating people who have never learned how to study and many who have never developed a desire to learn. Some graduates cannot read or write. Some cannot spell as well as a fifth-grade student ought to be able to spell. Let me give a few examples picked at random from actual law school examination papers, all written by graduates with at least the baccalaureate degree: muss for must; loose for lose; lossed for lost; gönna for going to; hadda for had to; wanna for want to; right away for right of way; secession for session; musta or must of for must have; hafta for have to; shouda or should of for should have; axident for accident; and a whole host of grammatical as well as spelling errors. We are unquestionably granting college degrees today to illiterates.

Some college graduates today cannot read. I mean some cannot read accurately and understandingly. Fast reading, while sacrificing understanding and accuracy, seems a waste of time and even worse, a bad habit which must be broken if one must become a scholar. Fast, inaccurate reading without understanding reminds me of the comedian who said he played blindfolded forty games of chess simultaneously against 40 expert opponents faster than any man had ever before accomplished such a feat—and lost every game. Progressive education carries with it the self-styled connotation of a movement forward. No system of education is moving forward which can accept any substitute for hard thinking which is hard work; any substitute for positive learning (no one can ever remember that which he never knew); any substitute for the student's learning how to learn; or any substitute for the goal of creating in the student the desire to learn.

Some time ago the New York Times published the results of an American history test given to thousands of college freshmen throughout the country. The results were incredible. Here are three examples: More than 30% did not know that Woodrow Wilson was President during World War I! Only 6% were able to name the thirteen original colonies; many listed such states as Texas and Oregon. A third did not know who was President during the Civil War!

I begin to wonder whether parents and teachers have both been so concerned about "not breaking the child's spirit" that we are in the way of bringing forth a generation of moral and intellectual jellyfish with rudderless emotions. One cannot think logically from a sound premise to a reasonable conclusion if he starts the process without the tools with which to work and with his feet firmly anchored on some pink cloud. Too many intellectual hernias are being caused by jumping too rapidly to an unsound conclusion from an unwarranted premise.

It is here that the fraternity or sorority can help. Let the student's conclusions and procedures by which he reaches those conclusions be tested in the crucible of the fraternity bull session. One's fellow students can always point out more dramatically and emphatically errors in reasoning.

There is a second and even more important area in this educational process in which the Greekletter organizations can perform, and I believe are performing, a vital function. If we train technically competent engineers and doctors and lawyers and philosophers and do not at the same time train good American citizens, we are missing our mark a mile. Young people today must learn that the English language can be used to conceal as well as to convey thought. They must learn that many subtle and vicious attempts are being made to capture their minds. There are certain key words used carrying a connotation of good or evil. The word "liberal" is one of these. It carries the connotation of being not narrow but broadminded. However, many self-styled professional liberals are advocating a bigger big government, greater centralization of power in a few, a philosophy of the government knows best what is good for you—don't upset things—give us your individual liberties and we shall take care of you. This of course is the real road to reaction. This is the real road back to serfdom, back to the very things our truly liberal ancestors fought against. This is the road to socialism and communism. But the road has been marked with the signpost "liberal" and many have been confused by it. Other key words are: conservative, reactionary, capitalism, democracy, welfare state, guilt by association, and many others. I suggest that we all look up the true meaning of these words and be careful how we use them. Too often they are used to play upon emotions rather than to convey ideas. Some of these words have been deliberately and maliciously used by Communists to create confusion.

Let us make no mistake about this Communist conspiracy. We all remember the lengthy trial held in New York in 1949. This was the case of United States v. Dennis et al, and an appeal was taken to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.¹ Judge Learned Hand delivered the opinion of the court, based upon a mountain of evidence which had been introduced at the trial. This is an authoritative finding of the objectives of the Communist Party in the United States, and I believe it would not be inappropriate to refer to some of the exact language used by Judge Hand in this opinion:

... "One may reasonably think it wiser in the long run to let an unhappy, bitter outcast vent his venom before any crowds he can muster and in any terms that he wishes, be they as ferocious as he will; one may trust that his patent importance will be a foil to anything he may propose. Indeed, it is a measure of the confidence of a society in its own stability that it suffers such fustian to go unchecked. Here we are faced with something very different. The American Communist Party, of which the defendants are the controlling spirits, is a highly articulated, well contrived, far spread organization, numbering thousands of adherents, rigidly and ruthlessly disciplined, many of whom are infused with a passionate Utopian faith that is to redeem mankind. It has its Founder, its apostles, its sacred texts—perhaps even its martyrs. It seeks converts far and wide by an extensive system of schooling, demanding of all an inflexible doctrinal orthodoxy. The violent capture of all existing governments is one article of the creed of that faith, which abjures the possibility of success by lawful means. That article, which is a commonplace among initiates, is a part of the homiletics for novitiates, although, so far as conveniently it can be, it is covered by an innocent terminology, designed to prevent its disclosure. Our democracy, like any other, must meet that faith and that creed on the merits, or it will perish; and we must not flinch at the challenge. Nevertheless, we may insist that the rules of the game be observed, and the rules confine the conflict to weapons drawn from the universe of discourse. The advocacy of violence may, or may not, fail; but in neither case can there be any 'right' to use it. Revolutions are often 'right,' but a 'right of revolution' is a contradiction in terms, for a society which acknowledged it, could not stop at tolerating conspiracies to overthrow it, but must include their execution. The question before us, and the only one, is how long a government, having discovered such a conspiracy, must wait. When does the conspiracy become a 'present danger'? The jury has found that the conspirators will strike as soon as success seems possible, and obviously, no one in his senses would strike sooner. Meanwhile they claim the constitutional privilege of going on indoctrinating their pupils, preparing increasing numbers to pledge themselves to the crusade, and awaiting the moment when we may be so far extended by foreign engagements, so far divided in counsel, or so far in industrial or financial straits, that the chance seems worth trying. That position presupposes that the Amendment assures them freedom for all preparatory steps and in the end the choice of initiative, dependent upon that moment when they believe us, who must await the blow, to be worst prepared to receive it.

... "True, we must not forget our own faith; we must be sensitive to the dangers that lurk in any choice; but choose we must, and we shall be silly dupes if we forget that again and again in the past thirty years, just such preparations in other countries have aided to supplant existing governments, when the time was ripe. . . . We hold that it is a danger 'clear and present.'"

We have all seen or read about the disgraceful performances of some witnesses before our courts and our duly constituted Congressional Committee on Un-American Activities who have sneeringly refused to answer, on the grounds that their answer would tend to incriminate them, the question, "Are you now or have you ever been a member of the Communist Party?" They rely upon the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Let us look at this amendment. It reads:

"No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation."

The first eight amendments are restrictions upon the power of the federal government. The pertinent portion of the Fifth Amendment, of course, is that "No person . . . shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself." This is the basis of the so-called privilege against self-incrimination. But this privilege against self-incrimination does not exist when the answer sought would not tend to show commission of a federal crime by the witness, even though the answer would tend to show the commission of a crime under state law. When a witness refuses to answer the sixty-four dollar question, raising the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination, we can reach only one of two conclusions:

1. His answer would give facts which would tend to incriminate him in a prosecution as a criminal under the federal law; or
2. His answer would not so tend to incriminate him; and, if not, he is a liar when he says it would.

There is nothing whatsoever in the Fifth Amendment or anywhere else in our law which prevents an American citizen from drawing either one of these inescapable conclusions. Such a witness either knows he has done something for which he can be prosecuted criminally and he has chosen not to be a witness against himself; or he is a liar. When the federal crime is violation of the Smith Act which makes it a crime against the United States to teach or advocate the overthrow of our government by force and violence, and the witness states his answer would tend to incriminate him of such a crime, how in the world can he expect to have the confidence and respect of loyal Americans? If he lied about it, we Americans don't like liars either. This is not "guilt by association" but a plain common-sense conclusion to be drawn from known facts. Birds of a feather do flock together.

The witness has a Constitutional right not to be "compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself" but no man has any legal right to the confidence and respect of his fellows, nor does he have any Constitutional right to be a lawyer or occupy a position of trust, regardless of what common-sense conclusions may be drawn from known facts.

I believe that the Greekletter fraternities and sororities of our college campuses can be and are bulwarks against the spread of Communist doctrine. I believe that our sororities can be even more important in this educational process. If it is a man's world, I suspect it is the women who make it civilized. When a boy goes to school, we are assisting in the education of an individual; when a girl goes to school, we are assisting in the education of a family. Women, whether they realize it or not, must of necessity become teachers in the family.

There is a third most important element of this educational process in which the Greekletter organizations can be of vital assistance. This third and possibly most important element is a belief in God. I know of no atheistic or agnostic Greekletter organization. An abiding belief in God is the solid rock upon which our country was founded. We are too apt to measure man's progress principally or even solely by the development of material things and progress in the physical sciences. We must always remember that no man is sufficient unto himself. No man can live alone. We all must, at times, draw upon and be supported and protected by that power and strength which is only God's. The fundamental principles of our moral law form the very warp and woof of the law of our land. This was no accident. Our people progressed and became great because we built on the solid rock foundations of fundamental morality. Whenever any person or any nation begins to compromise with these principles, at that point decay and dry rot set in. I think it is past time that we as a people and we as individuals require of ourselves a constant and everlasting return to and rebirth of fundamental moral virtues. In this women will take the lead. It is you who must at times make us men ashamed of ourselves.

Our fraternities and sororities, therefore, can offer vital assistance, first, in the formal educational process; secondly, in the preservation of our American heritage; and thirdly, in the realization that Americanism is essentially the law of God supported by the state, which recognizes the dignity of man as a child of God and his inalienable right to live and be and function under God and the law. I think we can look to the Greekletter groups on our campuses today as a real training ground for God-fearing Americans who develop the sense to do something about it.

Theta Wins San Francisco Panhellenic's Scholarship Award

Winner of the San Francisco Bay District Panhellenic's annual scholarship award this year is Omega chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta at the University of California. The chapter stood first in scholarship among the 22 Panhellenic groups and also showed the greatest improvement over the preceding year.

In the picture above, Mrs. Robert H. Stice (Delta Delta Delta), president of the Panhellenic group, is shown giving notice of the award to Omega's scholarship chairman, Alice Ryan. With them are Dean Katherine Towle, Dean of Women at the University of California and a Theta from Omega chapter herself, and Nancy Robinson, Omega's president.

The award was made at the San Francisco District Panhellenic's fall luncheon in honor of Dean Towle.

Quebec, Our Convention City, Has Historic Past—Colorful Present

Political capital, academic metropolis, and tourists' paradise—that is Quebec, site of Kappa Alpha Theta's Grand Convention next June.

The city, ancient capital of New France and the only walled city in North America, reminds the visitor of Normandy or Brittany, with its crooked and narrow streets, quaint houses, churches, seminaries and statues. It is still predominantly French in habits, customs, speech.

In the year 1608 Samuel de Champlain founded a settlement on the North Bank of the St. Lawrence River and called it Quebec, from the Indian Kebec, meaning "the place where the river narrows."

The city spreads above, beneath and around a rocky promontory over the St. Lawrence River. Dominating the river is the Citadel, the diamond-shaped fortress high on Cape Diamond, where in 1943 President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill held their historic conference.

Fanning out from the fort are the ancient walls which run for two miles around the "old city." The Citadel is the home now of the Royal 22nd Regiment which still changes the guard every day in a colorful ceremony, and it is the summer residence of the Governor General of Canada.

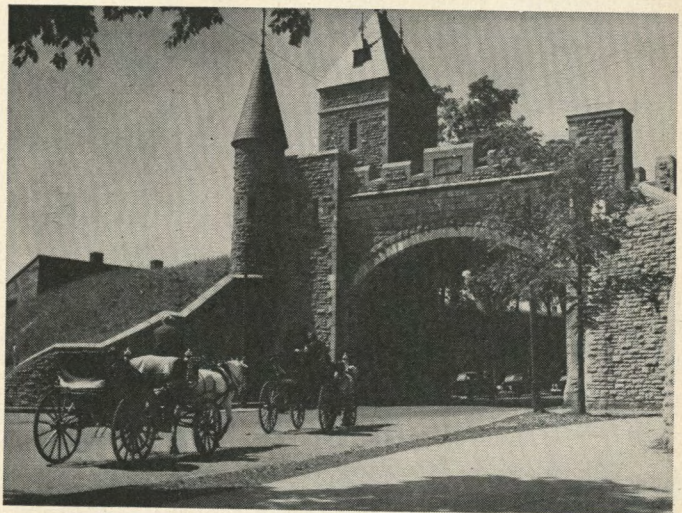

Nearby are the Plains of Abraham where in 1759 British troops defeated Montcalm's French forces and sealed the fate of French rule in America.

The "old city" within the walls is the site of buildings dating to the seventeenth century, including Montcalm's headquarters and residence; Kent house, former residence of Queen Victoria's father, and the Ursuline's Convent, oldest educational institution for girls on the continent. Churches and convents, as a matter of fact, are seen at almost every turn in this center of Roman Catholicism. Notre-Dames-des-Victoires, built in 1668, is the oldest.

Here in the old city, too, is the Chateau Frontenac, our Convention Hotel, towering over the entire scene. On its site once stood the Chateau St. Louis, official residence of the early governors of New France. Built in 1893, the Chateau Frontenac immediately became the center of Quebec's social activities. New wings were added in 1899, 1909, and 1922, and the central tower was opened in 1924.

On the cliffs in front of the Chateau Frontenac is Dufferin Terrace, the promenade and gathering place of the city since 1838. Below, nestling between the steep cliff and the shore is the "lower town," site of the original settlement and the early trading district. High-roofed old buildings, narrow winding streets and thick stone walls give the "lower city" an old world atmosphere.

This is St. Louis Gate, one of the three remaining gates in the ancient wall which encompasses the "old city."

This aerial view of Quebec shows the Chateau Frontenac looming up over the city, with the lower city in the foreground. Few hotels anywhere have had their royal suites as busy as has the Chateau. It has housed King George V; Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth during the Royal Visit in 1939; the Duke of Windsor when he was Prince of Wales; Prince Henry, Duke of Gloucester; the King and Queen of Siam; Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, and the governors-general of Canada from the Earl of Aberdeen to Field Marshal Viscount Alexander.

The Chateau has 723 rooms, and its kitchens are equipped to serve as many as 6,000 meals a day. In its ballroom more than 700 guests can be served at one sitting.

Alpha Theta convention which was held in New York City that year. One of the visitors was Edith Jordan, daughter of Stanford's first president, who had been spending the previous year at Cornell. Members of the nominating committee approached her and asked that she suggest someone from Phi for Grand Secretary—one who would be living at Stanford and who could easily be reached at that time. Miss Jordan suggested Pearle Green. She was elected Grand Secretary and vice president of Gamma district, which included Phi chapter, Omega chapter at the University of California, and Iota Alumnæ chapter at Los Angeles. Thus was she launched upon her Theta career.

"The Kappa Alpha Theta magazine, formerly called the Journal, made its first appearance in 1885 as a quarterly. For six years it was published by undergraduates; after that time an editing chapter was selected with a salaried editor-in-chief, who was a graduate. In 1905, a Journal editor, who would select her own business manager, was appointed. In 1909, L. Pearle was appointed editor, and has held that position since. She also continued to serve as Grand Secretary until the fraternity was re-organized and central office established in Chicago, April, 1939. . . .

"Both men and women have said of her, 'She is without a doubt the best informed Greek-letter woman in the United States . . . the dean of Greek women.'"

Officers Hold Workshop Sessions

Theta's national and district officers held a three-day workshop last fall at the Tau chapter house on the Northwestern campus. The objective was to instruct nine new district officers in methods and aims, as well as to give all other officers up-to-date information and procedures.

Kathleen Casey Is New Editor of "Glamour"

By ANNIS BAILEY OETINGER
Beta Epsilon and Portland Alumnæ

The girl with a job today—whether that career is home-making or a job outside the home—is the concern of Glamour magazine's new editor-in-chief, Kathleen Aston Casey, best known as "Katie" to her Kappa Alpha Theta sisters of Beta Epsilon chapter.

The big-time fashion world's newest editor was graduated from Oregon State college in 1938 after rolling up an impressive list of activities that foreshadowed her coming career. A major in home economics, she was most active on the college newspaper in various editorial jobs and with her column of fashion notes called "Katie's Komments." Her other extra-curricular activities, besides the usual social committees, included arranging and commentating various fashion shows and acting as a college consultant for Woman's Home Companion. Her chapter sisters remember her particularly for her excellent job as house manager and her fine taste in clothes.

From Oregon State Katie progressed to New York University for her master's degree in business administration. For the ten years prior to her new editorship she was with Vogue, first as the Midwest editor and then as merchandise service director. Conde Nast publications, who also publish Vogue, chose Mrs. Casey to fill the Glamour editor vacancy because it was felt she was typical of the 19,000,000 U. S. girls with jobs. Statistics show that the number of those like herself combining homemaking with an outside career is steadily rising. This trend is in marked contrast to the 1930s when fewer girls worked and most of them considered it very temporary.

Glamour, which was established in the late 1930s as the nation's first magazine for the girls with jobs, will carry Mrs. Casey's name as editor-in-chief for the first time in the February issue, the first for which she is completely responsible. This fall she made a flying tour of seven large cities, including her home town of

Kathleen Casey

Portland, to get a real cross-country sampling of the viewpoint of the "girl with a job."

Between her travels and work at the editor's desk she finds time to make a home for her husband, John, and 4½ year old son, Jock, in a New York suburb.

Purdue Chapter Invites You To Meet Senator Bushfield

Not many college fraternity chapters can boast a former U.S. Senator as housemother, but Alpha Chi chapter at Purdue has just that distinction in Mrs. Harlan J. Bushfield, their new housemother.

Her husband, the late Harlan J. Bushfield, had been governor of South Dakota for two terms and was then Senator from that state until his death three months before the completion of his first term. Mrs. Bushfield was then appointed by the Governor to complete her husband's term of office.

Mrs. Bushfield says that her tenure of office was strictly honorary since she was appointed, rather than elected, and since the Senate was not in session during the three months she served. Yet she handled the heavy task of senatorial correspondence with the aid of the executive secretary and had the major task of preparing the files and other material for the incoming senator.

And as a former Senator, she still may sit in session in the Senate chamber!

Frances Judge Publishes in Current Periodicals

Frances Dunn Judge (Mrs. Paul A.), an initiate of Alpha Nu chapter at the University of Montana, currently is writing articles and stories for several nationally circulated magazines. One of her articles, "The Park and I," appeared in the Aug. 21 issue of Collier's, and another story is to be published soon in the Atlantic Monthly.

Mrs. Judge, who is now residing at Teton National Park, Moose, Wyo., has a Theta daughter, Mrs. Bert Orr, jr., a member of Alpha Mu chapter at the University of Missouri.

Colorado Theta Studies Abroad as Rotary Fellow

Mary Elizabeth Nevins, an alumna of Beta Iota chapter at the University of Colorado, is attending the University of Lausanne, Switzerland, as a Rotary Foundation Fellow for 1953-54. One of 101 outstanding college graduates from 32 countries to be awarded a grant this year by the world-wide service club organization, she is studying education courses in preparation for her career as a teacher.

The Rotary Club of Clare, Mich., her home town, recommended her for the Fellowship.

Mary Elizabeth received the Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Colorado in January, 1953. She has been employed in the legal department of the Dow Chemical Company in Midland, Mich.

At Colorado University, she was chairman of the Hospitality Committee, secretary of the Student Council, and chairman of the High School Visitation Program. She was representative to the Big Seven Conference on Student Government, exchange editor of the literary magazine and a reporter for the student newspaper.

She was selected a "Pacesetter," chosen on the basis of leadership, activities and service; and she was a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Lambda Theta honorary societies.

Margaret Cross of B Z Gets Fulbright Award

Dr. Cross is the head of the horticulture department at A. & M. and Mrs. Cross (Fearn Hamilton Cross) is a charter member of Beta Zeta chapter.

While at A. & M. Margaret was a member of Mortar Board, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and Phi Kappa Phi, and she also served as president of the International Relations club. She was scholarship chairman and editor for Beta Zeta chapter.

Omega Joins Civil Defense Effort

Thetas Active at Leadership Camp

Twelve members of Kappa Alpha Theta were among the 500 student leaders from all over the United States who attended the American Youth Foundation's Christian Leadership Training Camp last summer at Camp Miniwanca on Lake Michigan near Shelby, Mich.

The camp emphasizes balanced living in the mental, social, physical and religious areas of life.

Graduate Assistantships Now Available

Ohio Wesleyan University is offering six graduate assistantships for women in counseling and guidance for the academic year 1954-55.

While taking courses toward her M.A. degree, the candidate also serves as an assistant to the resident counselor in a dormitory. Women between the ages of 20 and 30, with a bachelor's degree, are eligible.

A minimum of 12 months is needed to acquire the 30 semester credit hours required for the degree. The service schedule of the assistant includes 21 hours a week of scheduled time in the dormitory plus meetings and occasional committee work.

Each assistantship is equivalent to a grant of $1,200 a year, awarded in terms of room, board and tuition.

For further information, write Miss Audrey M. Parker, Dean of Women, Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, O.

Theta's score on our campus is going up and up. At least we all feel that way. Our enthusiasm was given a marvelous push by a visit last spring from Grand Alumnae Secretary, Mrs. C. E. Brandriff. Her informal talk on fraternity ideals and accomplishments made us all very proud and eager to do our best. The pledges, especially, realized all a fraternity could, and should mean. Just to show Mrs. Brandriff that Theta was tops at U. of Alberta, we managed to win the inter-fraternity songfest on the last night of her visit. She joined in a very gay singsong which developed at the chapter house when our winning team brought back the winning boy's team, Phi Kappa Pi.

Spring comes late in Alberta, but the day for our faculty tea was warm enough for us to blossom out in our summer dresses. This tea is always a great success, as it presents the opportunity to entertain and chat socially with our professors—who are interesting conversationalists.

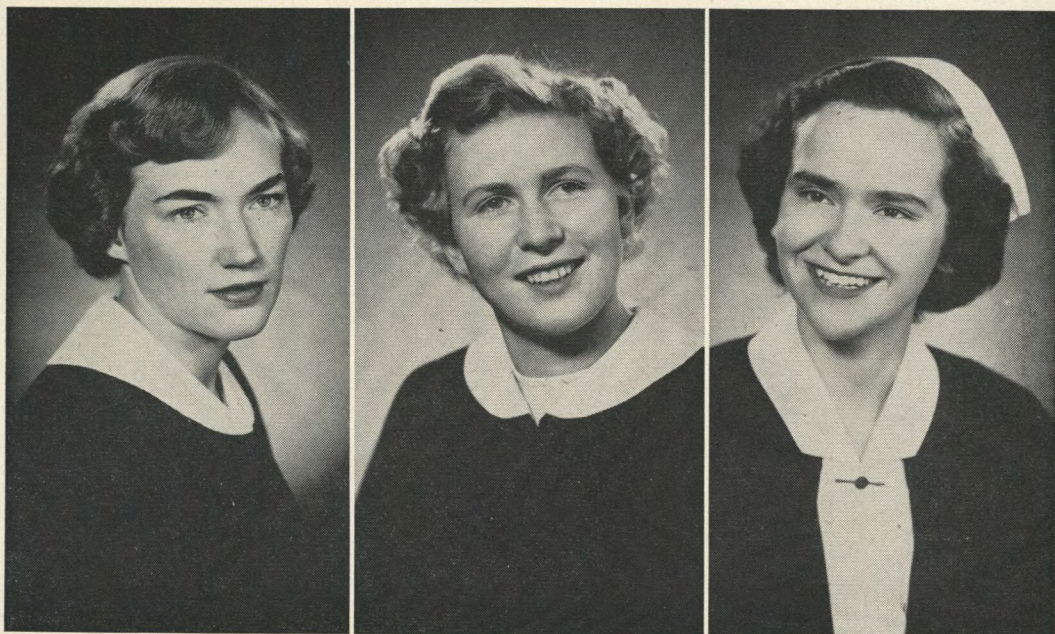

Next, we found ourselves choosing and installing officers for next year. Our new president is Rita Dickson. First vice president is Barbara White; second vice president is Carol Wensley; recording secretary is Ardis Liden; corresponding secretary, Audrey Rigaux; treasurer, Amy Matthews.

Valentine Day was the obvious motif for our last exchange party, held with Phi Kappa Pi fraternity. A string of pink hearts directed the way from the front door, through the living-room, and down to the rumpus room.

Mrs. P. J. A. Fleming, chairman of the Building committee, held a pot-luck supper at her home where the new executives got together with the Alumnae board to make great plans for next year.

There was terrific excitement at the end of the year when three of our Thetas ran for students' council. We campaigned with our usual enthusiasm, and got Flora Morrison, who is the new Panhellenic president, elected vice president of students' council. Catherine Robertson was elected president of Wau-neita, the women's organization on the campus, and

Evelyn Hage was elected director of women's athletics. Evelyn Hage and Shirley Wilson also won major athletic awards and the lovely white blazers which go with them. Flora "Jo" Morrison won the Gold Medal Award for three years' Proficiency in Nursing and Theory. Our new president, Rita Dickson, won the award for Proficiency in Nursing and Theory for third year.

1952-53 was a banner year for Beta Chi, and we're looking forward to another successful year in 1953-54.

Rush week and all its excitement inaugurated the new school year for Mu chapter. But all the hustle and bustle which went on during the week was certainly worth it for we gained 18 pledges. They are: Marilyn Bennett, Alice Bowden, Barbara Christman, Sheila Confer, Barbara Coulson, Ann Edwards, Mary Martha Goodwin, Dorothy Graham, Janet Johnston, Doris Jones, Ruth MacGregor, Dorothy Miller, Jane Nelson, Ann Rishor, Hannah Rutter, Cora Walter, Virginia Ward and Carolyn Whyman.

Most of our social activities so far have been centered around our new pledges. One night, it was a bedtime snack together; another night, the big sisters treated their little sisters to a big spaghetti dinner. On Oct. 11, we all put on our blue jeans and oldest shirts and went to Allegheny's Wildlife Preserve, Bousson, for our annual Pledge Picnic. Hikes and baseball games whetted our appetites for the fabulous food which was served in Bousson's rustic cabin. After supper, our pledges presented an original skit which turned out to be the high spot of the evening. Then, we all sat around and sang until it was time to go home—a little tired but very happy.

Now, we are eagerly waiting for the weekend of Oct. 31 to roll around. We are planning to make this the best Fathers' Weekend ever!

Arizona

The new school year got off to a good start with Beta Delta chapter acquiring 27 new pledges, a swimming trophy, four class offices, and a Homecoming queen finalist title.

By taking the intergroup swim meet, the chapter became the winners for the fourth consecutive year and retired the trophy. The swimmers won five first places out of eleven events.

Beta Delta also led the pack in the class elections this fall. Beverly Kilpatrick was elected senior class secretary. Barbara Mitchell was chosen junior vice president. Thetas won two offices of the sophomore class. Nancy Naujoks is the new secretary and Michelle Mason is vice president.

Kay Mason, Michelle's older sister, also received an honor at the elections. She was voted one of five finalists for Homecoming queen. The queen will be chosen by a group of Tucson businessmen and will be announced the night of the Homecoming dance.

Our new pledge class has proved to be distinguished in many ways. Nancy Dwyer won the WAA singles tennis tournament. Nancy, who is seeded eighth in the United States and third in California, has held both singles and doubles tennis championships for five years. She is now the current co-holder of the U.S. National Junior Doubles championship.

Another pledge who has gained campus prominence is Cecilia Cecil. "Cissy" has the honor of owning the only tandem bike on campus. It was used during the elections to advertise our candidates. The best use was found during TWIRP week (The Woman Is Requested to Pay) when the whole house vied to borrow the two-seater to take their dates out for coffee.

Most of our 27 new pledges come from Arizona or California. The pledges from Phoenix are: JoAnn Carlson, Jocelyn Jenson, Donna Sue Peachey, Julie Perry, Mary Ellen Sharpe and Marion Wikle. Other Arizona girls are Phyllis Barnum, Flagstaff, and Sue Hunter, Ajo.

The California pledges are: Jeanne Bihl and Nancy Dwyer, both of Los Angeles; Collyn Brune, Pomona; Cecilia Cecil, Fresno; Patricia Finn, Sansalito; Shelley Heath, Long Beach; Janet March, Alhambra, and Virginia Ruhberg, Tarzana.

Pledges from Illinois are: Josephine Booth, Winnetka, and Gail and Gwen Williams, Libertyville.

Other pledges are: Janet Fuhrman, Kansas City, Mo.; Elizabeth Kuiper, Lexington, Ky.; Elizabeth Morris, Denver, Colo.; Celeste Powell, Canal Zone; Jess Wallace, St. Joseph, Mo.; Mabel White, Ashville, N.C.; Ann Winther, El Paso, Tex., and Anne Wolfe, Tulsa, Okla.

The pledge class surprised the chapter with a Halloween party. Everyone was required to wear a costume, and prizes were given for the funniest and most original costumes. Hiding their identity is not too hard for four Thetas at Arizona. The chapter now has two pairs of identical twins. Bea and Bunny Jamison confuse the matter still more by dressing exactly alike. Gwen and Gail Williams do dress differently, but the difficulty is learning which twin is wearing what.

Beloit

Simultaneously with our first week of classes, we commenced rush, and were extremely successful, pledging twenty-two freshmen and two sophomore transfers: Judy Adkins, Downers Grove, Ill.; Janis Beckstrom, Shirley Mutimer and Nancy Wormley, all of Rockford, Ill.; Karen Berge, Minneapolis, Minn.; Diane Brady and Margery Evanson, both of Oak Park, Ill.; Sally Clarendo, Batavia, Ill.; Deborah Dudley, Madison, Wis.; Ann Forsaith, Cannelton, Ind.; Gail Furman, transfer from Rockford College; Donna Haker, West Allis, Wis.; Dorothy Hansen, Barrington, Ill.; Sally Johnson, Duran, Mich.; Geraldine Langendorff, Hammond, Ind.; Nancy Miller, transfer from Milwaukee-Downer College; Nancy Ness, Elmhurst, Ill.; Donna Orr, Ingleside, Ill.; Phyllis Palmer, Beloit, Wis.; Jane Peckham, South Beloit, Ill.; Arlene Populorum, Waukegan, Ill.; Carol Rauschenberger, Wauwatosa, Wis.; Marcia Stewart, Appleton, Wis., and Marianna Turner, Lexington, Ky.

The pledge mothers entertained their new daughters on Oct. 11 with a banquet at the Beloit Country Club. Serving a two-fold purpose, it also honored the initiates of that morning—Betty Donaldson, Patricia Keleher and Margery Wilson.

The scholastic standing for last semester found Theta ranking second among the sororities.

Among the coming fall events is Homecoming. We have already begun work on our float and house decorations and have chosen our queen candidate, Bonnie Applequist. Considering that we have won the house decoration cup for the past three consecutive years and that our candidate reigned last year, our hopes are high as we anticipate the festivities.

Spring at Butler University is a period full of fun and frolic. The Thetas all had a wonderful time at the Sophomore Cotillion and the Junior Prom. The Gammas won another trophy as they pulled out ahead of sorority row and won the annual "Nickel Hop."

The pledge class really showed us what they could do the night they presented their stunt, "The Minstrel Show." This production was a credit to every girl who participated. The same night was even more exciting as the pledges presented the chapter with a beautiful new television set, their project for the year.

Spring Sing time found the Theta songsters hard at work, led by Mickey McCormick. We worked hard and were rewarded with second place.

The term was ended by sadly saying "good-bye" to the departing seniors at the annual Senior Luncheon. The activity pins, handed down by the Senior Class, went to Lou Ann Phillips and Janet Brucker.

The year with Theta was not over even though school was out, for District Convention was still to come. Maxinkuckee Inn was swarming with Thetas from District I as the convention was officially opened. We met many Thetas and learned a great deal about our chapters and how we can improve them.

The Gamma Thetas started off the fall semester with a bang when they pledged 17 girls. They are: Buff Engeler, New Augusta; Ann Fleming, New Castle; Grace Goodwin and Barbara Berry, both of Frankfort; Shirley Henry, Liggonier; Donna Andre, Susan Babcock, Sara Dollens, Kitty Ferriday, Ann Jones, Jane Lowe, Sharon Marlowe, Nancy Max, Alyce Silver, Barbara Sippel, Beverly Trudgen and Betty Williams, all of Indianapolis.

The social life at Butler is already under way. The Phi Deltis and Thetas had a wonderful time at a sneak social in September. The Kappa Sigs entertained us at their house on Oct. 4. Homecoming and Greek Week will highlight the fall calendar this year, and we are all looking forward to having a wonderful time.

There were 11 proud wearers of the Theta kite after Oct. 11. The new initiates are Sandy Baker, Ronda Jones, Clare Shirley, Caroline Carter, Becky Cecil, Shirley Doyle, Karel Kingham, M. C. Swartz, Jean Toombs and Suzan Wilcox.

At the conclusion of rushing last fall, Omega chapter "presented" 16 new Thetas to the campus. They are: Lynn Campbell, Jayne Clare, Connie Lou Dunn, Katherine Gibbins, Pat Groff, Carol Haugen, Suzanne Huber, Judy Johnson, Ruth Minor, Phyllis McDill, Diane Reader, Roberta Rose, Nancy Ross, Donna Ryan, Marilyn Straub and Sally Vaughn.

Again this semester football season was greeted with much spirit and excitement. Theta is well represented on rally committee by Barbara Clymer who has a junior appointment, and Priscilla Shrouf and Peggy Willard who have sophomore appointments.

We are proud of Barbara Clymer who was appointed to California Club. This organization consists of outstanding students from all the campuses of the University of California. They strive to promote better relations among the many campuses. Kathy Howard and Martha McBride have received invitations to Panile, sophomore women's honor society.

The important job of Panhellenic president has been given to Dot Zarley this year. Dot is in charge of supervising rush functions, college chapter philanthropies and student activity projects.

The annual House Association luncheon was held again this fall and everyone was excited to hear that during Christmas vacation the downstairs of the chapter house will be redecorated.

The girls who visited Squaw Valley during District Convention last summer had a wonderful vacation, and Marilyn Patterson, our chapter's delegate, brought back many new ideas. Under the leadership of Nancy Robinson, Omega chapter is well on its way to another busy and successful year.

California, Los Angeles

The new semester was ushered in by a very hectic and exciting week of rushing, which brought to Beta Xi 18 new pledges. Peggy Fletcher and Darlene Dwyer neatly handled the honors of rush chairman and assistant rush chairman, respectively. "Presents" open house culminated the week, after which the pledges and actives attended the open houses on Fraternity Row.

We welcomed to the chapter: Lynn Murphy, president; Mary Lynn, social chairman; Carol Grund, secretary; Merry Athearn, Panhellenic delegate, and Dorothy Burke, Judy Fargo, Gayle Gerry, Linda Gibbons, Terry Hurty, Nancy Kennedy, Marilyn Kiech, Lynne Kiene, Connie Kilgore, Lynne Martin, Diane McCondach, Maureen Moriarti, Lynn Schultz, and Ruth Kelley. Two transfers also joined us: Elsie Valentine from Nevada, and Sylvia Brown from Lawrence.

Recognition for last semester's activities goes to Pat Price who was tapped for Spurs, sophomore honorary based on grade average and campus activity, and to Peggy Fletcher who was Lambda Chi Sweetheart.

Our scholarship banquet was held to honor the most improved members of each class and the leading members of the house. The keys presented to the most improved went to Corky Foote, junior, and Carol McManigal, senior. For the highest house average they went to Gretchen Haas, first place; Sue Petterson, second place, and Marlon Ockerman, third place. Sally King led the pledge class, whose combined average won first place among the sororities. The house managed to take eighth place among the twenty-three other houses.

We are now looking ahead to the Homecoming activities scheduled for Oct. 31, when UCLA will battle Cal. The combined audience of Santa Barbara, Davis, Cal, and UCLA will be on hand to cheer the victor. In keeping with the four university meet, the theme is "All U Safari to the C," while the Theta adaptation, to be on our float, is "So Far as We Can See, It's the Bruins in '53." Already plans for the float are under way with Gretchen Haas and Nat Bernet as co-float chairman.

NATALIE BERNET

California, Santa Barbara

Foremost in importance is to introduce our new housemother, Mrs. Helen Shepherd, a Theta from Omega. Her charm, sincerity and enthusiasm have earned her the devotion of us all.

Gamma Rho members found the opening of the fall semester a very busy time what with moving into our new house, rushing, and the starting of classes.

We are proud to announce that on Sept. 21, after a strenuous week of formal rushing, we pledged these girls: Carole Caldwell, Eleanor Jennings, Pat Kennedy, Jean Martin, Barbara Ottaway, Phyllis Parent, Adrienne Parker, Joan Patterson, Sally Phillips, Barbara Rolfe, Diana Ryan, Marlene Stutheit, Carolyn Tisdale, Marilyn Tisdale and Barbara Wofford. They were honored at a banquet held at El Cortijo directly following pledging, and will be presented to the students and faculty at the annual Presents Dance for all the sororities' pledges on Nov. 7.

On Sept. 26 we held initiation for the spring pledges. Those initiated were: Elinor Cruze, Martha Hopkins, Birgit Nyman, Marian Tams and Diana Welton. Diana was also awarded the pledge bracelet which is presented every year to the most outstanding pledge in the class. After initiation we all went to a rush party in the Hawaiian luau tradition with the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Homecoming is just around the corner and we're all very busy trying to think of clever ideas for the float in the parade and for our entry in the Galloping Gaucho Revue for which each fraternity and sorority enters a skit. The theme this year is 3-D Hits UCSB.

Besides fine work in activities Gamma Rho spring pledges pushed ahead scholastically and turned in the highest grade average to lead all organized groups on campus. This honor makes them forget the long hours spent with books and typewriters. Also in the scholarship department, five actives were on the Dean's List which requires a 2.500 grade average or above. They are: Mary Jo Bornemann, Elinor Cruze, Carol Funk, Shirley Lathy and Joan Quintero.

Everyone at Santa Barbara is looking forward to All-Cal Weekend which will be held at UCLA beginning Nov. 1. It is a highlight of the fall semester and the occasion when all the branches of the University of California join in a gala weekend of football games, parades and parties.

We of Gamma Rho are anticipating with pleasure the annual visit of our district president, Mrs. William Gonser. The schedule of events includes many helpful talks with the chapter officers and a tea to compliment her.

Gamma Theta started the year with our traditional meeting at the cabin in South Park. There we planned our rushing program and activities for the year. We received many new ideas and suggestions from Donna Harpold and Nancy Haney who attended the district convention held at White Sulphur Springs Hotel in June.

Our rushing season was climaxed by the Strawberry Shortcake Party. The new pledges are Judy Storch of New Castle and Pat Letts of Zelienople. After pledging we had a dinner in honor of the new girls. We are now planning events for our major rush season in January.

Gamma Theta girls have received recognition for beauty and brains. Barbara Hudacek was called by Cwens; Trudy Richtarsic is on Student Council and is also vice president of Dormitory Council. Also on Dorm Council are Clare Lawler, Irene Warne and Barbara Hudacek. Suzie Straits and Esther Reed were on the Thistle court. Mary Jane Troop was one of the three girls elected to the Spring Carnival Court.

Theta placed second at the Inter-Fraternity Greek Sing last spring. Led by Mary Jane Troop, we sang "Here A toast to K.A.T." and "Little Boy Blue." Our spring social season was climaxed by the annual Cotton Ball which was held at the lodge in North Park.

On Sept. 26 we tagged for the benefit of the Children's Home. Gamma Theta has worked for this organization for many years and now it has become a Panhellenic project. Plans have already been started for our Christmas party for Pittsburgh orphans with the Delta Tau Deltas at the Delt house. We are also planning a benefit bridge for Nov. 21 which will be held at the Carnegie Union.

We are happy to affiliate Mary Ann Fredricks who transferred from Alpha Eta chapter at Vanderbilt.

With Homecoming just one week away, we are working hard on our skit for Varsity Varieties. The theme for the weekend is the "roaring 20's" and we hope to capture a cup.

Alpha Tau ended last year with a final burst of enthusiasm. Our '52 pledge class walked off with the Panhellenic scholarship cup, while the active chapter rated second on campus. Pi K.A.s chose Shirley Fitro as their Dream Girl. Along the line of philanthropies, we finished first in the Bloodmobile Drive. Publicity chairman Sylvia Wiese came up with another prize winning idea for Sigma Sigma Carnival, which put another trophy on the mantel. Finally, past president Barb Butsch received the Tri Delt award for the most outstanding sorority senior.

Socially, we ended the year with two get-togethers. Our spring formal was held at the Copper Stallion. Pat Jones was hostess at the senior breakfast which in second as a group in the A.T.O. Sweepstakes. Individually, Janet Shafer was chosen the '53 A.T.O. Sweepstakes Girl. Sally Ann Beavers claims the title and trophy for Best Looking Brunette, while pledge "Murph" holds the title of the "fastest freshman girl hot dog eater."

Another new comer to 2711 Clifton is our new housemother. To the world she's Mrs. Underwood, to us she's "lil' Moms." On Oct. 18, the chapter held a tea so that the rest of campus might get to know her.

Other social events have included exchange dinners with Beta and Triangle. Chapter held a faculty dinner on Oct. 13, and we were guests of A.T.O. at a buffet supper Oct. 18. A sport party, featuring cider and doughnuts, was held Oct. 17.

Busy now with preparations for Homecoming, we are all looking forward also to Mrs. Edward's visit, the first of November. A former Alpha Tau, she now serves as our district president.

Theta's twin stars are extra bright over campus this fall with our new pledge class of 26 girls and a new housemother. Our new pledges are: Billie Jean Andrews, Daphne Deming and Cynthia Hagner of Colorado Springs; Carolyn Delehanty, Elizabeth Maier, Miriam Robins, Sally Sletton, Betty Staples and Sharon Wilson of Denver; Patricia Seitz, Aurora; Lanelle Beck, Carol DeMund and Bonnie Low of Phoenix; Wendy Bach, Minneapolis, Minn.; Mary Heath, Highland Park, Ill.; Billie Sue Hickman, Ponca City, Okla.; Julia Hodson, Bellevue, Wash.; JoAnn Johnson, Kansas City, Mo.; Mary Leighton, Itasca, Ill.; Georgia Morrisey, Santa Barbara, Calif.; Joyce Niedermeyer, Mount Carroll, Ill.; Antoinette Persons, Winnetka, Ill.; Carol Raymond, Smithfield, Mo.; Janet Shellenberger, Fort McClellan, Ala.; Marlyn Wallace, Hastings, Nebr., and Nancy Bennett, Laguna Beach, Calif.

Oct. 11 saw kites flying on three new initiates; Joyce Lind, Johanus Giwosky and Martha Olsen.

Billie Jean Andrews was our candidate for Queen of the Sigma Chi Watermelon Bust. The Sigs had carloads of watermelon and we all got thoroughly wet, but full.

Soon after classes started, Beta Theta Pi took us out to dinner and presented for our entertainment a hilarious skit entitled "Dragnet."

Gail Lund was our candidate for the title "Miss C. C." at the annual school publications dance, the Tiger-Nugget. The same weekend the chapter held open house to introduce our new pledges and our new housemother, Mrs. Blake, to the campus.

The Phi Gams wanted to have a picnic with us this fall so that we could get acquainted with our new brothers and sisters early this year, so we had a picnic and football game on Oct. 11. October 12 we had our scholarship dinner in the house at which Dr. Brandt, a language professor, was our guest speaker. We presented gardenia corsages to the girls showing the biggest scholastic improvement in each class. They were: Peggy Root, senior; Mary Jo Ahern, junior, and Lee Sage, sophomore. Lee also was awarded our special Theta scholarship pin for having the highest average in the chapter.

Already it seems our pledges are showing great promise. Betty Bee Staples was elected president of Junior Panhell on campus, and Toni Persons is doing a fine job as president of the pledge class.

We really miss our seniors who graduated last year, but we're happy to have with us two Theta transfers: Sharon Smith from Beta Delta and Marty Stinson from Alpha Upsilon.

After a strenuous but enjoyable rush week, there are now 22 new girls wearing our pledge pin. They are: Sandy Beck, Rachel Burgess, Mary Lou Cass, Carol Ginter, Jan Hess, Sue Holmes, Sally O'Brien, Dottie Paulk and Donna Younger, all of Denver; Colleen Bryan and Sue Johnston, Lakewood; Elaine McCoy and Connie Trompeter, Englewood; Nancy Rainey, Jan Floth and Phyllis Hill, Fort Collins; Janice Painter, Longmont; Tina Morehead, Estes Park; Joan Dalton, Eaton; Debby Lichtenberg, Ennis, Mont.; Betsy Clark, Libertyville, Ill., and Lee Halligan, Upper Montclair, N. J.

Another exciting event of the first few weeks of fall was the initiation of Sue Kardell, Janice Moore and Sally O'Connell.

We honored our pledges at our annual pledge dance on Oct. 2. We called the dance "Stairway to the Stars" and built a stairway with twin stars at the head. Sorority mothers gave their daughters their pledge paddles as they came down the stairs in a special ceremony.

How surprised and pleased the Iotas were upon their return to school this fall to find the first floor of the house completely re-decorated. To christen our new living room, we held an openhouse on Oct. 3, for sorority and independent women. Entertainment was provided by the Thetas, the Delta Gammas and some of the other guests. It was a perfect way for us all to visit and get well caught up on news.

Congratulations are in order for many of the Iotas this fall. Ethel Denton, our president, was elected president of Panhellenic Council. Diane Peterson changed an old tradition by being chosen as the first woman chairman of a houseparty weekend, and Hilly McCann followed in her footsteps when she was chosen to head this year's Fall Weekend.

Margy Doorty, Pat Wells and Hilly McCann were elected to Raven and Serpent, a junior women's honorary. Sally Alger and Margy Doorty were elected to Ivory Tower, a social honorary. Lili Bates, Phyl Hubbard and Anne Drotning were chosen members of the Women's Senior Class Council, and Carol Rittershausen was elected to the presidency of the Junior Class. Carolyn Anderson and Pat Wells are on the Board of Managers of Willard Straight Hall, our student union. Enie Muller, Spring Houseparty Queen, was attended by Julie Scott, a member of her court.

We are all busy preparing for our annual Charities Bazaar, which will be held sometime in December. With the proceeds, we help support two French War Orphans. And, of course, we are looking forward to our pledge formal, and to many other activities which will help make this a wonderful year.

With the fall leaves soaring high into the air, the black and gold kite, too, is in a whirl of activity. The Beta Taus returned to their Wee White House to find a new stone walk and steps leading to the front door. There were also newly painted window-boxes filled with shrubs. These improvements had been done by the alumnae during the summer and it was quite a pleasant surprise to the returning actives.

On Sept. 18 we initiated Lynn Fitz, and on the following Wednesday a chapter supper was held in her honor.

We had just begun our fall rushing preparations when President Knapp called a special meeting of all sorority women in Swasey Chapel. He informed us that due to the large number of freshmen women and transfers, the seven Denison sororities could not possibly absorb such large pledge classes as we would have to do if rushing went through as planned. Dr. Knapp suggested that rushing be deferred until second semester and the first semester he would attempt to bring another sorority on campus. The sororities promptly ratified his proposal and voted to invite Pi Beta Phi to colonize on our campus. The Pi Phis have accepted the invitation and rushing will begin next semester.

One of the highlights of this fall was President Knapp's washing the car of our housemother, Mrs. McGillivray. He had offered this service as a charity donation last spring at the annual Bonds of Friendship Show. Our treasurer bid for this service against a local citizen and finally the President agreed to wash both cars. The day was planned for this October and we had a grand turnout for the event. The whole chapter pitched in and helped Dr. Knapp wash the cars and we ended up by washing his car in addition to the other two. An openhouse for breakfast at the Theta house concluded this event and we felt that another step in cementing the student-administration relationship had been achieved.

Our Homecoming celebration on Oct. 10 was quite successful. Our theme for decorations was "Homecoming 1984" (taken from the book 1984). Our front yard was gayly decorated with modernistic abstracts of space ships and returning alumnae depicted as they might look in the year 1984. Although we didn't win the prize for our decorations, we compensated by again having the Homecoming Queen, Bonnie Douda. The weekend terminated with a dinner at the house given by the alumnae with the chapter as their guests.

After recovering from our Homecoming celebration, we are now eagerly looking forward to the Dad's Day weekend. This is to be Oct. 30 and we are planning a banquet at the house with the junior class providing the entertainment. This is one of our favorite weekends and we anticipate a wonderful time with our Dads.

Since the freshmen and transfer women are not yet affiliated, we will be unable to hold our annual Panhellenic formal in the sorority house. However, the dance will be held in the Field House on Nov. 6 as an all-school dance, thus enabling everyone to attend with their dates.

Our social committee has also been in a whirl this fall. We are planning an openhouse with the Phi Delts on Oct. 18, and on the following Sunday we have invited the Delta Tau Deltas from Kenyon College for a picnic. We are also going to entertain the faculty with a tea and the alumnae with a bridge party in the near future.

So despite no rushing and no pledges this semester, the Beta Tau's have been in a whirlwind of activities this fall.

The Big House on the Hill wore a freshly painted smile as it welcomed back 56 Alphas on Sept. 13. And we smiled back as we stored away our luggage and immediately rolled up our sleeves in preparation for a successful rush session. Ten days later those smiles of ours had broadened into grins, for we had pinned the black and gold ribbons on 23 new sisters-to-be.

Still looking like a group of Cheshire KATS, we'd like to introduce these pledges to you: Jody Cline, Dayton, Ohio, Gail Divine, Larchmont, N.Y.; Anne Ehrenhardt, Terre Haute; Melinda Evans, Crawfordsville; Sue Farrell, Frankfort; Mary Anne Francis, Cincinnati; Ellen Frank, South Bend; Lou Anne Hart, Anderson; Carolyn Hawthorne, Jo Moser and Marcia Wheeler, Indianapolis; Elizabeth Ives, Delphi; Jane Jones, Elkhart; Judy La Hue, Lake Bluff, Ill.; Sue Lippman, Paris, Ill.; Jo Petry, Hoopeston, Ill.; Sharon Riordan and Penny Smith, Chicago; Judy Thrasher, Cahrdon, Ohio; Jane Umbreit and Sue Bennett, Greencastle; Marty Blair, Barbourville, Ky.; and Dawn Oswald, Batesville.

On Nov. 3, six Alpha sophomores will sail their kites for the first time. They are Judy Campbell, Barb Granger, Marcia Peterman, Jane Rose, Diana Smith and Judy Walker.

Last spring found 39 campus honors earned by our Alpha Thetas. Among them were Ruth Wilson, Phi Beta Kappa; Sylvia Cannon, Alpha Lambda Delta; Marty Swintz and Marilyn Shanks, Mortar Board, and respectively holding the offices of vice president and secretary of AWS. Of course we had our beauties, six of them, in fact. And a number of representatives in Orchesis, Naiad, Union Building Board and departmental clubs. We have started off in the same fashion this year with Orchesis' admittance of Ellen Frank, and the initiation of Cindy Coyle, Smokey Grey and Marcia Wheeler into Naiad.

We'd like you to know a new friend of our—Betty Samphier, "our" English exchange student. She is living with us while trading places with Janet Sage, who is spending her junior year at Southampton.

And speaking of exchanges—we have some coming up which are strictly on the campus. The first one on the social calendar is the traditional Phi Psi-Theta football scrimmage on Oct. 23. Then, on Oct. 28, the Delts will "trick or treat" us at our annual Halloween party. We'll keep you posted as to which they chose to do.

At last the bustle of rush week is over and Beta Kappa has pledged 12 girls. They are: Carol Binkert, Lake City; Evelyn Black, La Grange, Ill.; Sue Childs, Highland Park, Ill.; Ann Fickinger, Davenport; Barbara Gerber, Park Ridge, Ill.; Sharon Hart, Manchester; Pat Hummel, Grimes; Kay Juline, Melcher; Mary Jane Mackey, Wall Lake; Jean Onthank, Sue Powers and Judy Shepardson, all of Des Moines.

New chapter officers are Glenda Rossiter, treasurer; Mary Jane Fling, rush chairman; Suzanne Olls, marshal; Suzanne Wessel, historian; Nancy Schott, activities chairman, and Carol Osborn, editor.

Last spring, Paula Mollendorf and Nancy Hummel were straight "A" students. President Sandra Blymyer is in Margaret Fuller-Sieve and Shears and was elected to National Collegiate Who's Who. Cay Conner is our Homecoming Queen candidate.

On Oct. 10, we had an openhouse for parents during parents' weekend. For Campus Carnival, Oct. 17, we will have a "Tell-a-Theta," booth to send telegrams around the field house where the carnival will be held. Also on Oct. 17, will be a slumber party at the chapter house for the pledges and the Des Moines girls. The next weekend is Homecoming, and we are planning the house decorations now.

The second and third floors of the chapter have been redecorated this year.

Fall initiates will include: Jo Carr, Norma Jo Grill, Nancy Hummel, Jackie Jones, Virginia McTigue, Marge Palmquist and Louise Shriver.

CAROL OSBORN

Duke

After receiving news of Beta Rhos' summer activities via the Theta Kite, we were all eager to return to hear about Thetas' experiences around the world in the past few months. We felt especially privileged to gaze upon our coveted scholarship cup brought back from the district convention last spring, while enjoying the cool of our newly air-conditioned room.

We are proud of our newest kite-flyer, Judy Foster, whom we initiated Sep. 27, after a breakfast party in the chapter room that morning.

The Theta room is now the scene of many exciting parties and openhouses which highlight our rushing period. Bids will be extended Oct. 31, and pledging dates from that day. The entire campus is buzzing about the novel Pigalle Party we are going to have at Turnage's on Nov. 7 for the pledges. This should be lots of fun, and it is our first off-campus dance.

Homecoming weekend we saw several Beta Rho graduates back at Duke. And speaking of graduates, Thetas graduate with honors: Ann Gunderson and Molly Bixby left us last year magna cum laude.

As for Thetas on and off campus, Joan Earle is active this year both in Sandals, sophomore leadership honorary, and as assistant treasurer of Woman's Student Government. Her sister, Audrey, has become a Spanish señorita and departed for a year of study at the University of Madrid!

Carrel Power, a member of the Homecoming

Queen's court this year, is now president of Woman's Student Government. She was also elected to Phi Kappa Delta and White Duchy, highest campus leadership honoraries, last fall. And hats off to another Theta beauty, Meb Benton, who was Queen of the Air Force ROTC at their spring ball last year.

Not only Theta, but also the entire University, feels the gap left by the absence of Helen Foppert, elected chairman of Social Standards Committee, who was not able to return this semester because of illness. We hope Helen will be back with us next semester, for we predict many exciting activities for the next nine months.

October 15

PATRICIA BROWN

Florida

Early in the spring semester, our newly-elected officers took the reigns. The major officers include: Ardis Bourland, president; Sue McCormick, vice president; Kay Haines, corresponding secretary; Charlotte Hardy, treasurer; Yvonne McCarthy, pledge trainer, and Joan Carson, rush chairman. Also a new pledge class was added to our chapter, comprised of Bebe Bisbee, Dot Cooke, Patricia Cooney, Nancy Erickson, Nan Hillman, Bobby Lu Lester, Marian McDaniel, Germaine Murray, Nancine Price and Nancy Vaughn.

On March 13, activities for Theta weekend were in full swing. A gay nineties flapper party was the first on the agenda. At the annual powderpuff football game, the Theta's emerged victors over the Pi Phi's with a triumphant score of 26 to 6. The joint profits of $100 from the game were donated to the school's Campus Chest. Other activities included a Coast trip and a formal dance held at the Beta Nu house. At this time E. O. Holton, past president, was crowned Theta Queen.

In campus activities many Thetas are hard at work. Yvonne McCarthy, chairman of Judiciary, is aided by Dot Cooke, junior representative, and Inia Jean Pruitt, sophomore representative. Nancy Vaughn is chairman of Sophomore Council, an honorary for outstanding service and leadership. Other Beta Nus in this honorary are Bebe Bisbee, Germaine Murray, Inia Jean Pruitt, Louise Yarrowborough and Marlies Gessler. Bebe Bisbee also leads her class as sophomore secretary.

Every year Junior Counselors are chosen to live in the freshman dorms and act as "Mother Hens" to all their freshman girls. Thetas acting in this capacity are Betty Jo Grubbs, Pat Meredith, Donna Lou Harper, Charlotte Hardy, Kay Haines, Helen Hamilton and Dot Cooke, who was also elected president of the dorm in which she counsels.

At the close of last year the various campus organizations at Florida State University were busy selecting new members for this year. To Ruthie Spencer and Yvonne McCarthy went the honor of being tapped for Mortar Board. Yvonne and Ruthie, along with Ardis Bourland, were tapped for Garnet Key, a local honorary recognizing leadership, service and scholarship.

On Wednesday evenings and every other afternoon of the week you'll find the Theta house void of some 20 girls. At those times our "big top queens" work out with F.S.U.'s nationally famous circus, "Flying High." Outstanding is Jo Ann Hutto who was featured last year as the girl in the moon. This year she will do a thrilling swinging single-trapeze act.

Many of you have probably seen the F.S.U. circus short photographed by Grantland Rice. In this movie Ruthie Spencer, our head cheerleader this year, starred on the flying trapeze, doing difficult stunts perfected by very few in the "Flying DeCosmo" act. Tarpon, the girls swimming honorary, has also been featured in a Grantland Rice Sportlife, part of which was filmed at Cypress Gardens. Appearing in this are four Theta members, Ardis Bourland, Nancy Wehner, Sue McCormick and Sue Young.

Our 1953 school year started off successfully with the pledging of 19 girls. They are: Bobbie Jean Smith, Algene Bell, Marcia Blackwood and Margaret Evans from Miami; Jean Martin, Ellen Francisco and Barbara Blank from West Palm Beach; Greta Sims and Irwin Weissenborn from St. Petersburg; Pat Wilson and Dee Entenza from Jacksonville; Mitzi McCullough from St. Augustine; Florence Ashby and Debby Potter from Sarasota; Marlies Gessler, Caryl James and Norma Ann Marshall from Tallahassee; Anita Wall from Atlanta, and Mary Cargill from Savannah.

Fresno State

We Gamma Chis want to thank our alumnae for making our initiation into Theta sisterhood a wonderful occasion. We surely appreciate their sponsoring our memorable pledging, initiation, and presentation tea last spring.

With a busy week of rushing behind us, we pledged Claire Feavor, Fowler; Delores Hendryx, Avenal, and Gay Reed and Sandra Seeley, both of Bakersfield.

Jo Ann Clark, vice president, and her fraternity education committee planned our unique "Pansy Bowl" rush party. To highlight the football theme, we donned vendors' outfits, pep-girl jumpers, and football uniforms. The party will become a traditional rush event.

Another look at the sports scene finds Janet McGrew, head pep-girl and Kappa Sig Snow Queen, in charge of our baseball and swimming teams. We will participate in the sorority intramurals.

To promote friendship and understanding among the other Panhellenic members on campus, Margo Wells, our social chairman, has arranged sorority exchanges. At our first exchange, with Delta Gamma, we will prepare a Halloween party for the children's nutritional home. We are planning social service projects such as donating baskets to needy families at Thanksgiving and singing carols to shut-ins at Christmas.

Janet McGrew, our house manager, and Shirley Moore, our treasurer, are sponsoring junior high Y-teen clubs as a community project this fall. Since we have no house, Janet has also scheduled bi-monthly dinner meetings at the YWCA. The Y is our headquarters for regular meetings, too.

An exchange with the Sigma Chis and the Greek Sing are are next on our social calendars.

Gamma Chi members are busily participating in campus activities. Joan Burkland, who received the PTA scholarship for outstanding student teaching, was co-chairman of the Y's Freshman Camp and is co-editor of the yearbook. Sally Jergensen is AWS president and Phi Kappa Phi vice president. Jo Ann Clark, AWS vice president, will represent Fresno State at the fall AWS Convention at Stanford.

Our class officers include: our president, Vanda Scavarda, social chairman of the senior class; Patty Meyers, secretary treasurer, and Margo Wells, social chairman, of the junior class; Roxie Bell, secretary, and Sue McFeeters, social chairman, of the sophomore class.

Honors for the sophomores are claimed by Roxie Bell, president of the sophomore service society, and Mary Jo Bertken, secretary of the rally committee. Donna Estes was chosen SAE Sweetheart, and the Outstanding Freshman Woman trophy was awarded to Sue McFeeters.

Members of Tokalon, the upper-division women's honorary service organization, include Joan Burkland, Sally Jergensen, and Patti Royston. Patti is also AWS election manager.

Academically, Kappa Alpha Theta ranked second when the spring grade list was published by the Dean's office. At the time of the initiation of the Phi Kappa Phi chapter, Joan Burkland and Sally Jergensen were elected to membership. Patti Royston led our group with a 2.8 average.

Gamma Kappa is looking forward to another semester as successful as the last one. In the honors department, Barbara Bailey was elected program director of the Student Council, and Carolyn Billingsly to Mortar Board. Carol Dunn has been appointed Queens Chairman of the Homecoming Committee, while Carolyn is co-chairman of the committee. Barbara Bailey, Carol Dunn and Ann Simpson have also been named to the Big Sis Executive Board. Big Sis is G.W.'s organization for helping incoming students. Ann Reid and Judy Moffett were initiated into Tassels, the honorary for sophomore women. This past semester, two of our girls, Ann Reid and Beverly Blades, made perfect 4.0s. Barbara Bailey and Beverly Blades have been elected to Delphi, the honorary society for sorority women, this fall.

At the end of a hectic, but fun-packed rush season, Gamma Kappa pledged nine girls. They are: Vera Allen, Barbara Cunningham, Cornelia Dixon, Lee Lamke, Eileen Maloney, Bea Minneman, Marjorie Nichol, Priscilla Palmer and Jean Scott. Pledging was at the home of Mrs. Robert Hibben, and was followed with a dessert party.

This semester we have two transfers, Mariette Schneider from Ohio Wesleyan and Jane Ward from Randolph-Macon.

Scheduled for the coming semester, socially, are exchanges with Sigma Nu, Delta Tau Delta and Kappa Sigma; plans for the Goat Show; the traditional fall Open House, coffee hours; the pledge formal, and a tea our alumnae who turned out in loyal droves to help us rush. And among these were Mrs. William Blackburn, district XVI president, and Mrs. Donald Hogate, Grand First Vice President.

*Idaho

Spring semester at Idaho seems to have brought along with it another year of pledging, pulchritude and prizes for Beta Theta chapter.

Twenty-two pledges have been added to the chapter roll since that time. In February, Rena Allen, Grangeville, and Patricia Stewart, Coeur d'Alene, joined our family. On Sept. 16, 20 girls came to live in our house. They were Carolyn Babcock, Susanne Dolphin and Clarice Hadley, all of Twin Falls; Arlene Brown, Pierce; Anne Carson, Moscow; Shirley Danielson, Genessee; Diane Dixon, Rathdrum; Helen Ann Douglas, Seattle, Wash.; Betsy Dregnie, Joyce Latham and Mary Jane Phillips, all of Spokane, Wash.; Martha Dunn, Palo Alto, Calif.; Elenor Henry, Gooding; Shirley Henry, Kimberly; Kay Kauman, Sandpoint; Sally Newhouse, South Euclid, Ohio.; and Darlene Little, Betty Miller and Leah Nanning, all of Lewiston.

Since February, a new slate of officers has been leading the chapter. Active in office now are Jan Morgan, president; Barbara Pearce, vice president; Donna Shively, treasurer; Dorothy Diehl, house manager; Jane Querna, corresponding secretary; Mary Joyce Briggs, recording secretary; Sharon Roden, social chairman; Rosemary Rowell, scholarship chairman; Beverly Gallup, rush chairman; Marie Brammer, editor; Lorna Hobdey, historian; Charlotte Pennington, marshal; Diane Chester, chaplain; Frances Herre, archivist; Mary Ann Evans, public relations; Wilma Schmidt, fraternity education; Denise Darwin, activity chairman, and Martha Mick, song leader.

Panhellenic representative Beverly Gallup is serving as secretary of the Panhellenic Council of the University.

Initiates at Beta Theta this year have been Marie Brammer, Diane Chester, Darlene Duffy, Frances Herre, Lorna Hobdey, Marilyn Meils, Martha Mick, Ann Pool, Nova Martel, LaRae Wood, Pat Stewart, Donna Thompson, Wilma Schmidt and Carolyn Edmiston.

"The house with the all-round girls," as the Thetas were described in the yearbook, has lived up to its reputation by capturing honors in many fields. Girls have been chosen this year for numerous campus honoraries. Caryle Pence and Flossie Garrett were tapped for Phi Chi Theta. Denise Darwin was tapped by Women's "I" Club and is now its vice president. Alpha Epsilon Delta claimed Elinor Coleman. Rita Schroeder earned membership in Phi Upsilon Omicron. Ann Pool won the pledge scholarship ring and membership in Alpha Lambda Delta. Theta Sigma Phi recognized Mary Joyce Briggs, Jane Querna and Rosemary Rowell for outstanding work on the school paper. Martha Mick and Shirley Danielson are singing with the Vandaleers. Hell Divers picked Donna Thompson as one of the school's top swimmers. Serving as Hell Diver vice president is Diane Chester. Elenor Henry is a majorette for the Idaho pep band. Pre-orchesis tapped two freshmen, Shirley Henry and Mary Jane Phillips. Shirley Danielson will be pianist for this year's campus dance band, the Suburbans.

Campus politics has welcomed several Thetas into its realms. Barbara Pearce was secretary of her junior class last spring, and is now in the running for a senior class office. Darlene Duffy, sophomore, and Joan Pettygrove, freshman, are also running on the Greek ticket for class offices. The Thetas captured three of eight spots on the primary ticket.

School publications are again claiming the time of our girls. Darlene Duffy is junior associate editor of the Gem of the Mountains, school yearbook. Jane Querna has begun her third year working on the Argonaut, school paper. She will be feature editor, while Rosemary Rowell will continue as mailing editor.

Moscow's May Day, U.S.A., won recognition all over the nation. The Theta float was indirectly referred to in Time as "a reasonable facsimile of George Washington." Movie stars, a parade and a huge blood rally revived the true American spirit on Idaho's campus. A talent show found the Theta orchestra and the "Uncle Tammy" rush skit cast practicing furiously for several weeks.

Mothers' Weekend and the May Fete held more excitement for our group. Mary Joyce Briggs and Jane Perry Simmons were tapped for Mortar Board. Spurs chose Frances Herre, Ann Pool and Marilyn Meils. Outstanding leadership in intramural athletics earned the W.R.A. cup for Pat Harris, president of Women's "I" Club.

Lorna Hobdey was named Queen of the Little International.

Beta Theta beauty reigned supreme last spring when Lorna Hobdey was Queen of Little International. This fall she has reached the finals for the cherished title of Homecoming queen.

Even with these many activities, social life at our house is not nil. Mrs. Beil, district president, spent several days getting acquainted with the girls and talking shop with the officers. Her visit is one to which we look forward every year.

Topping the entertainment calendar last spring were our annual events—the kidnap breakfast, alums' children's party at Easter, Founders' Day dinner, sweetheart dinner, Fiji picnic exchange, brother-son banquet, senior breakfast, paddle party, town parents' party, W.S.C. Theta exchange, scholarship banquet, and the climaxing spring formal. The dance of the year ended our social whirl in "An Enchanted Garden."

With a new addition to our chapter house, Beta Thetas are looking forward to a year of fun and fellowship. An open house, Homecoming and Dad's Day are on the way for everyone who wants to find out how the Thetas live. With rush and a Lambda Chi exchange in the past, the year is in full swing, and a renewed enthusiasm seems to say that this year things will be "bigger and better" for the Thetas.

MARIE BRAMMER

*Illinois

Delta has every right to expect only the best this semester, for it certainly has started off with a bang.

Our 11 new pledges, all freshmen, helped to spark the semester with their extraordinary enthusiasm and energy. The members of this class are: Dee Beebe, Aurora; Susan Black, Champaign; Janet Brown, Tiskilwa; Sue Brunkow, Oak Park; Alice Huggins, Glen Ellyn; Jeanne Kreger, Chicago; Arlene Kuebler, Downers Grove; Marilee Schmidt, Kewanee; Mary Siemer, Park Ridge; Gretchen Warvel, Evanston, and Ginger Wilson, Urbana.

At the moment, these new Thetas, coached by the Phi Gams, are practicing for the annual football classic, the Theta-DG Powder Bowl game, which will take place October 24. The active chapter will be cheering them on.

The impending homecoming weekend, Nov. 7, is already bringing activity to Delta. We and our SAE partners are practicing daily for the highly competitive homecoming stunt show. Our theme this year is built around a day in Switzerland. Two queen contests have drawn three Thetas into the spotlight. Of the 64 original homecoming queen contestants, Jean Weiss, our president, remains as one of the 16 still in the race. Sue Brunkow and Jeanne Kreger are finalists in the Dolphin queen contest.

On Oct. 3, two more kites were added to Delta chapter. Noel Hurd and Janice Mathews were initiated then, and on Oct. 5 Criss Adams was affiliated. Mary Liz Alexander and Ginny Thompson were recently chosen to be our Shi Ais for 1953-54.

Our greatest pride this semester, however, is the scholarship trophy, awarded to us by Panhellenic on October 6—and, believe me, we have just reason to be proud! Our all-house "B" average ranked us tops of the 26 sororities on our campus, and that honor was claimed during a semester fully crammed with social and activity events.

In that same spring semester, Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Tau Omega worked together to win first place in the annual all-campus spring carnival were bursting with pride when Barb Krueger was voted into this honor. Beauty honors also went Alice Bower and Suzie Cuthbert, who were members of the Sigma Chi sweetheart court last spring.

Yes, that was quite a semester for Delta. Besides our new scholarship trophy, we retain the Panhellenic pledge trophy for the highest pledge scholarship on campus, earned by our class of '56 with a "B" average last year. We are now hoping for and expecting a repeat performance of our recent accomplishments.

with our railroad show, "Nothing Special." Added to that, we took first place in campus basketball competition, and, paired with the Alpha Deltas, we became campus baseball champs. At the same time, we were practicing a Gershwin medley for the annual sorority sing.

We took our bows for activities that same semester when Mortar Board tapped Jan Gerdes and Jean Weiss, and Torch took Doris Drew, Jeanette Mathews, Sue Olmstead, and Donna Wilson. Also, Jeanne Hilton and Ginny Thompson were initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta, and Ginny was named treasurer of the organization. Louise Drechsler and Florence Kraabel brought further scholastic honor to our chapter when they were named to Phi Kappa Phi.

Outstanding scholarship, actives, and beauty are the requisites of Illinois' May queen, and we Thetas

Indiana

Back to school after a full summer came all the Beta Thetas, bubbling with tales of good times to tell. Among the first ones told was the report on District Convention. Those attending were: Beverly Bartlett, Mary Kolb, Diana Fisbeck, Dotty Walker, Nancy Blough, Mary Moody, Janny Thomas, Sharlee Cissell, Diane Brickley, Nancy Sprague and Joan Carlson. Besides bringing some excellent ideas to the chapter, the girls had a wonderful time. Their fun was climaxed with Skit Night, at which time our girls gave their version of "Frankie and Johnnie."

We are very happy with our five new future Thetas whom we pledged this summer. They are: Judy Hanna, Indianapolis; Joan Guinn, Western Springs, Ill.; Jane Iler, Rochester; Carole Wessel, Evansville, and Joan Wilhite, Bedford, all sophomores. Then shortly after the term opened, on Oct. 6, Sonya Deister of Fort Wayne joined the summer pledge.

To get the ball rolling this fall, the officers had a workshop Sept. 13-14 to talk over plans for the new term. The valuable suggestions given made the meeting so successful that we hope it will be repeated annually.

Our first social function of the season was a tea for our new housemother, Mrs. Rhodecker. All the housing units on campus were invited to meet her.

Our scholarship was the highest it has ever been, a sizzling 2.04, putting us in top place on campus. Yes, after a long fought battle we are in number one position again. The big drive now is to keep us there.

On Oct. 10 I.U. held its sixth annual Fall Carnival. This year the Thetas put their heads together with the Sigma Chis to come up with the idea of an old fashioned movie. It was a great success, as evidenced by the crowds hurrying over to see Hurry Hurry.

Gingi Ruddell, Gretchen Benzel and Jane Luzadder will be our candidates for Homecoming Queen.

To get the rush season off to a flying start, we had our first rush party Sunday, Oct. 17. The theme of the party was Halloween. The entertainment consisted of a skit of the various poems of James Whitcomb Riley set to music. The rushees all left humming, "When the frost is on the pumpkins. . ."

And last, but not least, on Oct. 25 we initiated 18 new members. Our new sisters are: Jean Sage (sister of Janet Sage, Alpha), Carol Capel, Billie Clingman, Dottie Gaskins, Jo Meyer, Nancy Adamson, Diann Brickley, Nancy Sprague, Joan Carlson, Susan Crisler

(sister of Donna Crisler and Shirley Crisler Williams, both of Alpha), Mary Sue Hambene, Sue Miller, Sharon Hanna, Gwen Hull, Ann Kaegi, Kay Lewis, Jane Luzadder and Peggy MacNary. The best pledge award went to Nancy Sprague.

ROSIE DWYER

Iowa

The Thetas of Beta Omicron have a new house-mother this fall. She is Mrs. Frank Hines from the University of Missouri. We are very happy with this new addition to the house and pleased by the many good suggestions she has been able to offer.

We are happy to report the addition of 23 pledges as a result of fall rushing. One of them, Marian Mogle, is a finalist for Dolphin Queen; six of them are members of the Scottish Highlanders; two are in Seals Club, and seven are finalists in Profile Preview.

Homecoming plans are being made, and we are building our float with Delta Upsilon fraternity this year. The Dolphin Queen will be presented at this time.

Sonya Gowering is continuing her theater work this year with a lead in the first university presentation of "The Blithe Spirit." Nancy Groves is taking a minor role in the play, "Noah." Nancy Doyle is doing stage-work for this play.

Nancy Doyle was initiated Oct. 18. She was pledged during informal rushing last year.

Mary Sifford has been busy with her work as chairman of Central Party Committee. Barb Meyer finished her strenuous job as rushing chairman only to become busy again as chairman of Profile Preview.

October 15

J. LARRINGTON

*Iowa State

Highlighting spring quarter on the Ames campus is the three-day all-college festival, "Veishea," a week-end of dances, canoe races, openhouses, and a parade of 80 floats. Named the winning float during last spring's Veishea was the Thetas' bow-and-arrow Indian who knelt in a 25 foot canoe proclaiming "Ames For Progress."

Also, Honors Day found the coveted scholarship trophy returning to the Theta house as the sorority with the highest grade-point average for the year. Under a new Panhellenic rule, the trophy will now reside permanently at Kappa Alpha Theta; it was the first time that one house had won the cup for a third consecutive year.

Beauty contests at Iowa State add excitement to any event, but the past year for Thetas proved to be doubly exciting as several members were elected campus queens. Harvest Ball queen attendant was Pat Sproul; the yearbook's Bomb Beauty contest named Ginny Kurtz queen. Also, the Sigma Chi chapter here elected Caryl Ives to reign for the year as their sweetheart.

September brought 43 Gamma Pi Thetas back to Ames to begin formal rush week. The seven days of rush parties and fun was climaxed by a pledge class of 15 girls: Ann Becker, Des Moines; Beth Billiard, Sioux City; Ann Blaul, Minneapolis, Minn.; Noreen Connell, Storm Lake; Ramona Gale, Savannah, Ill.; Diane Gibbs, Estherville; Pam Krueger and Betty Stevens, both of Omaha, Neb.; Florence McNeil, Mount Pleasant; Rebecca Metcalf, Primghar; Connie Miller, Shenandoah; Lila Oderkirk (sister of Ida Oderkirk), De Kalb, Ill.; Pat Rust (sister of Ruth Rust), Davenport; Joan Schindel, Kansas City, Mo.; Sue Stafford, Charles City.

September also brought the initiation of three new members: Barbara Burris, Sue Bush and Carolyn Finney.

Gamma Pi chapter has "adopted" a war orphan for the coming year. An 11-year-old Ukrainian refugee will be the object of various fund-raising projects in the house here. Cookie sales after hours on Saturday night, for example, are helping to collect the necessary finances for Gamma Pi's newly acquired parentage.

Along athletic lines, W.A.A. has elected Alice Hammond as its president. Also, Naiads, women's swimming organization, has elected as its president, Mary Jo Bierbaum, and its vice president, Caryl Ives.

The Interfaith Council here chose Ruth Rust to preside for the coming year. As president, Ruth will direct a council of many combined church youth groups of Ames.

Indications of an approaching Homecoming week-end are the Thetas' plans for decorations. Missouri University will be the guest of Iowa State that week-end, and the Missouri Tigers are the basis of Thetas' decoration theme, "ISC Pots the Tiger Lillies." In addition to house decorations, chapter members are serving on many campus committees. A buffet supper will follow the Homecoming football game to honor alumni and parents.

Women's I Fraternity, honorary W.A.A. organization, has chosen Mary Jo Bierbaum for membership.

Under the splendid leadership of rush captain Carolyn Campbell, Kappa completed a successful rush Sept. 10, with 25 pledges. The new additions are Margie Allen, Margie Campbell, Betty Davis, Petrea Doty, Judy Finck, Jean Gordon, Marcia Muehlbach, Pauly Palmer, Sue Schmiederer and Patsy Tucker, all of Kansas City, Mo.; Joan Bowman, Douglaston, N.Y.; Bev Brand, Shirley Dean, Artis Olson and Sue Springer, all of Lawrence; Jane Henry, Janet Kesler and Mary Michener, all of Topeka; Darlene Hunsaker, Mountain Grove, Mo.; Jane Letton, Pittsburg; Joan McMillan, Merriam; Margie Mackey, Mission; Ruth Robertson, Overbrook; Kay Vetterick, Creston, Ia., and Kaye Weigand, Wichita.

A formal openhouse to introduce pledges to the campus was Sept. 16.

Honors given last spring were the elections of Nancy Gilchrist and Nancy Landon to Mortar Board; Kay Conrad to Phi Beta Kappa; Connie White and Joan Hovey to Delta Phi Delta (art); Judy Crane and Nancy Gilchrist to Jay Janes (women's pep organization); Carol Christmann to Quack Club (Swimming); Anita McCoy to Mu Phi Epsilon (Music); Pat Erickson to Sigma Alpha Iota (music).

We are now settled down to a schedule of classes, meetings and many, many good times!

This looks like a wonderful year for Gamma Iota. We began by pledging the following girls: Sarah Bach, Elizabeth Craig, Hart Hagin, Sylvia Lawrence and Clara Yates, all of Lexington; Rose Marie Cotton, Harrodsburg; Anne Hill, Bowling Green; Nanne Howard, Monticello; Phil Nelson, Benton; Anne Stone, West Palm Beach, Fla.; Christie Vandergrift, Charleston, W.Va.; Martha Viall, Barboursville; Ruth Wall, Birmingham, Mich.; Patricia Ward, Frankfort; Nancy Cooley, Carol Cutchins, Mary Tipten Daniel and Helen Hammon, all of Louisville.

Campus activities have already gotten underway. Margaret Ford, Janice Roberts, Clara Yates, Nanne Howard and Lucille Mills were initiated into the Blue Marlin swimming club.

Heading the Student Union Board Poster Committee is Joyce Miles, and Barbara Ashbrook is chairman of the Outing Club. Joyce Williams is the new Y.W.C.A. president.

This week everyone is busy working on our booth for Lances Carnival, which is Oct. 16. The sororities and fraternities compete for the best booths. A dance is held after the carnival. Thetas who are candidates for Lances Queen, and their sponsoring groups, are Sylvia Lawrence, Theta; Patsy McCoy, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Weedie Cox, Kappa Alpha and Joyce Moseley, Phi Delta Theta.

Eight pledges will be initiated on Oct. 14. They are: Shirley Canberg, Jackie Cornett, Susan Druly, Scottie Hankla, Jackie Hill, Janet Payne, Joanne Shelton and Virginia Southgate.

Last semester was an eventful one for Alpha Psi. Marilyn Donohue and Jean Reynolds were chosen as two of the four "Best Loved" senior girls on campus. Betty Guerin and Jean Reynolds were among the beauty queens presented at the Spring Prom. On Mothers' Day, Marilyn Donohue and Jean Reynolds were on the court of the queen.

Peggy Link and Barbara Zierke were tapped by Mortar Board, and were named president and vice president, respectively. Lynn Dalton and Rosy Freeman were elected to Pi Sigma, the sophomore honor club. Also last spring we pledged Char Darling of Appleton.

This semester started out in a whirl of rushing parties which ended on Sept. 27, when we pledged 21 girls: Carol Adams and Pat Hughes, Minneapolis, Minn.; Florence Arbuthnot and Alice Peters, Janesville; Sue Brown, Marcia Grimm and Carol Longwell, Evanston, Ill.; Janet Dorchester, Sturgeon Bay; Sara Fischl, Manitowoc; Karen Krieger, Green Bay; Peggy Landis, Appleton; Sharon Meyer, Racine; Mary Mingus and Sue Mulligan, Chicago, Ill.; Gretchen Niedert, Noroton, Conn.; Nancy Nohl, Elgin, Ill.; Cynthia Perry, Menominee, Mich.; Judy Preston, Excelsior, Minn.; Anne Pusey, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.; Carl Stiehl, Lake Bluff, Ill., and Glory Thompson, Elmhurst, Ill. On Oct. 11, the pledges were presented at a pledge formal held at the Memorial Union.

Serving as counselors in the freshman dormitories are Jud Johnson, Fran Hillborn, Sue Hooley and Char Peters. Peggy Link is the co-editor of The Ariel, our annual.

The Alpha Psi pledges have started work on the homecoming float of which they are traditionally in charge.

The year of 1953 has indeed been a wonderful one for the Gamma Mu Thetas. Last semester ended with many campus honors going to our girls. On May Day, Theta distinguished itself by being the only sorority to have three members tapped by Mortar Board: Lorraine Jorgensen, Liz McDaniel and Molly Turner. The following week, Mortar Board elected Lorraine as president and Molly as historian.

Three Thetas, Sue Patton Donnellan, Mary Lou McKinley and Betty Skeats, were initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, the scholarship fraternity for graduating seniors who had attained a 3.6 over-all average for their college career.

Earlier in the spring we proved that we have beauty as well as brains when Marty Meyer was elected National Flower Queen; Dolly Medlock placed second in the "Miss Maryland" contest, and Liz McDaniel was selected Maryland Commercial Canning Queen. Marty was also voted "Miss Shipwreck" of Sigma Chi, and Elva Paul was elected to the Sigma Chi Sweetheart Court.

This year's Panhellenic president is Molly Turner, who was also elected as historian of the senior class in the campus-wide election in the spring. Three of our aspiring journalists, Eileen Brown, Glory Ann Slone and Liz McDaniel worked as staff editors of the M Book, and Lorraine Jorgensen wound up a very successful year as editor-in-chief of the Old Line, the student magazine.

When A.W.S. elected its four delegates to the National Associated Women Students Convention at Ohio State, three of them were Thetas: Nancy Her-ring, Liz McDaniel and Molly Turner.

University Theatre claimed the talents of Elva Paul as the leading lady in the season's musical, "Connecticut Yankee." Dolly Medlock had the lead in two other U.T. productions, while Betty Skeats was the student director and stage manager for several plays.

Upon returning to the campus in September, we learned that Theta ranked fourth on the scholarship roll of more than 50 groups rated on the University of Maryland campus. The chapter's average was a 2.84.

With our new 30 room Colonial style house nearing completion and with a very interested and active alumnae group backing us, we proceeded to enjoy rushing to the utmost. We are justly proud of our record pledge class of 26 Thetas-to-be: Sarah Abplanalp, Mary Ann Allison, Ann Andrews, Joanne Ashwell, Mary Basford, Dolly Bonnett, Nancy Burke, Joanne Clark, Elaine Davies, Joan Earle, Trenna Emery, Marian Fischer, Margaret Green, Mary Claire Harrison, Marjorie Hutcheson, Buff Kunzig, Druann McCleery, Virginia Miller, Jean Murphy, Pat Myers, Elizabeth Rector, Anne Reed, Darrilyn Sigley, Sally Tolson, Nancy White and Miriam Young.

This fall we were happy to welcome Carole Funk, a transfer from the University of California at Santa Barbara, and to affiliate Ann McIntyre from Randolph-Macon.

Fall is here again and with it has come a burst of activity on the University campus. As always the Gamma Etas are full of enthusiasm and anxious to participate. This eagerness was displayed first back in September by the number of girls who came back to school early to help open the house. The girls worked hard but had fun doing it and the house looks very nice. This year we have a new housemother, Mrs. Emily Clark, replacing Mrs. Nellie Clark who resigned because of ill health. The latter had been with us several years and, of course, we miss her greatly. However we hope our new housemother will be as happy with us as we are with her. We had a tea in her honor recently, at which our district president, Mrs. Stevens, was a welcome guest.

Our social calendar is brim full and there are many plans for future programs. So far we have had one coffee hour after the first football game and plans are afoot for another after the Oct. 17 game. This is homecoming weekend and we will be welcoming back all the alums. Plans are also underway to make a float for the parade which is held in combination with the football rally on the night before the game. Last year we took first place among the sorority floats.

Of course we're all thinking about rushing right now. Round Robins are the first events on the agenda. They will be held on Oct. 24 and 25. Joan Whittemore is our rush chairman.

Our chapter has just had a visit from Mrs. Stevens, district president. She helped us with many problems by speaking to us as a group and by individual conferences with the officers.

Gamma Upsilon's pledges from last year were happy to find that they would be the first on campus to go active. On Sept. 17 initiation ceremonies were held for Cherie Ballantyne, Martha Brundidge, Joyce Bowling, Clare Demaline, Barbara Graham, Barbara Green, Beverly Green, Sue Hanna, Shirley Mancuso, Marlene Milar, Nancy Munn, Peggy Peters, Nancy Reiner, Joanne Roehr, Miffie Shoemaker, Joyce Tyndahl and Diane Wells. An initiation banquet followed in the evening.

Formal rushing began the next day and, after two weeks of parties and open houses concluded by an unforgettable "Pansy Formal," the chapter welcomed 25 pledges. They are: Linda Baldwin, Julia Beeler, Kay Bilderback, Beverly Brafford, Anne Beierline, Susan Brandrup, Maureen Bryan, Judy Frank, Janet Franklin, Harriet Gels, Mary Heck, Celia Irey, Julia Kirn, Shirley Landon, Rosemary Lineweaver, Barbara Magnussen, Joan Moeller, Jane Monroe, Beverly Muter, Barbara Pfiffner, Carolyn Sower, Phyllis Steiner, Nancy Stoddard, Marilyn Tedrow and Polly Welsh.

The chapter is also happy to have Cynthia Vance, a sophomore transfer from Florida State.

Gamma Upsilon, the new chapter at Miami, is extra proud of this pledge class.

Looking back to last spring, Gamma Upsilon has several triumphs to recall. The Theta Quartet, composed of Joyce Bowling, Pat Cabral, Nancy Munn and Joanne Roehr, won the trophy for first place in the sorority quartet contest held during Greek Week. The Thetas worked with Beta Theta Pi fraternity to place first again as "best booth" in the Omicron Delta Kappa annual carnival. The winning booth was an "art gallery" showing baby pictures of campus celebrities and faculty with humorous captions.

In the May Day ceremonies three Thetas were tapped for Cwen, sophomore women's recognition society. The Cwens for this year are Joyce Bowling, Rosemary Lineweaver and Joanne Roehr.

Chosen to be freshman counselors for the school year are Cherie Ballantyne, Martha Brundidge, Joyce Bowling, Rosemary Lineweaver and Miffie Shoemaker. Sharon Sutton was chosen as assistant house chairman of a freshman hall, and Carol Gibbons was elected house chairman of her senior residence hall. Lou John was chosen to serve on house council.

At a chapter picnic held last spring, Marlene Milar was presented with the outstanding pledge award while Kathe Gels was picked as outstanding junior. Miffie Shoemaker's and Cherie Ballantyne's names went on the outstanding pledge scholarship plaque as they tied for first place. The pledge class ranked second on campus out of seventeen sororities in scholarship.

With Homecoming close at hand, the chapter is busy on what it hopes will be another winning float. A Halloween party, hayride-picnic and "Dad's Day" breakfast are among the activities planned for autumn. October 13

JOANNE ROEHR

Michigan

The first thing on the fall agenda was the initiation of three new members: Martha McNally, Ann Bross and Bonnie Bergland.

This fall was the second installment of a trial fall rushing program which we started last year. Whether or not it will be perpetuated is still to be decided, but we are more than satisfied with our pledge class. The following 24 girls pledged Theta on Oct. 4: Carolyn Bahle, Flint; Mary Lee Birmingham, Elizabeth Metcalf and Joan Thomas, Detroit; Margaret Blunt, Albathea, Minn.; Eleanor Burke, Esther Heyt, Nancy Marsh and Joyce Moffatt, Grand Rapids; Janet Fildew and Anne Purdy, Grosse Pointe; Mary Gronberg, Holland; Nancy James, Jackson; Janet Kohlenberg, Two Rivers, Wis.; Judith LeMessurier and Linda Miller, Birmingham; Lynn MacCallum, Midland; Paddy McBride, Lapeer; Marilyn Moore, Port Huron; Cynthia Orr, Battle Creek; Allyn Robinson, Conway; Mary Rupp and Mary Streib, Toledo, Ohio, and Dawn Waldron, Lansing. The pledges were honored by a party given for them by the Sigma Chis.

No sooner was rushing over than we had our Dads up for Fathers' Weekend on Oct. 10. Between the football game with Iowa (a 14-13 thriller), dancing that evening, a Phi Gam serenade, and church the next morning, our Dads not only had a wonderful time but ran most of us ragged in the process. However, we still vote them the best dates ever.

Through all the rush of the first few weeks we were saved again and again by our wonderful new housemother, Mrs. Hayes, from Syracuse University. We feel very fortunate to have her.

Now we are beginning to settle down in earnest to our books, and we look back with pride to the record Pat Raney made last semester—a straight A record! We hope that that record will serve as an incentive to the rest of us this coming semester.

We are already looking forward to Homecoming and what we hope will be a prize-winning display. We also have high hopes of winning our annual Homecoming "Mud Bowl" soccer game with the Collegiate Sorosii. October 13

The officers of Beta Pi started the year off this term by holding an "officer's workshop" during registration week. President Doreen Fante presided, and the meeting consisted of discussion about what the delegates learned from the District I convention this summer, future social functions, business, and the definite duties of each officer. We all felt that this workshop helped a great deal, and we plan to start off every term in the same manner.

Another queen has been added to the list of Theta royalty. Chris Crotty was chosen to reign at the Harvest Ball, an annual all-college fall formal. This is the third year in a row that a Theta has been queen of this Ball.

We chose the MSC-Texas Christian football game as our "Theta Pater" day this year. Our fathers arrived early that Saturday morning and escorted us to Macklin Stadium, where we had a block reserved. Following the victorious yet close game we all returned to the house where a banquet-supper was held, followed by entertainment.

Now we are all busy working on our Homecoming display for the game with Indiana this Saturday, Oct. 17. "Hooiser Looser" is the slogan of our sign. We're having openhouse for the alumnæ and our friends after the game.

On Nov. 1 we are initiating five new Thetas: Carol Rouse, Valerie Erickson, Kay Sheridan, Mary Fagan and Pat Palen.

Although actual rush season doesn't begin until winter term at State, our formal introductory teas take place in October. There are 1700 girls going through rush this year and so we are already planning our parties.

Also on the agenda in the near future is a Faculty Tea, a picnic with the ATOs, State Day and a picnic for some blind school children.

We recently affiliated Carol Goldsword from Ohio Wesleyan. Carol's home is in Cleveland, Ohio.

Marilyn Bintz, accounting major with a 3.9 all-college average was tapped into Mortar Board last spring and has recently been initiated into the organization.

PAT HOEDL

Minnesota

We here at Upsilon of the University of Minnesota got off to a good start with an enthusiastic fall quarter rush, and we are proud of our new pledge class. A great deal of credit goes to chairman of the advisory board, Mrs. Perkins, who gave hour after hour of her time to help us, and to rushing chairman, Sheila Smith, and her assistant, Stephanie Kerr.

The pledges are looking forward to their Theta "debut" at an openhouse for the fraternities on Oct. 12 and at the annual Panhellenic Ball on Oct. 15.

We are making plans for Homecoming, Nov. 7, when Minnesota plays the University of Indiana. Soon the entire chapter will be pounding and painting on Homecoming decorations for the house.

Upsilon is happy to welcome two Theta transfer students: Kay Zimmerman from Beta Sigma chapter at Southern Methodist University, and Barbara Bitters from Alpha Pi chapter at the University of North Dakota.

October 15

KATE MILLETT

Missouri

Alpha Mu Thetas came through with flying colors, and again took a top pledge class. With the combined efforts of the chapter and Peggy Dell Fry, rush chairman, we pledged 28 girls.

The new pledges are: Joyce Chatham and Marcia Randall of St. Joseph; Diane Basler, Webster Groves; Joane Beary, Leslie Flynn, Genie Holmes and Muriel Meeker, Columbia; Sherry Beste and Martha Logan, St. Louis; Carol Bradshaw, Ferguson; Jodie Edwards, Farmington; Sally Gaines, Eleanor Huetel and Jo Ann Tierney, Kirkwood; Sue Gibson, Avondale; Mary Ann Heagerty, Lebanon; Jo Ann Kaiser, Janet Spaid, Carol Van Osdol, Shari Walkley and Cindy Wheat, Kansas City; Sue Lawson, Memphis, Tenn.; Peggy Leonard, Afton; Tudy Otto, Washington; Kelly Saunders, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; Berney Shepard, Purchase, N.Y.; Jane Thomas, Dayton, Ohio and Sondra Walsworth, Marceline.

Congratulations are also in order for Ida Rowland, Nancy Walsworth, Mary Michie, Marilyn Pate and Sue Scofield who were initiated Oct. 4.

Starting the year off with a round of exchange dinners with the fraternities and faculty, we were happy to add to the social calendar a tea for our new housemother, Mrs. Dean Eldred. In the activity whirl, we're proud of Donna Wright, a new member of the cheerleading squad. The new chapter treasurer is Jerry Lawrence.

This fall, Alpha Mu welcomed six transfers: Sue Davis from Sophie Newcomb; Janet Francis, Kansas; Jane Eldred, Tulsa; Georgette Hoagland, Iowa State, and Sue Pierce and Marilyn Windram, both from Washington of St. Louis.

The chapter entertained Columbia alumnae at an informal dinner, Oct. 28. After dinner, pledges were given five minutes to prepare a skit. They were rewarded for their performances by a surprise date with the current beau.

Ring out three cheers for Alpha Nu. Last spring we really brought home the honors galore. Three of our freshmen were selected for Spur (sophomore service honorary). They were: JoAnn LaDuke, Judy Adams and Georgia George. Jeanne Hays and Georgia George were chosen for Alpha Lambda Delta. Georgia, along with everything else, received the jeweled pin from the Mothers' Club for the pledge with the best grades.

Congratulations to Kay Hudson for being elected vice president of ASMSU (associated students' organization), and to Beverly Henne for her position as senior delegate to Central Board. Bev also was awarded the title of "Outstanding Senior Woman" at Matrix Honor Table.

Berta Hueble was selected as 1953 Mardi Gras Queen, and Dorcas Synder was chosen as Pershing Rifle Sweetheart. Newly picked Mortar Board members were: Marilyn Foster and Vivian Sletten. Marilyn was also elected president of the Associated Women Students organization.

Spring quarter also set our new officers to work. Vivian Sletten took over the gavel as president.

Along the line of entertaining spring quarter, the girls outdid themselves at the annual Mothers' Day tea, given for our mothers. We also played hostess to a group of 39 high school girls, who stayed at the house during trackmeet. Our spring dinner-dance was the usual big success. The decorations followed a Mardi Gras theme.

Neva Ross, Harlowton, was pledged in the spring after a week of informal rushing.

During spring quarter our energetic freshmen set to work painting the chapter room.

Fall quarter brought us 22 pledges. They are: Janice Alkire, Carla Clausen, Pat High, Natalie Nordby, Marilyn Shope, Kay Simon, Barbara Tascher (sister of Mary Jo Tascher) and Beverly Vann, all of Missoula; Carol Crippin, Marlene Johnson, Judy Keil, Dee McNally and Shirley North, all of Billings; Marlys Haney, Joan Hoff and Marilyn Leary, all of Butte; Joanne Ainslie, Anaconda; Donna Kaye Bailey (sister of Janet Bailey), Red Lodge; Norma Beatty (sister of Anne Beatty), Helena; Patti Lou Colline, Forsythe; Priscilla Herget, Peoria, Ill., and Kim Williamson, Charlo.

The 1953-1954 school year started with a bang as we practiced skits, had many meetings, midnight snacks and tired girls; rush week was in full swing and such a burst of pep and energy as we exhibited, thanks to our rush chairman, Donna Elliott and our president Gracia Eythe.

On Oct. 20 we pledged 26 girls: Carolyn Bachman, Elizabeth Bock, Judy Bost, Jo Ann Carr, Leigh Cartwright, Roberta Danielson, Dianne DeVriendt, Mary Jean Finney, Barbara Flanagan, Catherine Hodder, Billie Howalt, Alice Howard, Kyle Jeffrey, Jarolyn Johnson, Beth Keenan, Lillian Kitzleman, Dorothy McCandless, Ann Miner, Gloria Minor, Sue Muelhaupt, Diane Peterson, Sandra Saylor, Beverly Soderburg, Kiley Sprague, Patricia Stafford and Katherine Tiegler. As class officers the pledges elected Sue Muelhaupt their president; vice president, Beth Keenan; secretary, Carolyn Bachman; treasurer, Lillian Kitzleman; activities chairman, Judy Bost, and social chairman, Barbara Flanagan.

Always there are many contests for many occasions. Our candidate for Homecoming Queen is Cynthia Holyoke. Sue Muelhaupt is candidate for Calendar Girl, and Ann Skold will represent Theta as the "Girl Most Likely to Stop a Hurricane" for the Oct. 17 game with Miami.

One of our many thrills this fall was the Oct. '8 initiation of Joan Clauson, Jane Campbell, Dee Jones and Mary Towne. Following the ceremony the new initiates ate dinner with their sorority mothers, and the seniors attended a class dinner where plans were made for the senior "skip" to be taken in October.

This year Sadie Hawkins Day was celebrated by an inter-sorority party hop in which Theta participated, serving refreshments and decorating the house in Lil' Abner fashion. That same morning the pledges "skipped" and left the house in an uproar.

Homecoming will be here soon and tentative plans have started under the direction of Ann Lindley and the decorating committee. On Oct. 31 we will honor the fathers at a Dad's Day luncheon before the Kansas football game.

Two welcome additions to our chapter are Ann Sidner who transferred from William and Mary, and Patricia Keithley, a transfer from Washburn. Ann will be among our three countesses in the Aksarben court. Judy Flansburg and Marilyn Morgan, a graduate, will also be Aksarben Countesses.

We regretted the resignation of our treasurer Harriett Wenke, who will be married in November. Our newly elected treasurer is Rachel Foote, assisted by Kathleen Kerr. Kathy will also be our rush chairman for next year.

Fall is a busy month full of fun, meeting new people or seeing old friends, but we all look to winter and formals to be included in the festivities of Christmas and the new year.

To end spring activities, Beta Mu was the hostess chapter for the District Convention. Districts VII and IX were included in this convention, which was held at Squaw Valley, Calif.

Beta Mu had a very successful rush season, under the direction of Cyd Chapman, rush chairman. Our new girls are: Nancy Anderson, Lila Bonafus, Donna Butler, Charlene DeBolt, Betty Landers, Yvonne Lartey, Anita Munoz, Diane Spina and Pat Heese, all from Reno; Virginia Gregory, Sharon Long, Carol Mathieson and Margaret Stodieck, all from Carson City; Jessica Bishop, Smith Valley; Pat Cordes, Gardnerville; Ann Hyland, Yerington; Margaret Jones, Boulder City; Susan Thornberry, Las Vegas; Jo Ann Seaberry, Sparks; Jay Powell, Fallon; Regina Olson, Fernley; Jewel Miller, Winnemucca; Charlotte Lemaire and Gloria Urriola, Battle Mountain; Karen Wayman and Mary Lou Wines, Elko; Shirley Edison, Oregon; Harriet Ish, San Francisco, Calif.; Shari Reynolds, Truckee, Calif., and Shirley McKelvey, Bakersfield, Calif.

A barbecue and slumber party, with skits and singing, was held in honor of the pledges. Both pledges and new initiates were feted at a steak banquet. Dean Mobley was the honored guest. Newly initiated members are: Annette Dickson, Barbara Foster and Georgia Meyers.

Graduated last spring were Arline Cave, Mardelle Leonesio, Carol Oldham, Mimi Smith and Jean Wilton.

Thetas elected to Mortar Board last spring were: Andre Anchart, Rosemary Cochran, Norma Etchegoyhen and Leah Gregory.

University of Nevada scholarships were awarded in June to Andre Anchart, Rosemary Cochran, Norma Etchegoyhen, Leah Gregory, Karen Phillips, Blanche Pichhi, Sharon Thompson and Pam Weyman.

Our chapter hopes to inspire gifts from alumnae and other sources, by being the first to donate money for furnishings of the new student union building by selling Nevada day tickets.

Homecoming is just around the corner and the chapter is busy planning a skit and working on a float.

Karen Wayman has been selected as our candidate for Homecoming queen. Since the male students will choose the queen, Karen has been invited to dinners at each fraternity house, and shortly before the election we will introduce her to the campus members at an openhouse.

Elise Valentine has transferred to Beta Xi, at the University of California at Los Angeles.

October 15

BARBARA ROHLFING

Newcomb

The new school year got off to a good start for Alpha Phi with the pledging of these 25 girls: Camilla Ambrose, Shelia Aragon, Yvonne Arnoult, Sylvia Bledsoe, Kay Chaffe, Liz Cire, Anne Critz, Jane Dezendorf, Estelle Faivre, Annette Fortier, Amy Frederick, Holly Hilliard, Kate Leech, Carol McDonald, Mary Ann McIntyre, Yvonne Nassar, Sally Jo Osborne, Gail Price, Alice Rahm, Joanne Rizzo, Joel Ann Selby, Madolene Stone, Phyllis Ward, Marion Watson and Ann Wheelahan.

A long-standing wish will finally come true soon when we obtain possession of a new house. This is being made possible by the efforts of our loyal and hard-working alumnae. With this exciting prospect in mind, we have made many plans for wonderful times in our new house. We first intend to celebrate with an openhouse for the members of all the other sororities on campus.

Right now we are in the midst of practicing for Song Fest. Ruth Hendricks is our leader.

First semester rushing ended wonderfully for Alpha Pi chapter. Our new pledges are: Mary Bohrer, Rosemary Burke, Constance Carignan, Margaret Carr, Yvonne Drees, Valere Johnson, Marianne Knudsen, Evelyn Rhode, Marcia Rhode, Mary Ellen Schlechter, Dorothy Smith, Patricia Sullivan, Sue Whipple and Grace Zeman.

We are especially proud of Ruth Nelson and Dorothy Jarman who were both elected to Mortar Board and Grey Gowns last spring. Ruth is also president of Pi Omega Pi, business education fraternity, and Dorothy was chosen editor of the 1954 Dacotah annual. Also outstanding in campus-wide activities were Peggy Arnold, Adele Stewart Carr, and LoAnn Burman. Peggy was elected to Phi Upsilon Omicron, professional home economics, and Adele is the new president of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music, while LoAnn became a new member of this same organization.

Last spring we combined with Beta Theta Pi fraternity to put on a successful Flickertail Follies act. We called it "Rampart Revelry" and although it wasn't the winner we had a lot of fun putting it together.

Also on the agenda for early spring was the initiation on March 8 of Zona Zahl, Patricia Scott, Marlene Smith, Kathleen O'Keefe, Donna Whisenand, Charlotte Upham, Elizabeth Matthews, Donna Stron, Diane Townsend, Barbara Knight, Loretta Leff, Wilma Lambert and Joan Shide. Joan was also awarded the scholarship cup as the pledge with the highest average.

March 9 was the installation of the officers for the coming year. Betty Ouradnik is our new president; Ruth Nelson, vice president; Peggy Arnold, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Jarman, secretary; Marilyn Meyers, treasurer; Helen Bohrer, house manager; Joanne Thompson, Panhellenic delegate; Pat Scott, editor; Elizabeth Matthews, chaplain, and Donna Whisenand, archivist.

Fast approaching on our social calendar is the annual Halloween party. We are also looking forward to a visit from the new president of District 8, Mrs. Ganz, sometime in October.

The beginning of a new school year brings new pledges, and Gamma Nu is proud of these newcomers: Wilma Husband and Beverly Lind, both of Cavalier; Ila Langseth, Wahpeton; Kathlene Marquart, and Mary Peterson, both of Fargo; Loretta Bye, Oakes, and Dianna Lendobeja, Thief River Falls, Minn.

Initiated into Guidon, which is an auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade, R.O.T.C., were Sally Lohman and Sonia Swanke.

Sonia Swanke, who is also a student senator, has been chosen as cheerleader for "Ol' State" this year.

Renee Baker, who is editor of The Spectrum, our weekly paper, will represent North Dakota State at the Associated Collegiate Press conference in Chicago Oct. 14-18.

Renee Baker

Grace Lehman has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Student Union Board. Our new Student Union is to have its "Grand Opening" on Oct. 31, our Homecoming.

We at Gamma Nu chapter are most happy with our new housemother, Mrs. Benton Horton. Mrs. Nelson, our faithful cook is back for her eleventh year at our house.

Twenty-nine. Thirty. Thirty-one. The cheer went up as the last pledge walked in the door. It was Sept. 27 and Tau chapter had just welcomed into the house five juniors, five sophomores, and 21 freshmen hailing from nine different states.

We are proud to introduce the following pledges: Kathy Argersinger, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Judith Bach and Cornelia Ann Ross, both of Milwaukee, Wis.; Lucy Bates, East Lansing, Mich.; Mary Alice Bowlus, Canton, O.; Judith Lynn Catterton and Marilyn Hansen, both of Indianapolis, Ind.; Gwyn Davies, Racine, Wis.; Suzanne Davies, Dayton, O.; Peggy Fuller, Sandusky, O.; Nancy Golding, Summit, N.J.; Ann Goodwin, Des Moines, Ia.; Winifred Guthrie and Sheila Todd, both of Evanston; Ellen Head, Cincinnati, O.; Susan Henoeh, Milwaukee, Wis.; Dorothy Ann Hill, Wayne; Gail Johnson, Pat Healy and Carole Lundgren, all of Chicago; Barbara McDougal, Glencoe; Ann Nugen, Auburn, Ind.; Patsy O'Madigan, Bloomfield Hills, Mich.; Anne Patrick, Decatur; Peggy Pierce, Shelbyville, Ky.; Joan Potter, Birmingham, Mich.; Diane Sawyer, Tarrytown, N.Y.; Sinclair Smith, Amarillo, Tex.; Sally Strothman, Barrington; Jane Warne, Pasadena, Calif., and Elizabeth Ann Waterfield, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

A vote of "best dates of the year" went to the 24 dads who stayed in the Theta house for Tau's Fathers' Weekend, Oct. 23-24. Festivities included a banquet, exchange of entertainment between daughters and dads, initiation of new fathers into "The Tom Kats," and the Northwestern-Pittsburgh football game.

The social whirl is now building up to our fall formal at the Edgewater Beach hotel, Nov. 13. So far we've had exchanges with seven fraternities, a dinner honoring our 11 new transfers, a Mothers' club dessert, and three post-game openhouses besides our Fathers' Weekend. Great fun!

A feather in Tau's cap from last spring was the tapping of president Pat Yates to Mortar Board. Kay Longenecker gets cheers for being elected to May court last spring and for gracing the cover of Newsweek in her role of Northwestern cheerleader. Also, Ebbis McGuinnis was elected "Hello Girl" at the sophomore cotillion—an honor going to the most popular girl in the sophomore class.

Our kite has caught the wind—we're hoping for smooth flying the rest of the year!

NANCY FREDERICK

Ohio State

The girls of Alpha Gamma opened the fall quarter with rushing. Those girls whom we pledged are: Patricia Allen, Janice Bailey, Mary Lou Biehn, Elizabeth Bissell, Louise Brand, Nancy Davis, Barbara Dilts, Nancy Dilts, Elizabeth Evans, Martha Green, Judith Jones, Shirley Jones, Janet Kathe, Gwen Knox, Barbara Koch, Sue Lowry, Ann Macy, Joann McKenzie, Suzanne Michael, Lawanda Mockbee, Ruthie Moorman, Carole Mumm, Katherine Nolte, Jane Porter, Jeanne Ramseyer, Penny Rollins, Carmelita Rose, Nancy Rowland, Salley Seidner and Joan Tempel.

During spring quarter many Thetas were chosen for membership in various honoraries. Margorie Pfeiffer, Alpha Gamma's president and chairman of the social board, and Jane Wheeler, vice president of Alpha Gamma and president of Red Cross, were tapped for Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. Mary Weaver is president of Chimes, junior women's honorary. Three girls were tapped for Mirrors, sophomore women's honorary: Patty Moorman, sophomore secretary of the Women's Self Government Association; Sharon Maloney, sophomore secretary of the Student Senate; and Mary Taylor, treasurer of Alpha Lambda Delta. Jan Swartz, Mary Taylor and Marilyn Hall were selected for the freshman women's scholastic honorary, Alpha Lambda Delta; Marilyn was elected president of that honorary.

The Makio, our school year book, chose Marilyn Van Voorhis as its queen of the year. Jean Spencer was on the Makio Court.

Mrs. C. A. Young is Alpha Gamma's new house-mother this year. On Oct. 18 an openhouse will be held in her honor.

Singing "So ring out three cheers for Theta . . ." 51 Gamma deus excitedly crowded around the door at 179 W. Winter St. on the evening of Oct. 5. After three weeks packed full with rushing activities, the big reward had come as we welcomed the 28 rushees who had accepted our bids to pledge.

Donning pledge pins that night were: Marjorie Armington, Cleveland Heights; Carole Bartels and Pat Lacy, both of Dayton; Beverly Behrens and Sue Spangler, both of Lancaster; Jeanne Bothwell (daughter of Betty Storer Bothwell), Pittsburgh, Pa.; Ann Buckingham (daughter of Janet Arnold Buckingham) and Martha Rinehart (daughter of Anne Snodgrass Rinehart), both of Cincinnati; Madeline Burgermeister, Mentor; Ena Casey, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Janice Eddy (sister of Jean), Ridgewood, N.J.; Julia Hardesty, Clarksburg, W.Va.; Beverly Hawes, Cranford, N.J.; Jane Hester (sister of Bea Hester Brown), Grosse Pointe Park, Mich.; Marianne McCombs, Lyndhurst; Marjorie Mangus and Marjorie Miller (daughter of Ernestine Biddle Miller), both of Columbus; Priscilla Meecham, Rochester, N.Y.; Shirley Mead, Akron; Beth Nank (sister of Connie), Chagrin Falls; Carol Palmer, Worthington; Jane Pengel, Matewan, N.J.; Ann Sharp, Hudson; Ledelle Shirey, Westport, Conn.; Carol Sparks, Marion; Laurie Townsend, Kensington, Md.; Jo Lynn Watts, Fostoria, and Jean Wood, Shaker Heights.

On Oct. 16 we initiated three girls who were pledged last spring. Our new members are Ruth Appel, Jean Ihrig, and Carol Jann.

Another new face around the Theta house this year is that of Mrs. Mary Rootes, our housemother. She, along with the pledge class, was honored at our annual pledge banquet and an all-campus openhouse, both held Oct. 11.

The pledges showed their talents in their first pledge show Oct. 24, when the whole chapter spent a sleepless night at Butler Farm. Our second big event of the fall was a date party at Holiday Hill Nov. 15. The pledge class held an exchange cleaning with the Phi Gam pledges, two cozies for the other sorority pledge classes and several parties with fraternity pledge classes.

Proudly displayed on our mantel during rushing was the Panhellenic scholarship cup, which we won last year with a 3.1 average. We were also boasting last year when all 29 pledges made their grades first semester and the entire pledge class was initiated Feb. 28. Jean Eddy was model pledge.

Two seniors, Dottie Huff and Anita Cavagnaro, were graduated with Phi Beta Kappa keys last June.

This fall Jean Eddy and Jan Lindquist were initiated into Phi Society, sophomore scholastic honorary.

Our election campaign last spring brought good results and now we have Maribeth Amrhein on student council as women's representative-at-large. Flo Murphy and Joyce Sandbo are serving as student government committee chairmen; Nancy Champion edited the student government handbook. Marianna Gosnell is publicity chairman and Betty Ann Price is representing the sophomore class on the Association of Women Students.

Representing Theta on the school paper are M. K. Murphy, associate editor, and Nancy Atma, national advertising manager. Connie Nank is a section editor for the yearbook. Marianna Gosnell is art editor of the humor magazine.

Thetas are again cheering Wesleyan's teams to victory. This year we have four of the six cheerleaders—Flo Murphy, Mickey Stahl, Cy Wagner and Rose Marie Smith. Also, three pledges, Marty Rinehart, Sue Spangler and Madey Burgermeister, are on the freshman cheering squad.

Marching in front of the band at football games this fall were three Theta majorettes: Betty Ann Price, Barb Pritchard and Margie Cooke. Bev Behrens and Marianne McCombs are reserve majorettes.

Margie Cooke was elected to the Homecoming court this fall. Pat Hopkins was a queen for the Brown Jug races here in September. Last spring Kathy Cannon represented our chapter in the Bijou (yearbook) beauty contest, and Mariette Schnieder and Sue Boyd served as track queens.

Two of our most outstanding seniors are wearing Mortar Board pins this year. Joyce Sandbo and Marianna Gosnell were two of the nine juniors capped last May. Other new members of honoraries include: Alpha Epsilon Rho, radio, Joyce Sandbo; Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism, Bea Hester Brown, Anne Saville, Marianna Gosnell and M. K. Murphy. Delta Phi Delta, art honorary, has elected Cheryl Clark vice president and Marianna Gosnell treasurer. Jean Eddy, Nancy Atma and Midge Gilliland were selected for membership in the sophomore commission of the YWCA. Flo Murphy is YW program coordinator.

Leading our chapter this year are Joyce Sandbo, president; Pat Hopkins, vice president; Sally Kimmel, corresponding secretary; Anne Saville, recording secretary, and Pat Nichols, treasurer.

Alpha Omicron began the school year with 37 points in their favor. Preferential dinner for 37 pledges climaxed a week of hard work and lots of fun. New pledges are: Carole Anderlitch and Ann Brightwell, both of Fort Worth, Tex.; Virginia Sue Bailey and Darlene Calmes, both of Duncan; Ann Blanks, McAlister; Johanna Blanton (sister of Mary), Pershing; Geraldine Bollinger (daughter of Elizabeth Mann Bollinger), Peggy Rucks and Jenny Ware, all of Oklahoma City; Nanci Booth, Wewoka; Nancy Bronough (sister of Cora), Holdenville; Betty Brown, Sharon Haddock (sister of Sandra Haddock Hine) and Katherine Cowan, all of Shawnee; Jill Dunn, Clovis, N.M.; Joan Everett, Winnipeg, Canada; Kathy Finly (daughter of Jane Piper Finly), Wichita, Kan.; Gayle Freeman, Pauls Valley; Pat Fullerton, Miami; Ann Garner (daughter of Dorothy Taft Garner) and Ann Oliphant, both of Norman; Virginia Gresham (sister of Genevieve Gresham Phillips), Guthrie; Jane Harrell, Ada; Sherrie Harris, Ponca City; Caroline Meminger (daughter of Ruth Moore Meminger), Atoka; Liz Adwan and Mary Muldrow (daughter of Margaret Danenburg Muldrow), both of Seminole; Mary Jane Roan, Cordell; Helen Dee Sullivan, Newkirk; Judy Thomas, Altus; Mary Fields, Fran Searle, Jackie Warren (sister of Jeannie), Joan Taylor and Mary Carolyn Wright, all of Tulsa; Gaynelle Willis, Muskogee; and Charlotte Winsette, Memphis, Tenn.

Leader of the chapter for this year will be Phyllis Williams, president. The other officers are: Laura Clarke, vice president; Kelly Grisso, pledge trainer; Ann Stanley, corresponding secretary; Boo Plummer, recording secretary; Dorothy Cline, treasurer; Kathy Moore, house manager; Sue Sexton, scholarship chairman; Begie McCall, rush chairman; Janet Hayes, social chairman; Jeannie Warren, program chairman; Marty Spilman, editor; Sue Sparks, parliamentarian; Ann Grisso, archivist; Eb Lane, fraternity education; Marth Huffman, activities chairman; Sue Sparks, intramurals chairman; Jane Hamilton, house problems; Norine Castle, Associated Women Student's representative; Carolyn Hayes, public relations; Ann Cox, librarian; Carolyn Peek, historian; Cheri Davenport, chaplain, and Ann Pearson and Eb Lane, marshals.

Pledge officers are: Jenny Ware, president; Ann Garner, vice president; Jane Harrell, secretary-treasurer; Mary Fields, social chairman; Ann Oliphant, song leader; Virginia Sue Bailey, junior Panhellenic representative, and Joan Everet and Charlotte Winsette, informers. The members have a hard time keeping up with the pledges. The pledges have already planned programs for the Halloween party Oct. 30, and a very special skit for the dads on the university's Dad's Day.

Mary Blanton carried the queen honors for Theta this year. Mary was chosen Lambda Chi White Rose queen, and was also a Sooner yearbook beauty.

Theta took her share of B. W. O. V.s with six members: Boo Plummer, Ann Richards, Marilyn Huntress, Margaret Long, Pat Delaney and Caroline Clarke.

Now that it's fall, football is again the main item on everyone's calendar. For the Notre Dame game the Thetas sparked sorority school spirit by being the first sorority on campus to put out beat Notre Dame signs. For a week the house proudly wore two very large signs: "Pick the Irish Clean" and "Beat Notre Dame." Each sign was approximately 12 feet long and 5 feet high. The next big game was the Texas game, and everyone returned from Dallas with wonderful memories and brand new Theta friends from Texas University and Southern Methodist University.

When it comes to news from Beta Zeta, the most-talked-about-events still include the coronation of De Lois Faulkner as Queen of American Royal and the summer rush planned by rush chairman Carol York which concluded this fall with the pledging of 33 girls.

De Lois, a junior student in commerce, was selected in October to serve as queen of the American Royal Livestock show in Kansas City. She was chosen from a group of 33 candidates. Last year De Lois was one of the yearbook queens and also queen of Blue Key, national men's service organization.

Officers of the pledge class are: Edwina Harrison, president; Sally Rowe, vice president; Marianna Bechtel, secretary-treasurer; Sue Schrimsher, social chairman; Beverlyn Watson, song leader; Rae Crownover, chaplain; Barbara Jo Autry, junior Panhellenic representative, and Donna Lou Ellis, activities chairman.

The members are busy too. Last semester found nine Thetas eligible for membership in Orange and Black Quill, sophomore scholastic honor society. They are: Sally Bevins, Sue Bradbury, Joanne Goff, Pat Horton, Carol Ketcham, Helen Madamba, Nancy Pitts, Shirlee Stoll and Carol York.

Marilyn Morse is president of Panhellenic and secretary of Student Union Activities Board. Shirley Winans and Jacque McKenney were tapped for Mortar Board. Shirley is also cochairman for the campus religious emphasis week. Carol Kleppinger received the Danforth Foundation award for the outstanding freshman in the Division of Home Economics. Nancy Pitts is campus Chest coordinator. Mary Lou Benson was chosen for membership in Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity.

New Beta Zeta officers include, Carol Thompson, house manager; Nancy Ingham and De Lois Faulkner, junior and senior Panhellenic representatives; Marilyn Morse, fraternity education; Shirley Winans, activities chairman; Ruth Ann McQuistian, parliamentarian; Jane Luthi, archivist, and Pat Dryden, scholarship chairman.

Socially speaking there has been a variety of events this semester, directed by social chairman, Helen Madamba. Early in September we had a Sunday afternoon tea honoring our new housemother Mrs. L. R. Brammer.

Two new ventures highlighted October weekends. The first Saturday of the month the pledges and members entertained the pledges' parents at the first annual Pledge Parents' Day. Activities centered around the college football game in the afternoon and a buffet dinner following it. This is in addition to our annual Parents' Day in the spring semester. The next weekend the pledges, members, and their dates attended the first Tri-Sorority dance, sponsored jointly by Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, and Kappa Alpha Theta. Also in October was the third annual Faculty Tea.

In November we held a pledge-member retreat before our house party. Freshman pledges living in the dorms and in town moved into the house for Friday afternoon, night and Saturday. December 12 is set for the Christmas formal.

This year we are striving to promote better pledge-member relationship and understanding—since the girls living out of the house do not have the opportunity to participate as much in chapter activities. The weekend retreat in November was a successful contribution. In addition to this we have had, at least once a month, an informal cokes and cookies get-together following regular meetings.

At present our main concern is scholarship, trying to maintain the average that won for us the two-year scholarship plaque at District XII convention this summer.

Fall term is here again! The girls of Alpha Xi chapter are looking with pride upon the nineteen girls pledged during rush week. They are: Barbara Jo Beaver, Shirley Bier (sister of Pat Sheely), Betty Ann Dobler, Carolyn Everett, Harriett Flynn (daughter of Harriett Adams Flynn), Mary Gerlinger (sister of Ann Gerlinger), Mary Heideman (daughter of Marion Luthy Heideman), Ann R. Johnston, Helen Jane Johnston (sister of Eleanor Johnston VanHouten), Carol Kern, Julianne Lewis (daughter of Dorothy Duncan Lewis), Marion McDowell (daughter of Ersie Frauger McDowell), Donna Organ, Sara Price, Suzanne Robertson, Sally Thompson, Cynthia Vincent, Margaret Ann Wilson and Barbara Wrightson (daughter of Elizabeth Burke Wrightson). A great deal of credit for the pledging of these girls goes to our rush chairman, Florence Wright.

The next major event which the entire campus is looking forward to is Homecoming weekend. This promises to be quite a time for the Thetas. Dorothy Kopp is the general co-chairman, and Marcia Tamisie, Ann Blackwell, Ann Gerlinger and Ann Hopkins are committee heads.

Also on the "activity" list, we find that Amphibians, the swimming honorary, has invited Sally Jo Plummer, Barbara Wrightson and Shirley Bier to membership. Ann Hopkins was recently tapped for Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary.

Although fall term has started off with a bang for the Alpha Xi's, it is hard to forget the honors we took last spring term. One of the most exciting was Joan Walker's reign as Junior Weekend Queen. That weekend was full of activities, including the Junior Prom, the All-Campus Sing, the various openhouses and the Float Parade. Sally Haseltine served as chairman of the parade. Also during Junior Weekend, both Joan and Sally were tapped for Mortar Board, the senior women's honorary.

Francis Gilmore was elected spring term to Phi Beta Kappa.

Thetas tapped for membership in Phi Theta Upsilon were Ann Blackwell and Dorothy Kopp, Kwama, the sophomore women's honorary, tapped Paula Curry and Jo Kopp. The membership in both these honoraries is based on scholarship, activities, and service to the school.

Last March, Barbara Keelan was elected to serve as president of the Y.W.C.A. this year. Other major campus offices went to Ann Blackwell, junior representative to the A.S.U.O. Senate, and to Paula Curry, sergeant-at-arms of the A.W.S. cabinet. Paula was also elected to a position on the Co-op Board. Mary Waddell, this year's house president, was elected president of the Heads of Houses.

Each year the house awards the Sophomore ring to the most outstanding sophomore for her work in the chapter. Last year there were two such girls, Ann Bankhead and Joan Honeywell. Jane Bergstrom received the Freshman Plaque for the outstanding freshman.

Top grades on campus for the entire school year were earned by Beta Epsilon chapter when we made a house average slightly above "B" last term. This was the third consecutive term that we copped top honors for scholarship. An event of spring term was our scholarship dinner when those above house average ate steak for dinner and mush was served to the rest. Diane Griswold earned the cup given to the freshman with the highest grades.

A vigorous and active rush period the second week of school found us with 25 new pledges. They are Lucile Baker, Cornelius; Carol Bates, Medford; Julie Beacon and Nan Pitman, Eugene; Barbara Benson, Sally Gabriel, Diane Higgins, Diane Hyland, Mary Johnson, Betty Silva and Pat Veach, all of Portland; Nan Gilfillan, Sue Woods and Cathy Curtz, Corvallis; Virginia Lively and Patsy Shyder, Salem; Pat Mathews, Astoria; Lois McKinney, Roseburg; Sue Smiley, Parkrose; Margaret Roe, Lafayette, Calif.; Peggy Brown, Berkeley, Calif.; Judy Hancock, Alhambra, Calif.; Sherry Edwards, Long Beach, Wash.; Elaine Captain, Longview, Wash., and Mary Hanigan, Cathlamet, Wash. We've already had a picnic with our new pledges, and we're planning a "teddy bear" fire-side at the house for them.

Spring initiates were Sally Jo Scott, Barbara Luebke, Shirley Whitted and Nancy Paulson.

Beta Epsilon is looking forward to a tea for our new housemother, Mrs. Swenson. We're also awaiting the annual Nickel Hops, when fellows come 'round to the women's living groups to dance for a nickel. On our social schedule, too, is an evening of skits and entertainment for the members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. They bought this entertainment which we donated for the United Campus Fund drive auction this fall.

Carolyn Colby was chairman of the drive, and she also heads the Memorial Union public relations committee. Patty Daum is second vice president of the student body, and Barbara Luebke holds a major office in the Associated Women Students. Pat Veach and Sherry Edwards are freshman class officers, and Judy Hancock is chairman of the freshman dance.

Football season sees our two rally squad members, Marlene Hankins and Patty Keller, leading spirit for the team. Rosemary Murray and Janet Woolcutt were chairmen of New Student week committees, and our grease-paint girls, Nancy Rearden and Marlene Hankins, are rehearsing their parts in "Goodbye, My Fancy."

The spring term augured well for the fall for the Beta Eta chapter.

Socially, we had parties with Sigma Chi and with the Miami Triad to celebrate the member fraternities' foundings, a party to inaugurate the festivities of Ivy weekend with three other fraternities, and one other party with Psi Upsilon. As a chapter we had a wonderful father-daughter banquet at the end of April to which 20 fathers came. We also gave a tea for visiting students on High School Day in May.

Everyone, including our active alumnae, pitched in to give a highly successful bridge, the proceeds of which went to our philanthropy.

We were very fortunate office-wise and queen-wise, having had Luchie Coady as the Miami Triad queen and Mary Elberty as the sophomore weekend queen. As officers of the Women's Athletic Association, our Ann Fogarty will be president, Kay Connor, secretary, and Luchie Coady, treasurer. As class officers we will have Janet Loucks as vice president of the senior class, Sandy Bennett as vice president of the junior class, and Carolyn Graham as treasurer of the sophomore class. For the Women's Student Government Association, Ann Fogarty will act as chairman of Freshman Week, and Janet Loucks will head Freshman Camp. Busy Janet will also be secretary of Panhellenic Association. A special honor was accorded to Elaine Vonderlindt by our WSGA who asked her to organize the University of Pennsylvania's heretofore unorganized healing programs. The Beta Etas will be represented in the Mortar Board Society by Janet Loucks, on the junior honorary Sphinx and Key by Luchie Coady, and on the sophomore's honorary Campus Committee by Elaine Vonderlindt.

Our good fortune did not end with the spring semester's close. By the time most of us returned this fall, the house had a new roof; several of the rooms had been repainted; there were new rugs in the halls, and a myriad of other smaller items had been added to transform the house. We are very proud of it.

Rushing is to begin in another week, so most of our time has been spent in preparation for these important two weeks. We did take time though to have tea for the Thetas from Penn State who were able to come in for the Penn-Penn State game.

Spring found Beta Phi with renewed energy last semester as we plunged into a round of activities that kept us at a merry pace until vacation jobs and travels called.

April 11 to 18 was a busy time as Greek Week consumed our energy. We participated in a clean-up-the-town campaign with other Greek groups. All the while we were practicing for the IFC-Panhel Sing, an annual feature of Greek Week. Barbara Wallace, our song leader, kept us on our toes all the way up to the finals April 12 when we placed second.

On April 14 we joined with Sigma Alpha Epsilon in sponsoring a semi-formal faculty reception at the SAE house. Next came our Theta weekend April 24-26. Friday night we entertained our dates at a doggie roast. A banquet Saturday night was followed by the Theta Formal at the Sigma Pi house. We had spent most of the day giving the house a "Mexican Fiesta" atmosphere but weren't too tired to enjoy the evening's fun and a slumber party afterwards at Pat Gilbert's parents' home in town.

Next on the calendar was the District III convention held here at State May 1-3. We were proud and happy to welcome Mrs. Doris Hendee Jones, district president, who presided and Mrs. Betty Lockridge Hogate, grand second vice president, who delivered the keynote address. Representatives of Iota, Chi, Beta Eta and Beta Phi and the alumnae delegates attended the convention. Other national officers who were able to be here were Mrs. Lillian Wait Wilson, national philanthropic chairman and Miss Marjorie Montrose, chairman of press relations.

Mothers' Day Weekend, held May 8-10 last spring, is an annual affair at Penn State. The principal feature is the crowning of the May Queen, performed this year by Beta Phi's Joan Hutchon, then president of the Women's Student Government Association. A number of Beta Phi's also were named to the honor court for the May Queen. Before the May Day coronation ceremony we gave a Mothers' Day tea in the suite.

The next big campus event was Spring Week, May 11-17. Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower touched off the annual festival by crowning Beta Phi's Madeleine Sharp as Miss Penn State. We joined Delta Tau Delta in sponsoring a Carnival Booth and a float for Spring Week parade. Nancy Hagy was co-chairman of the All-College Spring Week parade committee.

On May 24 we held our Senior Banquet at the State College Hotel. Then all too soon came graduation on June 4. Reluctance to see the 14 seniors leave was coupled with pride in the naming of Joan Hutchon and Marian Whiteley to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, Barbara Cole to Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi, and Bernie Fulton to Phi Beta Kappa.

With the return to school this fall we found ourselves immediately immersed in preparations for rushing which began Sept. 19. It continued to Oct. 1 when we happily ribboned 17 outstanding girls. Our eighteenth prize was Millicent Benner, a transfer from Gamma Mu chapter at the University of Maryland.

Pledges are Barbara Easter, Kenmore, N.Y.; Patricia Farrell, State College; Janet Feaster, Wallingford; Kathleen Greytok, West Reading; Shirley Johnson, Brockport; Elizabeth Jones, Norristown; Elizabeth Kraabel, Washington, D.C.; Jane Lamont and Nancy Shafer, Allentown; Norma Laughner, Coraopolis; Ann Lederman, Glenside; Zondra Lee, Stroudsburg; Janet Ramandanes, Erie; Roberta Sankey, Wilkinsburg; Barbara Stock, Pittsburgh; Dixie Waring, Shawnee-on-Delaware, and Nancy Lee, Altoona.

Pledging was held Oct. 9. Three nights later we initiated Patricia Shelly, Suzanne Brosseau and Francis White who were pledged last spring. Sue was a Theta pledge at the University of Massachusetts, Gamma Eta chapter, before she transferred to Penn State.

We were entertained by the Delta Tau Deltas Oct. 14 at a pig roast at Whipples' Dam and by Pi Kappa Phi Oct. 21. We entertained the Tau Kappa Epsilons Oct. 28 and have planned parties for the Beta Theta Pis and Alpha Sigma Phis.

Many honors have been bestowed upon Beta PHS since early last spring. Barbara Wallace was elected president of the Women's Recreation Association. Corky Pettittout was named chairman of Judicial, tapped for Scrolls, women's activities honorary society, and elected to Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary society. Juliana Fees, our president, was tapped for Mortar Board and elected to Pi Gamma Alpha, fine arts society. Barbara Patton, Jeannette Nitrauer, Dorothy Swanson and Nancy Ward were tapped for Chimes, junior women's activities honorary society. Dorothy was also elected to the School of Education Student Council and Nancy to the Liberal Arts School Student Council and as alternate to Judicial.

Betsy Housum was elected to Omicron Nu, home economics senior honorary society. Nancy Hagy was named to the senior board of Proth, campus humor magazine.

In addition, our scholastic average jumped markedly when 10 girls were named to Deans' Lists.

Alpha Omega chapter increased its number by 13 on May 2 when the following girls were initiated: Mary Jo Proudfoot, Jean Henry, Sue Volpe, Carolyn Roberts, Marilyn Moser, Vira Mosberger, Marcia Harpster, Nancy Evans, Donna Kane, Nancy Pounds, Sheila Cohen, Nancy Hittle and Nan Taylor.

We did very well during Spring Carnival Week, giving our show, a gay nineties revue, with Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and placing third. Another prize was awarded to use for our scenery display, and Carolyn Roberts was in the court of the Spring Queen! All in all, it was a wonderful week! At the end of the school year, at their spring formal, the Phi Gam's chose Dorie Secor as their sweetheart. This fall, another Theta, Carol Woodgate, was chosen sweetheart of Phi Delta Theta.

Patti Bowers was elected president of our chapter late last term. Irene Marsico and Peggy Sechler accompanied Patti to the District IV convention at White Sulphur Springs, Pa. Our first meeting this fall was highlighted by Peggy's report of their busy weekend.

From June 6 to 13, about 20 Thetas swam, sunned, and generally enjoyed themselves at Van Buren, N.Y. They came to summer meeting, July 17, with many stories of their fun and urged everyone to go next summer.

We're very proud of so many of our chapter holding school offices this year. There are four senior mentors, a member of Mortar Board, the vice president of the senior class, and various members of class committees and members of the Women's Self-Government Association.

We arrived at school this fall to find our new house-mother, Mrs. MacCrum, just as nice as she could possibly be! Mrs. MacCrum's daughter was a Theta at Pitt, and was graduated in 1949. Maybe that's why she seems quite at home with all of us!

October 20

Mums and pennants and falling leaves have marked a busy season for Alpha Chi. A series of open-houses after the home football games will be highlighted by Dads' Day on Nov. 7, when our fathers will be pledged and initiated following a banquet on the day of the Iowa game.

We were all delighted when Marilyn Demaree was chosen as the first "Miss Victory" and sent the team off to the Missouri football game.

Our new housemother, Mrs. Harlan J. Bushfield, was presented at a tea given in her honor on Sunday, October 11 at the chapter house.

The new scholarship trophy in our living room was awarded to Alpha Chi by Mrs. Max B. Tunnicliffe, president of District I, at Convention this summer. It is a traveling trophy and is awarded to the chapter which attains the highest Panhellenic scholarship on its campus.

As a whole house, we had great fun at an after hours "come as you are" party given by the pledges to honor the seniors who hid their senior corduroy skirts so well the pledges could not find them to paint.

The Mothers' club has presented the house with a new freezer. We've made good use of it already when we froze the refreshments for the teas opening rush on Oct. 25 and Nov. 1.

We were happy to welcome three new transfers to the campus. They are Millie Burroughs of Florida State, Susie Lenox of Rollins, and Myrt Newbold of Cincinnati.

Homecoming was a busy weekend for every Theta. Lea Thomas was chairman of the Senior Cord Committee and did much to plan the campus activities for the weekend. The house was crowded with guests, both returning alumnae and visiting Thetas. The pledges spent many hours planning and building the homecoming display of a rat caught in a trap and a sign of "Trap Swiss-Consin."

Varsity Varieties tryouts are in the near future, so rehearsals are frequent. We are working with the SAEs and are using the theme of "The Pie-Eyed Piper of Hamlin."

We have initiated a new idea of a Sunday evening party for ourselves in front of the fireplace to eat apples and pop corn in place of the regular evening meal. Its a wonderful place to relax and visit awhile before settling down to Sunday night study.

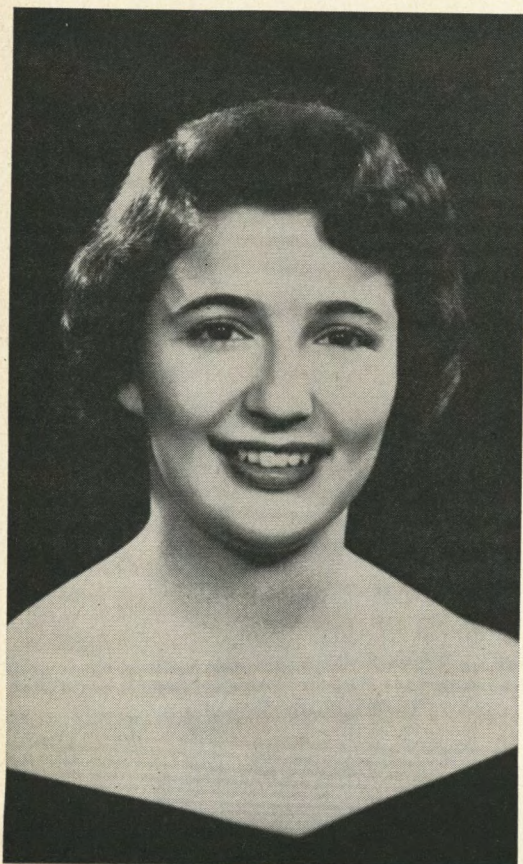

October 15

ANN JONES

Randolph-Macon

The fall semester at Randolph-Macon commenced with the usual round of rush parties starting Sept. 19 and ending Sept. 28. The following afternoon 37 new pledges were added to the chapter, which was the largest group pledged on campus.

Mildred Holladay is president of the senior class and a member of Who's Who at Randolph-Macon.

Pledges are: Anne Anderson, Towson, Md.; Harriet Bennett, Centerville, Md.; Mary Francis Byars, Bowling Green, Ky.; Kathryn Brownlee, Clayton, Mo.; Susan Carr, St. Louis, Mo.; Ann Catterton and Joan Jorns, both of Houston, Tex.; Celeste Chambers and Sara Pullen, both of Wichita Falls, Tex.; Mariann Chappell, Nancy Scheele and Patsy Smith, all of Washington, D.C.; Joan Crawford, Rockford, Ill.; Betty Fraley, Cleveland; Sally Galbreath, Coral Gables, Fla.; Rebecca Gill, Remlik; Alice Guinand, Clearwater, Fla.; Mary Ann Hafer, Cumberland, Md.; Judy Hill, Richmond; Hanna Holt, Cuyahoga Falls, O.

Also, Ann Holzer, Scarsdale, N.Y.; Judy Irby, Saugus, Mass.; Alance Irwin, Nashville, Tenn.; Barbara Lee, Carmi, Ill.; Julia Leedy, Cincinnati, O.; Marianne McKenna, Maplewood, N.J.; Marilyn Monaco, Upper Montclair, N.J.; Ann Powell, Durham, N.C.; Jane Snyder, Frankfort, Ky.; Mary Jane Strachen, Lake Forest, Ill.; Judy Swigart, Needham, Mass.; Barbara Taze, Ruxton, Md.; Karen Walgreen, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Martha Wiles, Flint, Mich.; Llewellyn Williams, Port Arthur, Tex.; Suzanne Williams, St. Joseph, Mo., and Barbara Winfield, Petersburg.

The next day, the actives held an informal spaghetti supper at the house in honor of the new pledges.

The Beta Betas wish to extend their hearty congratulations to Millie Holladay who, after serving as president of the junior class last year, was recently elected president of the senior class for this year. Also our congratulations go to Cynthia Spraggins, voted a campus beauty for the feature section in the yearbook.

Not with us this year is Betty Bawden, who is taking her junior year in Scotland. We hope that she will be back to join us next fall.

Thetas came through last spring winning eight out of nine trophies presented on Activity Day. We were also awarded the Obrien Cup, and the Campus Sing trophy. Cindy Ross, Babette Skinner and Marilyn MacMullin were chosen by fraternities as candidates for Fiesta Queen; also included in the Tomokan Queen's court were Babette Skinner and Alice Coppack.

Marlene Stewart, better known as "Little Bear," has been distinguishing herself in numerous golf tournaments. She became the first Canadian ever to win the British Woman's Amateur Open. Marlene, who has been picked twice by the Canadian press as her country's Outstanding Woman Athlete, made headlines around the world with her decisive victory over one of England's finest players. August 19 was known throughout Canada as Marlene Stewart Day," when Toronto honored the Dominion's favorite daughter.

We are expecting a most successful rush season, which ends Oct. 25. A German root beer party is first on the rush party agenda. Our next party is entitled "Theta Through the Ages." We all are dressed to represent appealing and illustrious women whom we say were Thetas. The next evening is a rather serious and semi-formal affair which takes place in our patio.

Candles illuminate our winding staircase and from this spot we serenade the rushees.

We miss our three graduates: Louise Mullin, Ann Frankenburg and Kay MacDonald.

"The day isn't long enough" for Gamma Sigma Thetas. Having recently pledged 15 girls, members eagerly are waiting to welcome seven spring pledges to the active ranks. Members-to-be are Leanna Draper, Lee Lowrey, Claudia Russell, Jill Hindle, Ruth Freyler, Marjorie Walker and Joan Butterworth.

Not to be forgotten in the flurry of fall activities was June graduation. Marna Knox, who has won the scholarship award for the highest grades in the chapter for two consecutive years, received the award for the highest grades in the 450-member senior class on Senior Awards Day. Marna had almost an "A" average throughout her college career.

Ann Cozens, past president of Gamma Sigma, received a membership in the American Association of University Women and two dramatic awards, while Caroline Horne received an award for outstanding work in her major of education.

This fall we welcomed back members Joan Otis and Claudia Stevenson, and welcomed in new pledges Pat Ashworth, Pat Andrews, Pat Wickens, Carole Skinner, Sharon Jackson, Ann Tobleman, Pat Ellis, Virginia Rosewaine, Charlotte Watkins, Nanci Chapman, Faye Seifert, Jo Francisco, Donna Carey, Ann Caldwell and Barrie Capstaff. Barrie will represent Delta Sigma Phi in the Belle of the Blue Book Ball contest at the end of the semester.

Homecoming will be Nov. 7 this year, with Alicia Weeks as a candidate for homecoming queen. "Monte Picks A Mascot" is the theme, and the float committee promises the best and most original float ever.

Grand Second Vice President Mrs. Don Hogate will visit us Oct. 28, and plans to visit the campus and our room at the House of Hospitality in Balboa Park.

With all these activities behind and in store for us, there is yet another important event—elections. Barbara Camillo, Gamma Sigma president, is in the race for senior class secretary. Pat Ellis is running for frosh representative, and Sue Horne will compete for sophomore class secretary.

ALICIA WEEKS

*San Jose

Gamma Xi Thetas returned to school in September to look forward to a year as eventful and interesting as the last.

After a successful spring rushing period we pledged the following girls: Flora Cummins, Mary Cuneo, Kirsten Dencker, Elore Herbert, Peggy Pearson, Paula Reardon, Suzanne Robinson and Jo Vick.

On May 15 we again held our annual dance with the Kappa Kappa Gammas at the Ben Lomand Town and Country Club.

Miss Tompkins, our adviser, presented our chapter with the official scholarship badge of the fraternity. Alice Dougherty was the first to wear it. Each quarter this pin will be presented to the girl with the highest grade point average. Alice Dougherty received more honors by graduating in June with distinction and departmental honors. Betsy Amick also graduated with departmental honors.

We are proud of our girls who did so well in the student body elections last spring. Dolores Jukich was elected student body treasurer, and Carol Hotchkiss was elected student body representative-at-large. Karin Johnsson was elected to an Associated Women Students office. Susan Renzel became a member of Spartan Spears, honorary sophomore women's organization.

One of the annual events of spring quarter is the Lambda Chi Alpha Pushcart Relays. Patricia Doherty was selected to be attendant to the queen. With Dolores Jukich as chairman of our pushcart committee, we developed the theme "Sailing Along" by wearing white trousers and middies and decorating the pushcart appropriately. Phyllis Roberts was our able pushcart driver.

Sandra MacCauley was selected by Delta Sigma Phi to be King Neptune's Bride.

In June we held our annual Senior Breakfast at the Hotel Sainte Claire.

Now we are in the midst of fall quarter and preparing for Homecoming activities which will be in November.

Alpha Rho is pleased with its new pledge class of twenty-eight. The following girls were pledged on Sept. 21: Carol Benton, Ipswitch; Edice Blue, Spearfish; Sharon Cadwell, Yankton; Diane Demmers, Ann Hasse, Mary Lou Kerns, Judy Porter and Carol Schaeffer, all of Aberdeen; Janet Gates, Custer; Kathleen Gunderson, Centerville; Mary Ekman, Mary Winter and Nancy Hoy, all of Vermillion; Marjorie Frantz and Hallie Morris, both of Watertown; Elizabeth Nelson, Mitchell; Mary Bollinger, Cathrine Quinn, Marlene Young, Connie Roth and Kay Salem, all of Sioux Falls; Karen Sather, Presho; Sharon Smebakken, Hot Springs; Sonja Stewart, Rapid City; Mary Jane Traganza, Canton; Lynette Waltner, Scotland; June Woodward, Melette, and Janet Rawlings, Sioux City, Ia.

Last spring Mortar Board capped two Thetas. They are Sally Winter and Marilyn Werth. Marilyn was named president of that organization for this year.

Named Miss Vanity Fair of last year was Beth Grange. The Thetas are proud, too, of Patty Hughes who won the Miss University contest and placed second in the state beauty contest. Patty won superior in both contests on her talent entry which was a cutting from the Death of a Salesman.

Janice Stone was initiated on October 9. Janice, a second semester pledge of last year is eligible for Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary scholarship fraternity.

Beth Lund and Jean Gilbert were elected president and secretary, respectively, of the University Rifle club. Connie Roth has been given a fifteen minute singing program on the University station.

At present we are busy getting our float and house decorations ready for Dakota Day. We are proud of our president, Mary Holgate, who was chosen one of the candidates for Miss Dakota.

Starting this semester with loads of enthusiasm, Omicron Theta's have Lynn McLean as president. To assist her in guiding the girls through the semester's activities is the cabinet. These officers are: Mimi Shepard, first vice president in charge of scholarship; Barbara McCoy, second vice president in charge of pledges; Nancy Greene, recording secretary; Barbara Goode, corresponding secretary; Donna Traylor, treasurer; Joan Price, rush chairman; Connie Kurtz, social chairman; Dorrie Winter, house manager; Pat Suhr, standards chairman, and Pat Strickland, editor.

Rushing was number one on the agenda as we returned, and Joan Price served as an inspiration to us all. Through her tireless efforts, we fulfilled our quota of 27 pledges. We are all proud of these girls. They are: Mary Armistead, Joan Armstrong, Mary Bateman, Flave Billheimer, Judy Broomfield, Barbara Butcher, Cheryl Bryant, Nanette Carlson, Carolyn Colwell, Susie Doree, Sandy Ellington, Mary Fenton, Barbara Harpster, Barbara Hornbrook, Marilyn Hudson, Nancy Juhl, Cammie King, Susie Kingsbury, Kathleen Levy, Betsy Leichtfuss, Lynn Lockey, Betty Loth, Lynn Mortensen, Paula Jean Meyers, Eleanor Purcell, Jean Sanford and Betsy Steinkamp. In honor of the new girls, we had a luau with the KAs on Sept. 26. It was a huge success with authentic food and entertainment for all.

Upon gaining new pledges, our old pledges were initiated into the chapter. We gained five new members in Sally Diefenderfer, Dixie Hix, Jean Johnson, Sue Smith and Sue Thompson. Sue Thompson won the outstanding scholarship award, and Sue Smith was designated as the outstanding pledge. These awards were presented at a banquet which followed the ceremony.

Favorite professors were invited to a special "Professors' Dinner" held Oct. 15. Plans are also in the making for two more such dinners, one of which will be for girls within the house. Those with the higher grade points will be served and entertained by those of lower scholarship records. The second tentative dinner will be for the professors again, with each professor wearing his loudest shirt or most obnoxious tie. Needless to say, this one will be of a more informal nature.

Not all of our time is taken up with studying, however. Halloween night will host a big four-way with the Delta Gammis, Phi Psis and Delts. Everyone is looking forward to it, as well as to coming exchanges with the Betas, Kappa Sigs and Phi Delts.

Still another reason for Omicron to be proud is our participation in school activities. In Spurs you will find Ann Shreiner, Barbee Steeves and Donna Traylor. Chimes claim Shirley Blalock, Anne Fisher, Barbara Goode, Lynn McLean and Joan Price, who serves as president. Theta Amazons include Shirley Blalock, Anne Fisher, Barbara Goode, and Mimi Shepard. Shirley Blalock also represents S.C. on the Senate as a Senator-at-large, and to complete this list, Barbara Goode is a sponsor in one of the local dorms.

We Beta Sigma Thetas are proud as can be of our new pledge class. They are: Mary K. Alger, Barbara Barnett, Rosemary Brock, Laurie Buck, Pat Conway, Myrtis Daniel, Mina Fields, Sally Greene, Elizabeth Hildenbrand, Cynthia Hines, Sharon Hugnes, Karolyn Kimzey, Cynthia Lavender, Kathy McHam, Margaret Merchant, Janie Nelson, Marilyn Nowlin, Mary George Reid, Barbara Starz, Marea Vetter, Marion West, Rose Mary Whittle, June Wiley, Roberta Wilson, Sarah Windham, Georgene Wollgast, Bertha Worthington, Mary Cox Wyatt, Helen Zaenglein and Joanne Zaenglein.

The chapter returned to Dallas a week before rush started, and equipped with blanket rolls, high spirits and willing hands, we held a retreat at Evie Pott's farm, where, guided by rush captain Nancy Hopkins and president Joan Lively, we pooled our brainstorm and planned our rush week parties and skits. In our roaring twenties costumes we convinced the rushees that "Gentlemen Prefer Thetas!" Our rendition of "Thetas Are a Girl's Best Friend," sung by Natalie Naugle, Ann Lewis, and Pinkie Pinkston, was particularly effective. Of course the chapter gave rush all its energy, but we all know that we would not have fared so well without the constant help of Helen Bader, our alumnae advisor, Mrs. Axness, our housemother, and numerous other alumnae.

The first week of school we held our annual faculty tea on Sunday afternoon, especially so our new pledges might become better acquainted with their instructors, and so the chapter as a whole might indicate a hospitable vote of confidence to our SMU teaching staff.

And of course we're meeting the fraternities on campus! The Pi KAs gave an openhouse for us on Oct. 8, and we're planning a dessert party for the gentlemen of the South, the Rebel KAs on Oct. 13.

We're boasting about Carolyn Parker right now; the junior class elected her vice president on Oct. 7. Our pledge class also had an election. Pat Conway is their new president; Cynthia Hines their vice president, Rosemary Brock their secretary and Bertha Worthington their treasurer.

Right now we turn out in the afternoons to watch our hockey and tennis teams participate in intramural competition. And we're beginning to work on our float, with Frances Quinn as our committee chairman, for Homecoming on Oct. 31.

Chi Thetas returned this fall to a newly redecorated and refurnished house. During the summer, our wonderful alumnae spent numerous hours on this project, for which we all so gratefully thank them.

For our first social event of the new semester, we were the guests of Phi Kappa Psi for an enjoyable after dinner coffee.

Formal rushing began Oct. 3 and 4 with nearly 500 girls visiting our house. We are looking forward to the remaining rushing schedule and are working enthusiastically on the parties.

Last spring saw Chi come first in scholarship, winning the Panhellenic cup for the second consecutive year. Theta also placed second for the activity award. During Spring Weekend in May, our float with the theme of Hans Christian Andersen won the award for the most beautiful float in the annual parade representing 80 living centers.

We will be happy to welcome Shirley Christie, who will be initiated into our chapter on Oct. 12. Shirley has been voted "Girl of the Month" at Colgate College, where she has had several drum-majorette engagements.

Orientation week saw six Thetas return early. They included: Pat Cain, Candy Strothman, Barbara Cooper, Barbara Jager, Thelma Savard and Shelia Hicks. Jean Brydon and Debbie Wallwork, Traditions Commission members, worked hard in organizing this program.

Sally Hoople, a newcomer to the cheerleading squad, is actively representing Theta at the football games.

We are proud of the many Thetas who are active in Women's Student Government. During spring elections, Liz Brydon was elected vice president of the organization. Pat Fay won the race for speaker of the assembly, while Betty Hazard was elected one of the six junior officers. Shelia Hicks is assuming her duties as our representative to the W.S.G. assembly.

Rusty Roden is this year's co-editor of Dilemma, the campus literary magazine, and co-chairman of the chapel board. Dilemma welcomes Donna Cromwell as its business manager while Ann Sterling is acting as advertising manager.

Other active Thetas include Nancy Hoehle, the newly appointed program director of WAER, the student radio station. Pat Fay is the vice president for both Omicron Nu, home economics honorary, and the St. Thomas Moore student fellowship.

Concluding the list of busy sisters is Jean Brydon, vice president of Lambda Sigma Sigma, junior women's honorary, and chairman of the Liberal Arts Advisory Council.

Chi is anticipating a wonderful, new pledge class, Colgate weekend, and the visit of Mrs. Jones, District III president.

Alpha Thetas returned to the University on Sept. 8 to prepare for rush week. On Sept. 16 we were happy to welcome 50 new pledges into the chapter.

Wearing the black and gold for the first time are: Angela Colvin, Nancy Davis, Dorothy Evans, Diane McFarland, Ann Richards, Janet Taylor, Sally Ann Werst and Judy Woodson, all of Ft. Worth; Celia Buchan, Kay Butler, Nancy Lowrance, Madeline Moore, Ann Nicholl, Cathryn O'Donnell and Patricia Pennington, all of Houston; Lynne Collins, Katherine Jones, Mary Spencer and Margaret Ann Wright, all of San Antonio; Clare Coates, Ann Hardwicke, Mary Johnson, Josephine Klotz, Gretchen Klump, Betty Olle and Karel Sladek, all of Austin; Patricia Asby, Mellisa Strock and Jayne Upton, all of Dallas; Ann Arney, Anne Atwell and Betty Shelton Smith, all of Corpus Christi; Anne Clifford, Carol Hamilton, Ida Miller and Sally Sparks, all of Amarillo; Carolyn Crockett, Suzanne Mobley and LaDonna Taylor, all of Wichita Falls; Martha Edmonson, Ginger Easterling and Susanne Stedman, all of Beaumont; Joan Perussia and Margaret Ann Sykes, both of Galveston; Barbara Burke, Waco; Betty Jane Cox, Abilene; Jerryl Gano, Denver, Colo.; Suzette D'Ayson, Winona; Mary Kay Kilburn, El Paso, and Becky Thomas from Kerrville.

Of all our accomplishments this past semester, we are proudest of winning the scholarship cup which is awarded by Panhellenic to the sorority with the highest scholarship on campus. Theta won with a 1.820 average.

Also during the spring semester the Alpha Theta float, "Old King Cole and His Fiddlers Three," won the most beautiful float prize. Ann Chipman and Lynne Lovinggood were two of the top five University sweetheart finalists. Later Lynne won the "Miss Engineer" contest.

Eloise Frame, Diane Lehman and Sheryl McKelvy were chosen Bluebonnet Belles, and Pat Hinds and Martine Floyd were nominated for this honor.

Muffy Mosle was named Alpha Theta's outstanding senior and Nan Saunders, the outstanding intramuralist. Marian Murphy was voted the chapter's best pledge.

Our two "smarties," Pat Hinds and Elaine Folley, were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. The University School of Law picked Pat Hinds, "a woman of beauty and intelligence," as their Portia or sweetheart.

Freshmen Allison Grey, Helen Riddick, Mary Miller, Barbara Etchison, Ann Wise and Clare Caswell all made Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary freshman society. The society voted Helen Riddick, president; Mary Miller, secretary; and Allison Grey, historian. Helen Riddick was also elected secretary of Co-ed Assembly.

Outgoing sweetheart, Ellie Luckett, is president of the University YWCA.

On May 15 Alpha Theta affiliated Lucia Kyle, Priscilla Mullins, Bonnie Bertram, Sylvia Sykes, Beverly Bintliff and Jane Moore.

In April the S.A.E.s and the Betas gave us picnics. We entertained the Phi Psis with a breakfast at the house and the K.A.s treated us with another picnic in May. We climaxed the picnic season with one for our seniors which had to be held in the house because of threatening tornados.

This fall we have had our annual slumber party with our new pledges and a pledge-active listening party for the Arkansas-Texas game which was out-of-state. The Kappa Sigs have given us an openhouse, and we have had son, brothers and pinees of Thetas to a breakfast. "Brothers" included a blanket invitation to the Phi Gams.

In the more serious vein, we had a retreat to Bar X Ranch Sept. 19 and 20, immediately after pledging. This enabled the pledges and the actives to begin the year right by getting to know each other better from the first.

On Sept. 25 we initiated Nancy McDonough, Zoe Ann Reese, Missy Mason, Rosamond Blair and Marilyn Lyles.

We are happy to welcome this year's crop of transfers, all 15 of them. They are: Annette Donaldson, Peggy Simmons, Jo Karbach, Carolyn Holt and Pat Tippet from S.M.U.; Carole Arnold, Cathy Homan, Ann Bennet and Janet Wingate from Sophie Newcomb; Janie Dawson from Ohio Wesleyan; Ginny Rahr from Beloit; Sissy Hogan and Mary Ann Maness from Randolph-Macon; Margaret Mangum from Rollins, and Beth Burmiller from Cincinnati.

Gamma Phi began what we hope will be a very successful year by pledging our quota of 33 girls. They are: Beverly Bennett, Kansas City, Mo; Grace Boles, Ardith Campbell and Dollie Hart, all of Midland; Vivian Brake and Ann Perkins, both of Pampa; Barbara Bridges, Dallas; Beverly Brooks, San Angelo; Jimmie Lou Brown, Levelland; Carol Clark, Burleson; Joan Chesher, June Coker, Betsy Fonville, Dorothy Kelly, Cherrille Lemon, Patsy Locke, Dale Mahon, Gloretha Reynolds and Janet Yancy, all of Lubbock; Shirley Du Priest, Waco; Marlon Evans, Carolyn Fritchman and Kittie Ann Logan, all of Ft. Worth; Marilyn Graham, Hobbs, N.M.; Mary Gristy, Wichita Falls; Darcas Morrison, Garland; Patty Pinson, Forney; Pat Randolph, Abilene; Pat Tenny, Bowie; Charlene Willoby, Amarillo; Elizabeth Wilson, Quail; Betty Wood, Wellington, and Sally Wood, El Paso.

The evening we received our pledges, Laura Lou Bailey entertained us with a swimming party in her home. Everyone had a marvelous time. Before our formal pledge service on Sept. 20, we had our Big Sister-Little Sister breakfast. After breakfast, we attended church together.

On Sept. 26, we held a religious retreat at Buffalo Lake. We found that it stimulated closer feelings between actives and pledges. The idea for such a retreat was one of many brought back from District Convention last summer. We have found ourselves referring many times to notes we took and ideas that were presented at convention.

Our annual introductory tea in honor of the pledges was given on Sunday, Oct. 4. Sunday night we were entertained by the Kappa Sigmas with a picnic. The following Sunday, we were entertained by the Sigma Nus.

We are already receiving honors for the fall term. Shirley Chapman has been made associate editor for La Ventana, our yearbook. Pat Boles is the art and layout editor. Nancy Hess is the president of Panhellenic and Marion Nevitt is vice president. Beverly Brooks, Elna Dunagan, Mary Gristy and Ann Perkins have all been chosen R.O.T.C. sweethearts. Virginia Mitchell has been elected publicity chairman of the Association of Women Students. Carolyn Taylor is treasurer of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority. Joanne Hampton is secretary of the junior class; Mary Gristy is secretary of the sophomore class; Ardith Campbell is secretary of the freshman class, and Kay Lynn Watson is representative for the sophomore class to the Association of Women Students.

Last spring our top honor was the election of Pat Boles as Rodeo Queen. Carolyn Amos, Pat Boles and Joanne Hampton were elected dormitory legislators. Joanne has been elected dormitory treasurer this fall. Ann Heatly was elected secretary of Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish honor fraternity. Zoe Merriman was crowned "Miss Lubbock" this summer. She also received various swimming and fencing awards.

In the spring social field, the Phi Delta Thetas, Kappa Sigmas, Kemas (soon to be Phi Gamma Delta), Pi Kappa Alphas, and Sigma Nus entertained us with picnics and mixers.

Our president for this year is Joanne Hampton. Pat Boles is vice president; Jeannine Brown is recording secretary; Marion Nevitt is corresponding secretary, and Jerry Reeves is treasurer.

We are happy to welcome Carol Deffebach of Abilene, a transfer from Randolph-Macon.

Tulsa

A new lodge and 17 new pledges!

With this feeling of exultation Gamma Tau Thetas started a year full of good times and hard work.

Girls who started on the road to Kappa Alpha Theta membership this fall are: Alice Ann White, Marian Rossiter, Jeanne Wheeler, Doris Major, Janet Johnston, Pat Murphy, Madalyne Miller, Janet Eastham, Connie Caswell, Susanne McClarskey, Martha Boyd, Anne Mills and Helen Mc Bride, all of Tulsa; Carol Capshaw and Mary Ann Thomas, Okmulgee; Bea Stuart, Spokane, Wash., and Gracie Brandenburg, Columbus, Kan.

On Oct. 18, Pat Bowker, Kay Davis, Carol Jensen, Jane Robinson and Fran Thomason, were initiated.

The first social event of the year, a traditional picnic, was greeted with enthusiasm by members and pledges alike. A breakfast with the Sigma Chis, a tea dance with Lambda Chi Alpha, dinner with Alpha Tau Omega, football games, and the Panhellenic Ribbon Dance kept Thetas busy the first month of school.

Early in October, Gamma Taus were delighted to have Mrs. Dorothy Garner, president of district XII, visiting them and the TU campus.

Anne Murray, Gamma Tau president, was one of 12 girls on the campus tapped for Mortar Board last spring.

Sue Wilborn is now president of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism fraternity. She is on the staff of both the Collegian, campus newspaper, and the Kendallabrum, TU yearbook. Other Thetas who are Collegian reporters are Anne Mills and Pat Murphy.

We're all eagerly awaiting the homecoming game with Houston in November and hoping to win a prize with our house decorations which will follow the slogan, "Cook the Cougars."

Other events which will be greeted with enthusiasm are a Black Cat formal to be held on Friday, Nov. 13, the annual party with Kappa Kappa Gamma in December, and our party to which we bring gifts for the children at the Institute of Logopedics.

Vanderbilt

We of Alpha Eta returned to Vanderbilt with a successful spring quarter behind us. Charlotte Elliot and Jessica Barton were tapped by Mortar Board. Dudley Brown was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Also we took second place, after much fun and hard work together, in the annual Athenian Sing competition.

As always, Alpha Eta was enthusiastically active in spring sports, taking second place in the tennis tournament. We won third place in intramural competition for the year. Karin Dale was elected cheerleader.

All of us remember the success of our Easter project. We gave an Easter egg hunt for a local Negro orphanage and found it as rewarding to us as to the children.

With our first day back at Vanderbilt and our first Theta reunion, we found our active alumnae had once again made our chapter house shine. The living room and dining room were especially lovely with their new decorations. We were pleased to learn that we had again received second place in sorority scholastic standing at Vanderbilt for last year.

On Sunday Oct. 4, we initiated two more members of Alpha Eta. We were fortunate in having Mrs. James Hofstead, Theta's Grand President, assist with the initiation of Brownie Caulkins and Carlene Hunt.

Already our plans for deferred rushing keep us busy. This system, now in its second year here at Vanderbilt, has proved itself very effective. Rush will be held from Nov. 10 through 16.

With a look ahead, fall quarter holds much excitement and fun for the Thetas. Just now we are planning a theme and decorations for Homecoming. Within the next week we expect to be hostesses to Mrs. A. Dallam O'Brian, our new district president. All of us are looking forward to attending the dinner at the house and participating in the fraternity education program.

Washburn

We point with pride to the Thetas of Alpha Upsilon chapter who have received recognition on Washburn campus for outstanding ability. Patty Fink and Nancy Marsh were elected to Nonoso, highest organization for senior women. Tau Delta Pi, W. U.'s scholastic society, initiated Nancy Marsh last March.

Scholarship soared first semester last year when we won the scholarship trophy which is awarded each year to the sorority with the highest grade average.

At the annual Founders' Day dinner Feb. 16, Nancy Marsh was presented the Thelma Pyle memorial pin for being the outstanding junior girl.

Rush week ended with its usual flurry of activity and we pledged 17 girls. They are: Sue Edwards and Judy Parkinson, Kansas City, Mo.; Ruth Hurder, Yates Center; Carolyn Beal, Fredonia; Connie Harris, Jeanette Edmonds, Elaine Senne, Carolyn Strimple, Glenda Wood, Shirley Curtis, Faye Kramer, Ardyce Colvin (sister of Ann), Jackie Mills, Shirley Holtwick, Martha Long, Shelia Kerbs (sister of Patty), and Janet Crews, all of Topeka. Preferential dinner was held at the Topeka Country Club Sept. 11 and formal pledging was the following evening at the chapter house. October rush added Janet Collier and Belinda Barnett to the pledge class.

We are happy to welcome Mrs. W. R. Spradling of Oklahoma City Okla. as our new housemother for the coming year.

A vote of thanks goes to our wonderful alumnae who presented the chapter with new rugs for the sun room and the dining room and for the spacious wardrobe closet on the dorm. The Mothers Club donated a TV set to us. These new additions serve to make us even prouder of our house.

Janet Sue Wilson was affiliated with Alpha Upsilon chapter Sept. 18. Janet transferred to Washburn from Alpha Mu chapter at Missouri. Initiation services will be held for Ann Colvin on Oct. 15.

Officers who are leading Alpha Upsilon this year are: Nancy Marsh, president; Pauline Heckathorn, vice president; Mary Ann Hindenach, corresponding secretary; Janet McEachron, recording secretary; Jean Rudraff, treasurer; Carol Powell, editor; Patty Fink, scholarship chairman; Patty Scott, archivist; Gloria Gamble, historian; Janet Pollom, town rush captain; Jan Wilson, out-of-town rush captain, and Marilyn Towler, social chairman.

Thetas are also active on the campus. Patty Fink is president of Phi Sigma Chi, womens pep club; Bev Drake is national recording secretary of Phi Sigma Chi; Nancy Marsh is president of Nonoso; Mickey Welty serves Kappa Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity, as president; and Janet McEachron is president of Panhellenic. Of the six Washburn cheerleaders, three are Thetas. Marilyn Towler is head cheerleader, while Nancy Huffman and Janet Pollom lend their support to promoting school spirit. Gloria Gamble is AFCW representative for W.A.A. and Shirley Curtis serves this group as treasurer.

Last spring the Thetas won second place in the Inter-Sorority sing. Gretchen Hart was elected as the outstanding sophomore girl of our chapter and presented with a trophy. Mary Elaine Skram was chosen by Donald O'Connor as the 1953 Kaw Queen. The Kaw is Washburn University's yearbook. Gloria Gamble reigned as Queen of the R.O.T.C. ball. We have nominated Janet Wilson as our candidate for 1954 Kaw Queen.

Homecoming was Oct. 10. This year the fraternities and sororities donated to charity the money which originally would have been spent on house decorations.

Plans are being made for our Christmas formal to be held Dec. 4 at White Lakes Country Club. With these preparations the social season gets into full swing!

*Washington, St. Louis

After a very successful fall rush, Alpha Iota is pleased to announce the pledging of 21 girls. They are: Nancy Albon, Sue Bartell, Nancy Burke, Elizabeth Carroll, Judy Conrad, Peggy Dickie, Mary Ann Frahm, Sally Hippenmeyer, Anne Hobart, Anne Hock, Mary Hutchison, Jackie Jordan, Maria McNatt, Sandra Miller, Lucia Novak, Betsy Reinhardt, Hellen Ritter, Nancy Rogers, Alice Rush and Margy Stark, all of St. Louis, and Joyce Walla of Fremont, Neb. We also welcomed two affiliates, Janet Knight and Shirley Knupp, both from Sophie Newcomb.

The introduction of our pledges at the annual pledge dance held at the Statler hotel concluded a very enjoyable evening. The pledges received Kappa Alpha Theta scarves made by the actives as favors.

Ranking high with scholastic honors are three girls representing Theta in the honorary groups. They are Gloria Kietel, Phi Beta Kappa; Merle Shmidt, Chimes, and Pat DuBose Mortar Board.

Socially and activity wise, Alpha Iota has been busy. While tryouts for Bearskin Follies, the inter-sorority-fraternity musical comedy lampoon, have kept most of the chapter busy, Anne Storer and Jeanne Williams have been busy on the cheerleading squad. Next weekend we are all looking forward to house party and the following weekend is initiation. The following girls will be initiated: Joan Budig, Anne Giessow, Dian Keller, Dottie Maher, Martha Mahon, Jane McCracken, Jane Perry, Nancy Pugh, Patty Jo Shultz, Barb Siepker, Meryl Sturmfel and Jean Wessell.

MARY JO WHALEN

Washington, Seattle

In February the Alpha Lambdas looked to the coming summer with great expectations, as Karen Hullquist was elected the Seattle Seafair's "Miss University District." When July came we were not surprized to find that Karen had been selected as "Lady In Waiting" to the Seafair queen. The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity selected Nancy Thomas from six finalists to be their "Dream Girl." Joy Price was chosen as an attendant to the 1953 "Crescent Girl" of Lambda Chi Alpha.

As Husky sports were still in full swing, we elected Joene Valdeson, Mary Loe and Joyce Tye is our Rally Girls for spring and the coming year. It is the duty of these girls to sell pom-poms, lead the cheering and singing and help arouse school spirit at the games. Joyce Tye was soon after selected to be one of the song leaders.

With April just around the corner our Theta "Ladies" blossomed forth in their loveliest gowns to attend our Spring Formal held at the Seattle Tennis Club.

Decorations of red, white and blue set the background for five-hundred women of achievement at the twenty-second annual Matrix Table, held in the Olympic Hotel. The guest speaker was Alice Frein Johnson. Our chapter was very fortunate to have shared a little time with this outstanding Theta.

We soon became producers and painters, carpenters and chorus girls as Sophomore Carnival drew near. Our giant booth reflected the interest of the nation as the Phi Deltas and Thetas at last gave the world a look "Behind the Third Dimension."

With the spring weather came a picnic shared by the Kappas and Thetas. The forecast was rain, so together we ate hot dogs and potato salad in our recreation room. Once again we attempted an outdoor get-together, as each Theta took her date, picnic basket and swimming suit to Lake Wilderness, and this time the weather proved worthy of itself.

On the basis of their work for AMS, AWS and ASUW commitments, 287 students, 19 of whom were Thetas, were honored at the third annual Recognition Banquet held in the Husky Union Building. To Sue Backer went a special award for her outstanding service to the University. Soon after, Joy Price, a journalism major, won a scholarship to attend the eighth annual inter-collegiate institute on the United Nations.

The Y.W.C.A. sophomore cabinet elected Jan Allison as their president for the coming year. We were soon rewarded with results from our election campaigning, as Joyce Tye stepped into the position of secretary for the sophomore class. Karen Cosby was elected as Inter-Fraternity Council secretary. The Outstanding Senior Women's Plaque in the department of speech went to Christy McCaskell. The ASUW Publications' Banquet was held May 13 and Marallyn Frame, Tye year book business manager, was invited to attend. Mary Lou Zimmerman achieved membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary, and Sigma Xi, a national scientific honor society. Ann Van Arsdel was invited to become a member of Mortar Board. Jean Ross and Ann Van Arsdel achieved membership in Totem Club, a senior womens' activity honorary. The pledges of W-Key, an underclassmen's honorary, included Mimi Dunn, Joyce Tye, Nancy Burrows and Karen Cosby.

KAREN COSBY

Washington State

After a relaxing summer, Alpha Sigma has delved once again into an active fall schedule. Sixteen girls who comprise our 1953 pledge class are partially responsible for this surge of spirit. We are proud to present this group: Sally Moren, Bellingham; Ann Vallat, (daughter of Marion Miller Vallat, Omega), Calgary; Claudia Scholz, LaCross; Judy Bury, Sue Bond and Maureen Mooberry, all of Pullman; Sharon Lantow (sister of Shirley Lantow) and Sandra Scott (daughter of Gerildine Laney Scott), both of Seattle; Margie Hamilton, Spokane; Mary Pat McGavick, Claire Shotwell and Myrt Troseth, all of Tacoma; Dianne Dorsey, Tekoa; Murial Donovan (sister of Dorothy Ann Donovan), Walla Walla, and Pat Eschbach (sister of Rosie Eschbach) and Donna Grieg, both of Yakima.

Initiation was held for Muff Deeter, Carol Haas and Sharon Skillern on Sept. 26.

A unique combination was introduced this year—Homecoming and Dads' Day both were scheduled on the weekend of Oct. 10, with "Of Dads and Grads" as the campus theme. Approximately 150 visitors thronged the Alpha Sigma dining room and living room at the conclusion of the game, chatting and enjoying a buffet supper. Every house entered a decorative float in the parade, and we were proud to observe our Carol Haas atop the one containing the queen and her court. Carol was one of four princesses on this float.

Greek and Independent caucuses were held in early October for the purpose of selecting candidates for class officers. Two Alpha Sigmas appeared on this list, Mary Twohy and Arden deCarteret, both of whom will be placed on the ballot for executive council positions in their respective classes. Mary is representing the sophomores and Arden, the junior class of the Greek party.

Within the chapter certain officer replacements were necessary because of marriages and transfers. Elaine Land is now recording secretary, while Nancygayl Welch is presiding as courtesy chairman and Sharon Skillern as chaplain, with Mary Twohy filling the position of rush chairman.

Student Body committees recognized several chairmen from Alpha Sigma. Ruth McLean is Winter Week chairman. Carolyn Leonard is guiding the Cougar Code committee, and Margie Rounds has the leadership of Cougar Campus Chest.

Associated Women Students has Donna Keith as chairman of the Point System committee, and the Compton Union Building committees have Arden deCarteret heading the Special Events group.

In the Y-Dub category, Mary Ann Top is our sophomore representative, while Donna Keith is a freshman commission leader. Pi Lambda Theta has Bonnie Blevins as a new member.

Building Board improvements during the summer caused our eyes to "bulge" and mouths to "gap" upon returning to school. A beautiful Oriental rug completed the living room decorations, blending aqua, pink and gold in a lovely color scheme. Carpeting has been placed on the second floor with all stairways receiving identical treatment. An automatic washing machine has eliminated future worries of repair and further breakage. "Thank you's" to our alums shall be voiced for many years to come in gratitude for the numerous hours devoted to this project. So may we take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Catharine Friel of the Building Board, and Miss Grace Jones, Alpha Sigma's decorator, for their efforts.

Gamma Epsilon chapter seems to be heading for a busy and enjoyable year. This year there are 26 active members and 12 pledges.

The 12 new pledges are: Tibby Brunt, Janet Brush, Mary Burdon, Mary Cuthbertson, Margaret Glenn, Bette Harolde, Irene Karpenko, Eileen Kennedy, Mary Jane Labombard, Glenna Summers, Berta Taylor and Margaret Veale.

The weekend of Oct. 24 will see the innovation of a chapter convention to be held at the chapter house. On Friday evening everyone will gather for a get-acquainted party. Three half hour panel discussions will be held on Saturday morning. A senior member and a member of the alumnae chapter will lead the discussion groups. The proposed topics for discussion are "Panel Rushing and New Ideas," "Sisterhood," and "Theta, Internationally." The aim of such a convention is to strengthen the bonds of sisterhood and common ideals among the members of this chapter.

This year we have turned our attention to helping a group of orphans living near the chapter house. Throughout the summer the girls have collected clothing for the children. On Oct. 24 we are planning a wiener roast for a group of these children. We at Gamma Epsilon always make the decorating of our chapter house a fall project. Just now we are collaborating with the alumnae chapter on the redecorating of our downstairs bedroom and the buying of new furniture for the livingroom.

The outside of our house is not being forgotten. We have many lovely trees around our house, in fact too many. A few of the trees have been cut down and many others have been trimmed. New grass seed is being sown and come next spring our garden should be most attractive.

November 20 has been set as the date for our initiation ceremonies. As in former years, the initiation will be held on Friday evening and the dinner and dance on Saturday night. We are hoping that Mrs. Kohberger, our new district president will be with us that weekend.

SHEILA WHEATON

*William & Mary

As fall comes to Williamsburg once again, we look back with pleasure on our spring activities and forward with anticipation to the winter months.

Beta Lambda is constantly reminded of the virtues of the 10 pledges initiated on Feb. 18. They are Joanna Allen, Anne Crabill, Nelia Daggett, Sylvia Evans, Roberta Jackman, Nancy Matthews, Betsy Neale, Temple Snidow, Jane Thompson and Catherine Washburne. Carol Raymond, who was repledged early in March, also was initiated in the spring.

May 16 was the date of our annual spring dance at the Williamsburg Lodge. Dancing followed dinner and the afternoon parties. Highlighting the weekend was the visit of President Eisenhower who spoke to the College at the inauguration of its twenty-second president, Alvin Duke Chandler.

New chapter officers, elected in the spring, are: president, Kappy Hancock; vice president, Kay Binns; treasurer, Jeanie Turner; recording secretary, Anne Sobers, and corresponding secretary, Pat Crews.

This fall Beta Lambda Thetas are proud to welcome Tish Rustad. She is a transfer from South Dakota.

In September we honored our housemother, Mrs. George Stringfellow, for being with us 10 years. "Mama String," whose sympathetic ear and amazing faculty for remembering names have gained her a campus-wide reputation, will receive a certificate commemorating her years of service.

Individual Thetas have received campus recognition. June graduate Laura Ramsay was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and Mary Ellen McCloskey, also a June graduate was chosen as one of the yearbook beauty queens.

Barbara Crosset is head cheerleader, sweetheart of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Homecoming Queen! Madge Cushing was elected to Mortar Board last spring, and Ginny Broadbuss is vice president of the women's student government this year. Jeanie Andrews assumes the position of news editor of the campus weekly, the Flat Hat, as she replaces Theta Anne Sidner who transferred to the University of Nebraska. Kay Binns was recently elected president of Chi Delta Phi, national literary fraternity.

With Homecoming less than three weeks away, we find the house even more chaotic than usual while we build our float. Our theme this year will be "William and Mary will brush GW away." Thetas will hold a toothbrush and large tubes of toothpaste while George Washington players become immersed in suds.

With November comes rushing, and under the capable direction of rush chairman Sandy Bettiger, Theta Lambda should cop the best pledge class ever. October 14

Our Psi kite is flying high this semester. Though we miss our 21 June graduates, 26 new pledges are trying on in the best tradition. New wearers of the black and gold are: Mitzi Arnold and Connie Schardt, both of Shorewood; Carol Black, Birmingham, Mich.; Lois Culbertson, Glencoe, Ill.; Sue Dickinson, Edgerly; Jean and Joan Dillman, Springfield, Ill.; Barbara Decher, Waukesha; Pam Dunham, Cranford, N.J.; Mary Glass, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Nancy Hewitt, Mt. Pleasant, Mich.; Carol Kuechel, Lake Geneva; Karen Kunz, Elm Grove; Mary McKittrick and Jeanne Smith, both of Whitefish Bay; Sally Masterson, Evanston, Ill.; Sally Morey, Ada, Okla.; Karen Nelson, Arkosh; Joan Rowland, and Elizabeth Iverson, both of Madison; Sally Ann Sleight, Battle Creek, Mich.; E. Wegener, Mary Claffin, Rhea Widerborg and Sue Schroeder, all of Wauwatosa, and Pat Wilson, Chester, N.Y.

On May 5, our Madison alumnae honored our recent graduates at a dinner meeting. Special awards were presented to Mitzi Forsyth and Carol Gruetjen, voted outstanding seniors, and to Ardith Mossman, outstanding pledge.

Mitzi, while working part time and maintaining a high scholastic standing, served as judicial chairman at Elizabeth Waters Hall, the largest of our women's dormitories, as our pledge president and rushing chairman, and as Homecoming Buttons chairman for the entire university in 1951.

Carol's outstanding scholastic ability won her membership in Phi Kappa Phi and Omicron Nu (home economics honorary). Carol was the winner of the Marie Ovetz scholarship in design in 1952 and served as pledge trainer that same year. She was senior line leader at Senior Swingout, the university's annual program honoring seniors who have had exceptional records in both scholarship and extra-curricular activities.

Ardith Mossman, the outstanding pledge, won the recognition for her generous donation of time and musical ability to such chapter activities as Humology and Camps Carnival. A fine pianist, in addition to being an excellent student and working part time, Ardith won a scholarship to study at the Cincinnati College of Music with Olga Conus during the past summer.

"We Try for Psi" might well have been our motto last semester, as both actives and pledges brought a touch of Theta to many campus affairs. Sue Larsen became president of Euthenics, the home economics club, honors chairman on the Women's Administrative Council, and a member of Crucible. In addition, Sue was the 1953 winner of the Mary Lesh Baldwin scholarship in home economics.

Rae Ellen Moore was elected vice president of Phi Beta, national speech and music fraternity and was initiated as an active member of Wisconsin Players. For the Players, she directed the Yeats' one-act play, The Land of Heart's Desire in October in our Play Circle.

Marion Grillhoesl was all-university Buttons Chairman of the 1952 Homecoming, and in 1953, another Theta, our president, Tashia Frankfurth, succeeded Marion as chairman. Mary Ann Strong was also active in Homecoming festivities this year, serving as co-chairman of the Finance Committee.

Barbie Brenk presided as president of Sigma Kappa Phi, national speech correction fraternity. Marty Langer is secretary of Student Board, while Mary Lu Norton and Leanne Atkinson are, respectively, president and historian of Panhellenic Chorus. Other Psi representatives in Panhellenic activities are Mary Hopkins, Panhellenic rushing chairman, and Terry Specia, Panhellenic treasurer.

Betty Roherty was elected to Phi Kappa Phi, and Judy Heigho, due to an excellent record during her first two semesters, was chosen freshman line leader at Senior Swingout.

With participation in Greek Week, Campus Chest, and the excitement of football listening parties, "A busy fall was had by all" at Psi.

RAE ELLEN MOORE

In Memoriam

Cincinnati

Marjorie Nichols Waters (Mrs. Louis H.) died May 16. A 1917 initiate of Alpha Tau, her home was in Oakland, Calif.

College of the Pacific

Mary Johnston Hale (Mrs. Reuben) died in Saratoga, Calif., in September. She was the last surviving founder of Phi chapter at the College of the Pacific, whose charter later was transferred to Stanford University. She is survived by a Theta daughter, Ruby Hale Field (Mrs. Oliver), a member of Phi chapter at Stanford, and a son.

Indiana

Dorothy Ford Buschmann, long-time director of the Indianapolis Servicemen's Center and executive secretary, since January, 1952, of the Marion (Ind.) County Cancer Society, died Oct. 3 of cancer. She also had served as chairman of defense activities for the seventh district of women's clubs and for years was a guiding spirit in the Girl Scout program. An active worker for the Public Health Nursing Association, she was one of the founders and also grand president of Sigma Theta Tau, an honorary organization for student nurses. Through her influence, Indianapolis Thetas established a pre-natal room in Coleman Hospital where expectant mothers can go for answers to questions on nutrition and clothing. For many years, too, she was chairman of the Volunteers' Bureau of the Council of Social Agencies and secretary of the volunteer's section of the Indiana Conference on Social Work. She is survived by three sons and six grandchildren.

Minnesota

Jane Pomeroy Bradford (Mrs. John M.), a resident of Lake Josephine, Minn. and a 1894 initiate of Upsilon chapter, died in 1952.

Emily King Hawkins (Mrs. Roy A.), a 1922 initiate of Upsilon, died in September.

Nebraska

Emma Swezey, long-time Los Angeles school teacher and former treasurer of the Loan and Fellowship Fund, died Sept. 10. A teacher of French and Spanish, she was head of the department of languages in Los Angeles High School until her retirement last spring. Cause of death was a virulent form of malaria which she contracted while she was pursuing her hobby of archeology while on a foreign vacation last summer. A gift is being made in her memory to the Florence Crittendon Home in Los Angeles by the Loan and Fellowship committee. Miss Swezey is survived by two Theta sisters, Mrs. George F. Elmendorf of Beverly Hills, Calif. and Miss Marien Swezey of Gary, Ind.

Oklahoma State

Marguerite Kraemer Edson (Mrs. E. Otis) died June 23. She was a resident of Perry, Okla. and a 1919 initiate of Beta Zeta.

Swarthmore

Eleanor Hathaway Brann McClure (Mrs. Malcolm E.) died April 11. She attended Swarthmore, where she was a member of Alpha Beta chapter, in 1922-24.

Vanderbilt

Roberta Dillon Lyne (Mrs. Lewis) of Nashville, Tenn. died in October. She was a 1912 initiate of Alpha Eta.
